

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Reuben Duffey, of Lock Haven, was a business caller at his office on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Bloom, of Williamsport, and Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, of Brooklyn, New York, were guests of Miss Laura Runkle and mother for several days.

Governor Pinchot has proclaimed August 30 to be "Pennsylvania Day" at the Sesqui-centennial. It is the anniversary of the day Penn set sail from England.

A second son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hartman, in Bellefonte. The mother before marriage was Miss Grace Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Crawford.

All of the bridges on the new concrete road through Bald Eagle valley, leading west from Snow Shoe intersection, have been completed. The road is now complete in every detail.

Misses Mary F. and Sarah McKnight of Philadelphia, are spending their vacation at Centre Hall, lodging at the hotel and taking meals with Mrs. Funk, at the Tourists' Inn.

Rev. M. S. Derstine, of Williamsport, who fills an appointment in the Methodist church in that city, was in Centre Hall for a few days, a guest of his sisters, Mrs. J. H. Puff and Miss Rebecca Derstine.

Wallace Doebler, of Smullton, was taken to Bellefonte jail by Constable W. B. Haines, of Rebersburg, on Monday. Doebler is aged about forty years and is charged by his wife with threats imperiling her life.

C. N. Kryder, who is soliciting for the Farm Journal, is this week engaged in Cambria county and is making Johnstown his headquarters. Mrs. Kryder is with him. They will not be back here for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shoemaker, of the Barrens, accompanied by their two Fresh Air children, stopped at the C. E. Bradford home on Thursday. The children are quite small, but they are having the time of their life.

Earl C. Lambert and family, of Flint, Michigan, are at the home of his mother, Mrs. H. J. Lambert, in Centre Hall. Mr. Lambert has sold his Florida holdings and invested in Michigan real estate. They expect to make Flint their permanent home.

We are in the midst of oats harvest. The crop on almost every farm in the valley is first class and is standing erect. The yield per acre will be large and the quality first-class, assuming favorable weather conditions prevail during the next ten days.

John Kamp and mother, Mrs. S. R. Kamp, of Lock Haven, Wednesday of last week, motored to Centre Hall, where they visited Mrs. Mary Stahl and other friends. Mr. Kamp learned the printing trade in Lock Haven and after nine years service forsook it to take over his father's shoe store, in which business he is now successfully engaged.

Rev. Dr. W. C. Dunlap, pastor of the St. Matthew's Lutheran church, in Reading, will fill three appointments on the local Lutheran charge, one of which is at Centre Hall, Sunday afternoon. Dr. Dunlap is a native of Ferguson township. He and Mrs. Dunlap (formerly Miss May V. Rhone) are spending a part of their vacation hereabouts.

John Calvin Homan was taken to the State hospital, Danville, a few days ago. He and a brother, Jacob, and a sister, were living on what is known as the Kerr farm east of Centre Hill, along Sinking creek, which was purchased by them from Elmer Hettlinger five or six years ago. He is well advanced in years. Jacob Homan is also sorely afflicted, suffering from cancer, and is unable to do manual labor.

Arrangements are being perfected to have Peter Manning, whose best record is 1:56, beating Uhan's record of 1:58, on the track at Montgomery, on August 28 or thereabouts. The famous horse is owned by Irvin W. Gleason of Williamsport, but he never appeared in his owner's section. Mr. Gleason refused offers of $50,000 for the horse. A definite time of appearance of the horse at Montgomery will be made later.

Mrs. Mary Stahl entertained her children and their families and other relatives during the past week. The guests were: C. Asher Stahl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder and daughter, and Bruce Stahl, of Altoona; C. K. Stahl, Philadelphia; Mrs. Sudie Mortlock, Lincoln, Nebraska; Mrs. Sallie Kamp, Mr. and Mrs. John Kamp, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deitz and children, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Sankey, Middleburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Keyser and sons Robert and Howard, of Coahoga, and Evelyn and Josephine Brooks, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks, of Barberton, Ohio, made up an auto party to Centre Hall last week. They are being entertained by Mrs. John Breen, mother of Mrs. Keyser, and other relatives hereabouts. At State College they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Platt. Mr. Keyser, who is employed by an undertaker, has in mind following that business and is now preparing himself for that class of work.

H. G. Strohmeier is installing a hot water heating system in his residence.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Lutz in Centre Hall, two weeks ago.

Breen, of Reading, and her daughter, and Laura Breen, the youngest of the Breen children, came to Centre Hall where they visited their grandmother, Mrs. Laura Lee. They also are spending some time with their uncle, W. E. Lee, at Potters Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Steinger and daughter, Bettie, of Harrisburg, and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Steinger, of Beaver Springs, Snyder county, were an auto party, and were in Centre Hall for an hour with the writer and family on Monday. They came to Rebersburg to visit Miss Emma Bair, an Mrs. Stahl's guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Steinger, who is seriously ill. From here the party went to Bellefonte. Mr. Steinger is an auto tire salesman, but may take up the newspaper business provided the terms of one of the several propositions in view are met.

"Pennsylvania Dutch Day" will be celebrated at Orangeville, Illinois, September 30. The names of the committeemen selected to arrange for the affair sound very much as though taken from a Penns Valley roster. They are: M. W. Gouse, Clate Emerick, G. B. Kryder, Harry Noble, B. D. Yarger, Charles Confer, G. A. Treaster, H. U. Hartzell, R. W. Moore, S. D. Confer, Ralph Frautschy, Alfred C. Ebel.

Among the visitors from the west in this section is Mrs. Sudie Mortlock, of Lincoln, Nebraska, who went west forty years ago from Potters Mills as Miss Sudie Crawford. She reports conditions on farms in her section of Nebraska as very fair. The season there like here has been dry. Since coming east she has been informed by letter that wheat is yielding splendidly, much of it returning as much as thirty-five bushels per acre. A particular plot of seven acres yielded forty-seven bushels, which, of course, was above the average. Mrs. Mortlock is a cousin of the late James S. Stahl, and while at Centre Hall is Mrs. Stahl's guest.
