LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Now would you be a lobster when the bone in you is to be span into silk by a German process?

The borough schools are closed today (Thanksgiving day) and Friday, to give teachers and pupils a brief vacation from their work.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Helm, of Harrisburg, came to the home of Mr. Helm's sister, Mrs. W. F. Colyer, on Tuesday evening, returning home next morning.

The bazaar which was to have been held by the Ladies' Aid of the Sprucetown M. E. church this Saturday evening, has been postponed until Saturday, December 18th.

An eight-pound baby boy was born Tuesday night to Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy G. Seaton, at their home in Centre Hall. Mother and babe are doing fine, and father is busting his belt from pride.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew, of town, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bartholomew, of Altoona, are sightseeing in New York City. From Altoona the two couples traveled by train, leaving there last (Wednesday) night.

A car loaded with lime stone became derailed as it was being hauled from the Spyrker quarries Tuesday afternoon. The derailling was due to a large part of the flange on one of the truck wheels breaking away. During Tuesday night a wrecking crew came and straightened up the wreck.

Dr. Harry L. Kline, of Youngstown, Ohio, was in town for a few hours on Tuesday, having come here from State College to where he came to visit his mother. Before returning home he thought he would go to Bethlehem to see a brother. Dr. Kline owns and conducts one of the important drug stores in his city, and takes little time off for business.

Messrs. Ralph Hagan and William Luse and Misses Alma and Mary Zerbe, all of Centre Hall, on Wednesday evening drove to Harrisburg where they boarded a train for Philadelphia to see the sights in the city and the Sequel. The ladies are sisters and are teachers in the public schools, the former at Farmers Mills and the latter the primary grade in the borough schools.

SUCCESSFUL DEER SEASON FORECAST

Game Commission Officials Report Bucks Numerous In All Parts of State.

If weather conditions are favorable there should be a big kill of deer in Pennsylvania during the open season which begins December 1 and closes December 15, officials in the State Game Commission have announced.

More than 7,000 bucks were killed during the hunting season last year, the game officials declared. In addition to the bucks, it was said that 1,000 does were killed legally during the special season for does which was authorized by the commission in a number of counties for the purpose of thinning out the deer.

A buck, to be legal game during the hunting season, must have two prongs to an antler.

Reports reaching the commission headquarters at Harrisburg indicate that sportsmen are finding plenty of deer, particularly in the northern tier of counties. The bear season opened November 10.

Reports of large numbers of deer in practically all parts of the State have been received at the Commission headquarters all summer, and this fact has led the officials to believe there will be an exceptionally fine hunting season for that game.

Convict Found; Neck Broken.

Neck Rost, a Rockview prisoner reported to have disappeared from the institution on Friday, was found Saturday evening at the base of the smoke stack at the heating plant with his neck broken. It is presumed he climbed the ladder on the outside to the top of the stack, and either fell or jumped into it.

Rost was sent from Washington for two and a half to five years for voluntary manslaughter. His short term was up on October 26, but he was being held for a portion of his maximum term.

745 Bu. Potatoes in Acre.

Any potato grower outside Aroostook county, Maine, who sets up a claim to eminence in the potato-growing field is bound to start something. Stirred by reports that a Pennsylvania farmer was asserting his right to a world record because he had raised 688 bushels of potatoes to an acre, Port Fairfield residents have produced documents which prove that Philo H. Reed of that place as far back as 1892 dug 745 bushels and 46 pounds of potatoes from a carefully measured acre on his farm.

The surveyor's record, the public weigher's certificates and the affidavit of the farm owner are on file. The huge crop was raised in a competition for a prize offered by a fertilizer company.
