

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. N. C. Royer, of Altoona, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. H. C. Shirk, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alexander, the latter part of last week, drove their car to Philadelphia, taking with them their son, Harold Alexander, and the latter's wife, who live in Wrenonah, N. J.

Miss Hazel Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin S. Meyer, and Ruth Stover, daughter of Ira R. Stover, both of Altoona, were guests during last week of Mr. and Mrs. William McClenahan, in Centre Hall.

Miss Eva Bailey returned on Friday from Clearfield where she attended the Clearfield county Teachers' Institute during the past week. On Monday she left for Morrisdale where she will teach mathematics in the High school.

L. G. Reardon and brother-in-law, J. O. Eckert, of Lock Haven, were in Centre Hall Monday evening. Mr. Reardon, a former business man of Centre Hall, conducts one of the principal furniture stores in Lock Haven.

Mrs. Herbert Curry and daughter, Rena, of Manor, were guests for several days at the E. H. Loughner home, near Pottery Mills. The friendship of the families was formed when the Loughners lived in the Pittsburgh region.

James H. Brungart began teaching his second term of school at Moshannon, and this year has charge of the grammar grade. He is a graduate from Gregg Township Vocational school and later attended Central State Normal at Lock Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Henney, of Latrobe; Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Erb and daughter Lila, Henry Erb, son and daughter, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. J. E. Stewart and son, and Miss Bender, of New Bloomfield, were guests of Mrs. Lucy Henney during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry and two children, of Jeannette, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Noll, in Centre Hall, over the week end. The Jeannette couple are school friends of Mrs. Noll. Mr. Henry is master mechanic in a Dodge garage in his home town.

A son came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bradford, at Old Fort, Saturday morning. The stork was traveling on an airplane, and left without giving the name of the lad. He has two sisters, aged thirteen and seven, respectively, who have been charged with the duty of naming their only brother.

Harold H. Keller has been ill for more than a week from something akin to ptomaine poisoning, but is now recovering. On Tuesday he was due at Laurel, Delaware, where he was expected to enter upon his duties as one of the teachers in a High school. He thinks his delay will not be prolonged more than a few days.

A saw mill is being set up by the Kelleys at the Old Fort landing and it is there that the logs from the Besser tract nearly will be cut into ties and merchantable lumber. The mill will be operated by Roy Kelley. Arthur Kelley will soon begin operations on a large timber tract west of Lewistown at Strodes Mills, in Ferguson Valley.

A few days ago a Studebaker car carrying a New York state license, reached the top of Nittany Mountain, on fire. When the car was stopped flames shot out wickedly. The owner and bystanders gathered wet ground and leaves which were dashed on the burning parts and repeated efforts finally smothered the flames and saved the car from destruction.

A letter to the Reporter from Prof. N. L. Bartsch, supervising principal of the Avis schools, says: "The enrollment of our High school is 68 instead of 39 as noted in your local and personal news. I do not know, who sent in that report. We have a four-year course, with three teachers, in our High school, making it a first-class, or Class A, school."

While coming down the stairway leading from the first to the second story of her home, Mrs. Byron Garis tripped and fell, and continued her fall until she reached the landing. The result was a broken bone in her right arm at a point near the wrist. For a few days she suffered considerably from pain, but later the pains subsided to a considerable extent.

Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, their niece, Miss Grace Wible, and Miss Martha Bond, spent several days in Philadelphia, last week, and among the chief places of interest visited was the Sesqui-Centennial. Rev. Kirkpatrick also visited a sister, one of the instructors in Girard College, Philadelphia. The party traveled in Rev. Kirkpatrick's new Nash car.

W. L. Musser and brother-in-law, J. C. Rabold of Altoona, motored to Centre Hall on Labor Day, in the former's new Oldsmobile, and visited Mr. Musser's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Dinges. Mr. Musser, on his way down, observed many people going to the Tipton race track for the big auto races, unaware of the fact that the races had been called off on account of the wet weather which made it impossible for the drivers to qualify before the day of the race.

A Chevrolet coupe driven by Cyrus Wagner, of Altoona, and a Reo sedan, driven by John Hemmis, of Wilkes-Barre, collided on Main street at a point close to the diamond, Monday evening. The Reo was pretty badly damaged, the owner estimating his damage at about $80.00. The damage to the coupe was less. A witness stated the coupe was traveling at an 18-mile-per-hour speed and the sedan at a 25-mile gate prior to the collision. Both cars were new. The parties could not agree as to who was responsible for the mishap. Mr. Hemmis had his car repaired at the Reo service station, Millheim, and Mr. Wagner took his to the Homan garage. Traveling with the latter were two young ladies, and with Mr. Hemmis were his wife and children.

GRATIFIES YOUR FINER TASTES SATISFIES YOUR EVERY NEED

Months and months ago Oldsmobile had won such a firm position in public preference as to mark the fulfillment of its purpose, "... that the American family shall have, at a moderate investment, a car that gratifies their finer tastes as well as satisfies their every need . . ."

But the men behind Oldsmobile decreed that this car, so firm in public favor, should be made better than ever.

You may view it in traffic with admiration. You may scan it at the curb with open approval. But when you have gone over it, point by point, and feature by feature; when you have driven it and experienced its ready power, its handling ease, its riding comfort . . . then, and only then, can you realize how thoroughly it gratifies your finer tastes as well as satisfies your every need!

COMPETITION IN WORDS

One who goes into the market to buy a motor car today is naturally confused.

He has read the words best and greatest so often that they have ceased to be convincing. Where all is best, he reflects, there can be no best.

Thousand-dollar cars have been described to him in ten-thousand-dollar language. And vice versa.

He finds himself the target in a war of adjectives; the helpless victim in a gigantic competition of words.

And so he is forced to rely on chance—the advice of friends—or his own limited experience.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., have never participated in this verbal competition.

They are content with the position they have long maintained in the far more vital competition of honest value.

They have continued steadily to improve their product, not only in comfort and beauty, but basically—beneath the body and hood where fundamental values lie.

Yet they have not unduly stressed each betterment that has marked the steady progress of their motor car toward a higher perfection.

And when economic conditions or greater sales have permitted them to reduce prices without reducing quality, they have announced the fact without excessive emphasis.

Unexaggerated truth is not spectacular. But in the long run, implicit public confidence has been Dodge Brothers reward, and this they propose to preserve forever by continuing to build just a little better than they tell.

Reindeer Meat

Reindeer meat is said to be better than beef. And in the North the deer flourish. It is said that the meat will be eaten all over the United States in a few years. The federal government has been successful in raising herds of reindeer in Alaska. In 1892, 171 head were imported from Siberia. There are many herds at the present time, some of them numbering 200,000 heads. More than 100,000 have been killed for their meat and skins. Recently the Hudson's Bay company has leased 110,000 square miles of Arctic meadow land for the purpose of raising reindeer for a profit. Already Loman & Co., the largest private reindeer breeders in Alaska, have shipped several hundred carcasses to the United States. The muskox, too, a combination of the cow and sheep, also thrives in the North. Its flesh is tasty and nourishing.

Tragedy of Razor Blades

Those who are puzzled to know what to do with used safety razor blades may find a hint in the following, says the London Mail. A young and pretty girl approached Battersea bridge. She held something tightly in her left hand. When she reached the middle of the bridge she stopped and looked around. Only one man was anywhere near, and he, apparently, was not paying any attention to her doings. In a flash she raised her hand and flung something into the river below. It glittered and shone as it fell, and the man, gazing over the bridge in curiosity, saw that it was a small glass phial of the sort in which powdered bath salts are sold, twelve in a box. His curiosity overcame him, and he overtook the girl. "Do tell me what you threw into the river," he begged. "My husband's razor blades," was the astonishing answer.
