SPRING MILLS

Rev. J. Victor Royer and two daughters, of Altoona, were visitors at Mr. Royer's mother's home last week. Archie Decker and family of Williamsport, spent Sunday at the Thomases Decker home.

Mr. Robison and wife attended the funeral of Mr. Gross' son at Selinsgrove on Wednesday.

Mrs. C. E. Royer spent Saturday and Sunday at State College.

The hall storm on Friday did very little damage in this vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Pealer Rossman, of Pittsburgh, are spending their vacation at the H. F. Rossman home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman visited their son, William Rossman, at Philadelphia, last week.

Lester Condo moved into his own home last week.

Mrs. Solomon Lingle and children held a reunion on Saturday.

Mrs. Jack Mulfinger spent Saturday at Millheim.

Quite a number attended the children's day services at the Union church on Sunday evening, and all report the service very fine.

Our lumberman A. B. Lee is saving plastering bath on the Kelley tract east of Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner and daughter, of Anna, Ill., are visiting the former's mother and sister. It is thirty some years since Mr. Horner left here for the west.

The Spring Mills band will hold a festival on the athletic field at the Vocational school house, on Saturday, July 10. The band is progressing and deserves the patronage of the citizens in this vicinity as they occasionally treat our town with open air concerts, rendering fine music.

Mrs. Elizabeth Lingle had quite a family reunion last Saturday near the Zerby school house, at the farm house where she formerly lived, now owned by Ammon Rote, in Penn township. All had a fine time, with good eats in abundance. Some of the party went up to the fire tower which is only a short distance away, and saw seven deer. Mrs. Lingle, who is known by almost everyone about here, is almost 81 years young, and this apparently was the happiest day she has had for many years. The following were present: Mrs. Elizabeth Lingle, Boyd Lingle of Zerby; Mr. and Mrs. William Lingle and daughter Dorothy of Tusseyville; Mrs. H. H. Eisenhuth; Mrs. A. C. Dunlap and Mrs. J. D. Lingle, of Spring Mills; Mrs. Ammon Rote and two children, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Lingle, of Curtis, Mich.; Mrs. Charles Ripka and son Lloyd, and Orvis Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Lingle came from their home in Michigan in their automobile and enjoyed their trip very much.

POTTERS MILLS.

Nathaniel Krape, of Bellefonte, spent Sunday with his daughter, Mrs. Runkle Frazier.

Mrs. Ammon Bubb and daughter Marion spent last week with Mrs. Bubb's mother, Mrs. Ella Wilkinson.

Mrs. John Musser and daughter, of Bellefonte, spent a few days the past week at the home of Lizzie Slack.

George Sweeney, sister Sarah, Miss Martha Yearick and Miss Zella Ripka have gone to Lock Haven State Normal to take the teacher's course.

Mrs. Nora Gettig and four sons of Pittsburgh, are visiting at the home of Thomas Fleisher.

George McCormick, accompanied by his mother and aunt, Mrs. J. F. Miller, visited with the Evans people in Williamsport for a few days.

William Montgomery, of Harrisburg, was shaking hands with old friends over the week-end.

Miss Pauline Wagner and two girl friends of Lock Haven, spent last week at the J. H. Wagner home.

Amos Fowler and family and Peter Hite and wife, all of Altoona, visited at the G. H. McCormick home on Sunday.

Fred Auman, who has been on the sick list for some time, is gradually growing worse.

Don't forget the festival to be held on Saturday evening on the factory lawn, for the benefit of the church. Date, Saturday evening, July 3rd.

MILLHEIM.

(From the Journal.)

Miss Viouet Gutelius, who taught a ten-month term of school at New Market, N. J., which ended the 18th inst., arrived home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Bassler, of Freeburg, motored to Millheim and visited with Mrs. Bassler's father, J. Spigelmeyer.

H. J. Stein and Miss Marion L. Ziegler, both of Lancaster, are guests of Mrs. Margaret White and her mother, Mrs. Margaret Musser.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Musser, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick and son, Wilden, all of Montgomery, were motor guests at the C. O. Musser home in North Millheim.

Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Hosterman and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shelton motored to Portage, where they were pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. John G. Eby, former Millheim residents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Winegardner and Mrs. F. O. Hosterman, of Millheim, and Mrs. F. J. Malone, of Coburn, were in attendance at the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Lepley, at Beaver Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. William Weaver and family, of Shamokin; Ernest Glantz, of Philadelphia; and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mitchell, of Williamsport, were motor guests with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hassinger.

Prof. and Mrs. J. L. Hackenberg returned from a visit with relatives in and about Johnstown. They expect to enroll in the Penn State summer school and commute daily by auto, between Millheim and State College.

Genn S. Musser, who during the term just closed, taught in the High school in East Palestine, Ohio, was an arrival in Millheim. He motored in from Williamsburg, accompanied by Mrs. Bruce Ulrich and two daughters, who are now visitors at the E. I. Musser home.

Roy Decker, a graduate of Penn

State college, and now county agricultural agent at Stroudsburg, with his wife and sister, are attending the agricultural week exercises at State College. This trio with Mrs. Jane Clevens, of Zion, and Mrs. Jane Long, of Snyderstown, took dinner at the Jerome Gephart home.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

Pity the Poor Horse—Many horses fall to stand up under the work of the summer months because of the ration fed. It is much like burning a candle at both ends to feed a horse a heavy, heating ration internally with the summer sun burning from the exterior.

Cull and Sell—Culling time has come in Pennsylvania. Cull early and market the non-producers before the poultry market is glutted and the price is at its lowest ebb. In addition to the personal profit received, such a system promotes orderly marketing. There will be plenty of old culls coming in later.

May Seed Emergency Hay—Of the emergency hays, millet and sudan grass may be sowed any time now until the middle of July, say State College farm crop specialists. While not as good as alfalfa, clover, and soybeans, these hays are better than none at all. The feeding value is about equal to that of timothy.

Peonies Will Stay Fresh—If peonies are picked before they are full blown, after sundown and put in water up to their necks in jars in a cool cellar overnight before using them for indoor decorations, they will keep longer and hold up their heads better.

Keep Calves Inside—Do not turn calves out to pasture too soon. They are better off usually in a roomy stall or small yard with good shelter for the first six months.
