

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

D. C. Mitterling shipped a car load of milch cows to the eastern market on Tuesday morning.

A semi-public dance was held in the Junior Farmers' building, on Grange Park, Friday evening. Both married and single people engaged in the affair.

Rev. G. R. Wolf, of Philadelphia, will fill the appointment in the Lutheran church, Sunday morning. He is general secretary of the Luther League of Pennsylvania and will speak in the interest of the League.

S. J. Fye, tenant on the Benner farm at Old Fort since last winter, will make public sale of farm stock and implements the last day in the year, and return to Yarnell, whence he came. Mr. Fye will give up farming for good.

Mrs. Ellen M. Heckman, of Spring Mills, beginning of the week, accompanied her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Corman, to their home in Edinboro, nearby Erie. Mr. Corman is teaching there and Mrs. Heckman will remain at their home for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. David Snyder, of Harrisburg, stopped with Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks at the home of Mr. Brooks' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks, west of town, and for a week put in the time hunting rabbits, pheasants and squirrels. They were successful in killing about 20 rabbits and 8 or 10 squirrels.

A young buck deer with four-inch spikes, was frightened by one of the trains on the local branch and ran against a wire fence bordering the railroad and broke its neck. Report was made to Game Warden Mosier by John H. Knarr, and later the animal was dressed by Mr. Knarr, and the meat distributed.

Mrs. Martha E. Confer, of near Red Mill, had returned to her this week a pocketbook containing about twelve dollars, which she lost while at the Meiss sale, at Colyer, a short time ago. Mr. Meiss was instrumental in recovering the pocketbook and bringing joy to the heart of Mrs. Confer, who felt she could ill afford to lose the money.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner Grove drove to Pittsburgh recently and took with them Mrs. Grove's father, S. P. Heckman, who makes his home with them. He is 84 years of age, but stood the trip well, enjoying the outing with the rest. At Pittsburgh the party were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grove, the former accompanying his parents home to do bit of hunting on Old Nittany.

R. D. Rich, one of the freight crew going west on Saturday evening, had a mishap that might have been much more serious, but simply resulted in a badly sprained ankle. Mr. Rich was on top of a freight car and to avoid being thrown from it, jumped to the cinder. The accident happened at Centre Hall station. Dr. Hugh Morrow made examination of the limb and bandaged it.

Miss Miriam Moore, a student in Cumberland Valley Normal, at Shippensburg, was at her home here on Wednesday until Saturday, on which day she was taken by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Moore, back to school. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Moore went on to Hummelstown where they spent the day with their son, Rev. Frederick Moore, who is serving a Methodist charge there.

A number of local hunters scoured Nittany mountain for a big bear that ventured into the valley on several occasions a short time prior to the opening of the season for legally killing bear. Bruin was seen on Grange Park and a week later on the Stoner farm, near the park. The hunters returned without getting a peek at the big game, but they say evidences were plentiful of bear having torn up stumps and old logs to find food.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Gertrude Woodruff, Miss Sue Reeder and Harry Reeder, all of Williamsport, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Geary.

Mrs. William W. Kerlin, on Wednesday, underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at the offices of Dr. J. V. Foster, State College.

Mrs. Elsie Kremer has become cook in the Centre County hospital, a place she is well qualified to fill. Mrs. Samuel Shoop took her place for a week or two until Mrs. Kremer could make arrangements for leaving her home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker, of Centre Hall; Fred Walker, Bellefonte, and Norman Walker, Axemann, attended the funeral of Henry L. Barger, a relative, at Moshannon, on Sunday.

Auctioneer E. M. Smith, of Centre Hall, and Herman Colyer, employed by the Nittany Motor Company, Bellefonte, on Friday, will go by motor to Pittsburgh where they will visit Mr. Colyer's mother for a few days.

Mrs. L. L. Smith has been in the Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville, since the middle of last week, and is being treated for tonsil trouble. Later she may have teeth removed. Mr. Smith visited her on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haugh, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Haugh and Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, all of State College, ate their dinner with the Kirkpatrick's on Sabbath eve. They remained over for the evening program in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Musser, of Pennsylvania Furnace, were guests on Sunday at the F. V. Goodhart home where Mrs. Musser's father, Mr. Williams, makes his home. Mr. Musser is recovering from the effects of an operation recently performed at the Centre County hospital.

The senior class of the Centre Hall High school will hold a box social in the High school building on Wednesday evening, November 24. Everybody come and bring a box. Candy, ice cream and cake will be for sale. Other attractions will be the art gallery, side show and fortune teller.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith, and the latter's mother, Mrs. J. C. Stephens, of Centre Hall, and B. G. Jackson, of State College, made up an auto party to visit the Sequoi. Mrs. Stephens remained in Philadelphia with her daughter, Mrs. H. M. Stoffel, but will return later to Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Brungart, the middle of last week, started on an auto trip to Youngwood, where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Thomas Keefer. From there they went on to Unionville where Mrs. J. S. Getchell, an elder daughter, lives. They will not return home until next week.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society and the Junior Missionary Society held a bazaar and bake sale on Saturday. They met with gratifying success. The money earned by the Ladies' Aid will be used in beautifying the interior of the church. The Junior Missionary Society will use their profits for the Missionary Budget.

At a meeting of the directors of the First National bank of Centre Hall, Daniel Daup, Jr., was named assistant cashier to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Edgar Miller, mention of which fact is made elsewhere in this issue. The newly selected assistant had been doing clerical work in the bank on a number of occasions during the past year or more.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM WYOMING.

Roy L. Beatty, Former Spring Mills Boy, Now Head Mechanic in Government Garage at Yellowstone Park.

Following is part of a very interesting letter written to Mrs. Floyd Snyder, of Centre Hall, by her cousin, Roy L. Beatty, a former Spring Mills boy, who for a number of years has been located in the state of Wyoming where he is head mechanic in a Government garage located at Yellowstone Park. The letter tells many interesting things about the famous national park:

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., October 25, 1926.

My dear cousin: Will answer your letter as I have lots to tell you and the children.

This is quite a place. It is quiet here now since the park closed but we are having lots of fine weather and the bears have not holed up yet. They keep us company. They are troublesome as they upset our ash and garbage cans every night. Today "Juno" came around at noon and dumped it over. He is a camp bear, would weigh about 900 pounds. I threw rocks at him until my arm was sore. He would run a little ways and then turn and look back.

The deer loaf around the house and some of them are so tame that they will come up to our back door and eat out of our hands.

Yes, we saw lots of geysers Sunday a week ago we were out to see Old Faithful. This one performs every hour and we had to wait only 10 minutes till it shot hot water from 75 to 100 feet in the sky. This has for about 19 minutes. There is quite a camp at his water hole, a big hotel and other buildings. There are lots of other geysers close by Old Faithful and hot water holes that measure 29 feet across and taper down to a funnel, depth unknown, and the formation under the water is rock walled by nature—black, white, blue, red and so on. The water is so hot that I could not keep my hands in over a second without burning them.

There is a water hole called Morning Glory close by, say about a mile from Old Faithful, and on the same plane as the former water hole.

I am not exaggerating when I say that there are a thousand or more small and large water holes and geysers in a mile radius. The Giant geyser just performed two days before we were there. This happens about twice a month and lasts for a half hour at a time, having a fierce roar.

There is a place fenced off along the road they call the Palpit Pot. There are a number of geysers there that keep the earth in a mud bubbling condition, covering about 50 square feet. The distance from Gardener Gate-way to our camp, which is called Mammoth Camp, is five miles inside the Park. Our car registered just 50 1/2 miles from here to Old Faithful, and on our way out there we saw an elk cross the road twenty feet ahead of the car and on the return trip we saw twelve elk. There are lots of elk in the Park and they often come down from the mountains, as many as a thousand in a herd.

There is one hot spring about five miles from our camp that is 200 degrees hot. One place by the road people have fried eggs on the water.

The Mammoth Camp used to be a soldiers' camp and is a very pretty place in the summer time.

We have a modern four-room house with fuel, light, water, phone and beds all furnished; also a garage.

I will tell more of this place later.

Your Cousin,
