

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Corn is one of the subjects being discussed when a knot of farmers get together.

A Chrysler sedan (50) was sold to Arthur Cummings, of Rebersburg, by C. P. Ramer, the Tusseyville dealer. It is the latest model in its class.

Van Meeker, farmer on the J. C. Goshart farm, is exhibiting unusually large fine Dooley potatoes grown by him.

Mrs. Viola Bower, of Millheim, who recently underwent an operation at the Centre County hospital, is getting along nicely.

Misses Stella Hosterman and Mabel Aracy are at the Sequi-Centennial, having left home Monday morning and will return Friday.

A new Behr upright piano was recently placed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Shannon Booser, the instrument having been purchased by them.

A baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stover, on the Harper farm, east of Centre Hall, beginning of this week. It is the first child in that family.

A festival and bake sale will be held by the ladies' Bible class of the Reformed Sunday school, of Boalsburg, on the church lawn, Saturday afternoon and evening of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Burris, when they leave the Swabb home near Linden Hall, recently resold to Commissioner James W. Swabb, will again locate at Yeagertown where they own a fine home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Shaeffer and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bowser, of Altoona, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Lanson J. Burris, the former Mrs. Shaeffer being a sister of Mr. Burris.

As a result of an injury to his wrist, Harry W. Dinges had been suffering from a tumorous growth on the wrist of the right hand. A short time ago the growth was removed by Dr. Hugh Morrow and since the wound has about healed.

Again Jacob Sharer, farmer east of Centre Hall, has been made the target for thieves. A short time ago a quantity of Mr. Sharer's choicest apples, picked by him and left at the foot of the tree in his apple orchard, were stolen.

Marry W. Potter, bookkeeper in the Hosterman Garage, Sunday afternoon left for Chicago, Illinois, on a business trip in which his employer is not interested. He will be gone about two weeks, according to a statement of his father, J. T. Potter.

Fred Bender, the Rawleigh distributing agent, made a second trip to Gelsinger Memorial Hospital, at Danville, returning Monday evening as chipper as a lark. While at the hospital the second time he was treated by Dr. Vastine, the surgeon dentist.

Isalah Emery was given a certificate of efficiency by Dr. A. A. Boreland, Professor of Dairy Husbandry, showing that he passed examinations for operating Babcock milk testers. He is employed at the Millburg plant of the Sheffield Farms Company.

The Spring Mills Grammar and the Centre Hall Grammar schools matched their skill in playing soccer ball Friday evening on the Centre Hall High school grounds, resulting in a victory for the latter school. The school spirit was splendid and this is worthy of commendation.

John H. Knarr reports having had a good seat and clear view of the Tunney-Dempsey scrap. The excitement while the punching was going on was past description, he says. The preliminary contests put on were entertaining. While the bouts were on, the stadium was dark, except for the lights falling on the ring proper. The smokers made the great U appear as though great swarms of fire-flies were hovering over it.

A Ford car driven by William Confer, of Spring Mills, and an Oakland coupe driven by George Rimmey, of Pleasant Gap, sideswiped opposite the residence of D. F. Smith, a short distance above where the concrete road begins in Centre Hall, at about 10:00 o'clock Saturday night. Mr. Rimmey's car was driven home with its damaged fenders and running board, while Mr. Confer had repairs made at the Homan Garage.

The dwelling house on Bishop street, Bellefonte, that was damaged to some extent on the second fire by fire, was owned by Mr. Houck and occupied by him and his family. It was at first reported that the house was that owned and occupied by W. S. Williams, the contractor, who early in the morning of the day of the fire had started to drive to Philadelphia. The error was due, no doubt, to the fact that Mr. Williams was the contractor who built it and stands next to the Williams home.

A booster edition of the Weirton (West Virginia) Leader-News, comprising close to one hundred pages, has come to our desk, and the page that took our eye was the one on which we glimpsed the living likeness of our friend, Guy W. Jacobs, shown in connection with a full-page ad. of the Steubenville Ice Company, whose manager he is. His company has a branch plant at Weirton, which is a town in West Virginia showing a great degree of progressiveness.

While playing about a clothes wringer a little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bloomer Weaver, east of Centre Hall, got his hand between the rubber rolls and before the wringer could be stopped the entire hand and arm to the elbow had been drawn in. The flesh on the hand and arm was badly crushed but little injury seems to have been done the bones. The wringer was driven by power, which accounts for the release not having been made before the arm had been drawn in so far. Dr. H. S. Braucht had the case in charge, and no permanent injury may result. The boy is three or four years of age.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Rebecca Derstine today (Thursday) will go to Philadelphia where she will remain for the winter.

Rebersburg High school won over Centre Hall High school in a soccer game played on the grounds of the former on Friday evening.

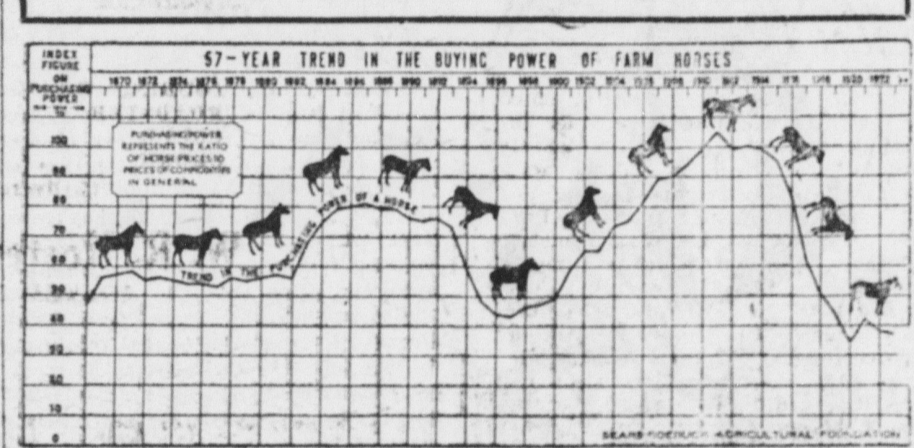

The first soy beans in any considerable quantity to be grown in this section were cut last week by Paul E. Bradford, tenant on the W. F. Bradford farm, at Old Fort. The beans made a fine growth. At this writing (Wednesday) the bean hay had not yet been housed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Luse, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, Mr. and Mrs. George Sharer, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sharer, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Carpenter, and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith attended the funeral of Mrs. Ray Rumberger, at Howard, on Sunday. The funeral is said to have been very largely attended.

Harold H. Keller became ill on his way to Laurel, Delaware, on Sunday, and was obliged to lay over at Lancaster with his brother, James Keller. Mr. Keller was on his way to the Delaware city to enter upon his duties as teacher of history in the public schools there. He had been obliged to remain here for two weeks after the school opened on account of illness, making the illness on Sunday the second interference. It has not been learned here whether or not he has since been able to go on to Delaware.

A number of slight auto accidents occurred in the valley during the past few days. Near Smithtown, this side of Millheim, Constable P. C. Frank and Fred Boyer, both of Potters Mills, collided. One of the men was coming out of the road leading from the "creek" road into the State highway, and the other was on the main thoroughfare. The constable had a wheel of his Ford smashed and his neighbor got off with a bunch of cracked spokes. Dayton Lansberry and William Krader, both of Penns Cave section, met on the Brush Valley road at Jacob Sharer's, Monday evening, without making proper calculations as to width or location of cars. Some damage was done both cars.

Horse Markets Coming Back

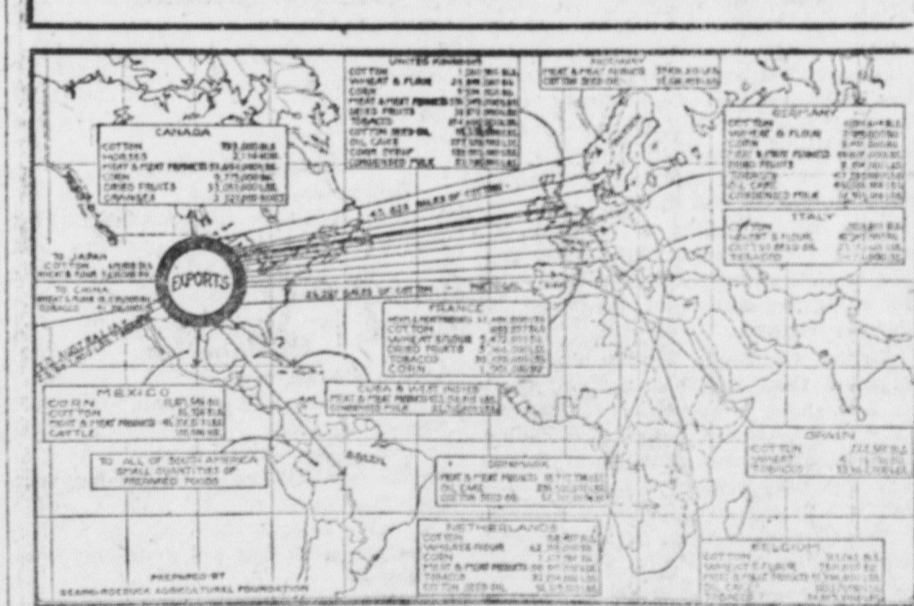

Horse markets are coming back. As both farm and city are demanding more and better horses, better prices may ultimately result, according to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation based on a study of the trend in the buying power of farm horses during the past 57 years.

Low prices probably will continue to discourage horse and mule production and cause a falling off in the equine population until average prices return, the Foundation believes. But already horse breeding operations have begun to expand in the districts possessing the kind of foundation stock capable of producing the sort of horses the market wants. Attractive prices are now being paid for all good, big sound shapely drafters coming to market and good horses of the wagon type weighing 1,400 to 1,600 pounds. Prices have advanced from the extreme depression of two years ago.

How soon the turning point will be reached on the rank and file of horses is uncertain. Previous cycles of horse and mule prices as shown by the accompanying chart have varied greatly in length. The first lasted eleven years from depression to depression, the second eighteen years and the present cycle is already twenty-seven years. It seems logical to believe that an upward turn in prices which will last for a decade or longer will start before long and that good horses and mules produced from matings in the next few years will get the benefit of that advance by the time they reach marketable age. Good horses are the exception on farms today. It is unthinkable that good farmers will be content with plugs for long.

Where U. S. Farm Products Go

Products of the American farm go to every civilized country of the world. Out of the United States each year is sent approximately one-half of the total cotton crop, one-fourth of the yield of the wheat fields, one-fifth of the porkers and huge quantities of corn and tobacco, dried fruits and other products of field and feed lot.

The accompanying chart, prepared by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, shows where the principal exports go.

In the United Kingdom more of America's farm exports are consumed than in any other nation. The United Kingdom uses more American cotton than any other country, her annual consumption averaging around 1,580,916 bales. Germany is in the market for almost as much cotton, using 1,911,614 pounds last year. The United Kingdom is the first market for American wheat and flour, tobacco, corn sirup and condensed milk. She also takes large quantities of dried fruits, oil cake, meat, meat products and corn.

17 YEARS OF MEAT CONSUMPTION IN THE U.S.

More meat and lard was consumed per capita in 1923 than in any other year since 1908. This increase in consumption was primarily in pork and lard. According to the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation, in addition to providing the amount needed for domestic consumption, enough meat and lard was produced to export over two billion pounds, which is equivalent to about 18 pounds more per capita. As per capita production is now being curtailed, the 1924 figure of meat consumption is not likely to be exceeded in 1925.
