

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

George H. Kline, of State College, visited his brother, John A. Kline, in Centre Hall, at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Margaret Godshall.

Miss Helen Camp, of Pittsburgh, returned to her home on Sunday after having spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Ripka, at Centre Hill.

D. J. Nieman, the Millheim clothier, has gone to New York City to make his second purchase of fall and winter wearing apparel. Watch for his new ad. in the Reporter.

The Kelly saw mill, at Old Fort Landing, is in operation, and is converting the timber from the Bonner tract into lumber. The mill is operated by Morris Kelly.

Eugene Burkholder, of Centre Hall, and John Furtney, of Tusseyville, on Monday morning went to Philadelphia to view the Sesqui-centennial. They will return on schedule, on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Williams, of Bellefonte, and Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kurr, of Centre Hall, drove to Philadelphia on Tuesday. Their chief objective is the Dempsey-Tunney scrap to take place in the big stadium on the Sesqui grounds this (Thursday) evening.

Isiah Emery, the official milk tester at the Millburg Sheffield Farms Company plant, last week took an examination at Penn State to enable him to obtain credentials recognized by the State department in his line of work. He is a son of Merchant C. F. Emery, of Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Staver, of Warren, Illinois, are east on a visit to friends in Loganton and other points. They stopped in Centre Hall for part of a day, and formed the acquaintance of James C. Goodhart, whose brother, Col. G. Bruce Goodhart, at Orangeville, Illinois, was well known by them.

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Swabb, of Milesburg, were guests at dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Burris, at Linden Hall, Monday. Incidents connected with the fact were that Mr. Swabb attained his 65th year on that day, and that the dinner was served in the home in which Mr. and Mrs. Swabb lived for many years.

Mrs. Ruth Thomas was a brief caller at this office the other morning. She stated that the elder Mr. Thomas was in New York for a week, and shortly after returning home will go to Albany, Georgia, to visit his son, George Thomas, who is making a marked success in growing pecans. He has a large young orchard of the choicest variety of fruit.

Ralph R. Bariges, employed as a P. R. R. clerk in Sunbury, was at the home of his father, Ivy Bariges, in Spring Mills, for a few days last week. He is on his annual vacation, and this week left for New York City and upon returning will come home by way of Philadelphia, and, of course, will not fail to see the big "Sesqui" exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce W. Ripka, Mr. Ripka's father, A. C. Ripka, of Centre Hall, and Byers Ripka, of Millheim, Thursday morning drove to Philadelphia in the former's car and returned home on Sunday. Most of the time they were in the city was spent at the Sesqui. They report there is a very great deal to be seen at the exposition—much more than they had time to view.

It required six weeks for the commissioners of Union and Northumberland counties to agree on an engineer who should have in hand the construction of a bridge over the Susquehanna river between Watson and White Deer. Each county had its "favorite son," and the deadlock was broken only when George D. Long, of Norristown, was nominated. The engineer's commission will amount to between $25,000 and $40,000. It is estimated. That explains a lot.

The construction of the new concrete road over Seven Mountains is interfering to some extent with campers reaching the lodges and camps, but the past few days the road has been opened to drive from the north as far as Camp King, at the first bridge south of the Centre-Mifflin county line. Taking advantage of this opportunity, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Werner, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Stettler, and Mrs. Lulu Goss, all of Lancaster, drove to the King camp Sunday.

A motometer, tent, several tubes, and other loose articles, left in a car belonging to E. Pressler, of Philadelphia, were carried away while the owner slept at Detwiler's on Nittany Mountain, Wednesday night of last week. The car was parked on the "top." Mr. Pressler was awakened by his dog and saw a man at his car, but when the owner stepped outside the thieves dropped some tools and beat it. It is thought the sneaks, when disturbed, were making their second haul.

From the Pacific coast, at San Francisco, came Orvis Shannon to view his birthplace in Centre Hall for the second time. When he left here in 1873, he was eighteen months old. He is a son of the late Alexander Shannon, who in the year mentioned with his family moved from here to Lena, Illinois, and later to Smith Center, Kansas. Mr. Shannon is now conducting the Hotel Palace in San Francisco. He and an elder brother, John, are the only surviving members of the Shannon family.

Rev. E. R. Corman, of Sunbury, filled the appointment in the Grace Reformed church, Pittsburgh, Sunday morning. The church is without a pastor, but the Sunbury minister is not a candidate for the place. Rev. Corman was accompanied by Mrs. Corman, and while in the Pittsburgh district were entertained by Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Gress at Harrison City. Mrs. Gress, who before marriage was Miss Mabel Mackert, was a former parishioner of Rev. Corman and close friend of Mrs. Corman.

Miss Edith Sankey is at Lock Haven this week a guest of Mrs. S. R. Kamp, an aunt.

Mrs. Lucy Henney during the past week has been in Philadelphia and besides attending to the purchasing of new fall and winter millinery, attended the Sesqui-centennial.

Harold H. Keller, on Sunday, drove to Laurel, Delaware, where he began teaching history in the Laurel High school. He was two weeks late in entering upon his duties owing to sickness.

Miss Carrie Sweetwood, graduate nurse, and Dr. Mollie Geiss, both of Philadelphia, were in Centre Hall for the greater part of the past week, it being the former home of Miss Sweetwood. Dr. Geiss is an instructor in the Woman's Medical College as well as the company doctor in Snell's encephalitis. Miss Sweetwood, in course of conversation, stated that her sister, Miss Elizabeth Sweetwood, of Trenton, N. J., is at present enjoying a vacation to the Bermuda Islands.

Would you not love to have companion volumes to help you discover the treasures in that Wonderful Book?

SWEDENBORG

explained the Bible's practical application to daily life; how it describes the life hereafter; what the Bible parables mean when spiritually interpreted.

His theological works—as issued by himself—have been published by the Houghton Mifflin Co. in most modern translation from the original Latin, in the Rotch Edition of 32 volumes.

The first twenty give the spiritual sense of Genesis and Exodus as understood in Heaven; and volumes 26, 27, 28 give likewise the spiritual sense of the Book of Revelation.

Volume 29, Marriage Love, views from the union of the Divine Love and the Divine Wisdom the Law of Sex throughout all creation. It shows the crown and jewel of the Christian Religion, the union of one with one only. Price $2.00.

Volumes 30, 31, 32, contain a full statement of the True Christian Religion as revealed from Heaven. $3.00 the set.

Who Was Swedenborg?

Emmanuel Swedenborg, the son of a bishop, was the great Swedish scientist, philosopher and theologian, whose vast range caused Emerson to term him the maddest of scholars. Dr. Parkes Cadman recently named him the Universal Genius. Officially connected, by appointment of the King, with the great mining industry of Sweden, he mastered all the sciences of his time, and wrote the most useful books on metallurgy, minerals, geology, astronomy, and the human brain. His life search was for the human soul. How his spiritual senses were opened, after he was 50 years of age, that he might reveal the human soul, the life after death, and the Bible itself, may be read in the above named, uplifting, useful book.

 A Comedy Drama with a Great Cast. Eight Reels. Here's the story:
 Mary Phillips, the daughter of a wealthy manufacturer, is in love with one of her father's employees when the war breaks out and he joins the army. Mary joins the Entertainment Committee of the Army and on the other side meets Fred Williams, her old sweetheart, and their romance leads to the altar. Fred is called to the front, and after he leaves Mary discovers that the man who performed the ceremony was not a clergyman but an impostor. Mary writes Fred of this but he is unable to get in touch with her. Mary returns home with her baby and when her father threatens to take the child away after receiving word of Fred's death, she seeks out a minister and asks that he unite her in matrimony with the spirit of her dead lover. After he complies with this ridiculous request, Fred's mother walks into the church with her son. He and Mary walk out of the church without being married.

See the comedy scenes in the trenches; the benefit show in the army camp. This is an extraordinary picture story of love, war and peace, filled with tears, laughs, appeal and expectancy. The most remarkable picture production of the decade.

HOST OF ODD FELLOWS WELCOMED TO PHILADELPHIA

50,000 Members from All Parts of America Fill Streets and Hotels. —Colorful Scene in Independence Square Marks Convention Opening

Philadelphia's far-famed hospitality on Monday embraced the vast army of 50,000 Odd Fellows who journeyed to the City of Brotherly Love from every State of the Union and from many foreign countries, including Canada, Cuba, England and Scotland, to attend the one hundred and second annual communication of the Sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F.

The Odd Fellows were accompanied by the members of their sister order, the Association of Rebekah Assemblies, who opened their convention simultaneously in the Bellevue-Stratford. The meetings of the Sovereign Grand Lodge are being held in the Y. M. C. A. building, Broad and Pine streets.

The official welcome to the high dignitaries of the order, including the grand sire, the grand masters and patriarchs militant, and the officers and representatives of the Association of Rebekah Assemblies, was extended by Mayor KenBirk amid impressive ceremonies in Independence Square Monday afternoon. Robert W. Montgomery, of Philadelphia, acted as master of ceremonies.

The officials of the order—those of military rank attired in picturesque gold-braided uniforms and the others in frock coats and top hats, marched to Independence Square from Broad and Pine streets, led by the lively airs of the Police Band.

The grandstand from which the speakers addressed the crowd of more than 1000 people that had gathered in the square was sayly bedecked with the national colors and loud cheers went up from the crowd as Mayor Kendrick extended his cordial welcome to the members of the worldwide fraternal order in the name of the citizens of Philadelphia.
