FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College

Cut Poor, Save Good Trees—Cut crooked, short, bushy crowned, diseased, slow-growing, poor timber trees, and some trees where too thick, but save straight, tall, well-crowned, sound fast-growing, good timber trees. Save enough trees to the acre.

School Children Show Eggs—Pupils learn how to select eggs and also get stimulated interest by having local egg shows in the school. The pupils see their eggs judged and get first-hand criticisms. Schools making a collective exhibit exhibit at the State Farm Products Show in January will save the management time by sending in their entries collectively. Entry blanks and further information may be obtained from the county agent.

Do Odd Jobs This Month—Apply mulch when ground is frozen on top, lightly at first, then more heavily as needed. Do pruning and other tree surgery on bright days during December. Tie up any vines that need attention.

Blood Tells in Herd—Cows are able to produce big milk yields because they are born that way. A good purebred bull used now will provide big milk producers in your herd a little later.

Save Tools from Weather—Is the farm machinery put away for the winter? The wide spaces have their place in the scheme in life, but they never were intended as tool sheds.

REBERSBURG.

Robert Small came up from Newark, N. J., to hunt with the Wolfs Store hunting club, and was fortunate to kill a large buck.

Saturday afternoon Harry Weaver came in from New Kensington and on returning home took with him his father and mother, Calvin Weaver's, for a visit.

A son of Charles Frazier, who is employed in Woodlawn, drove to his father's home the past week and on returning took with him his brother, Ellsworth, who will remain indefinitely.

Ray Martellar, from Bloomsburg, and Kenneth Haines, a student at State College, spent several days hunting with the Rebersburg and Wolfs Store hunting clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cummings took Mr. Cummings' mother to Bellefonte, Sunday, where she boarded a train for Pittsburgh to the home of her son, Earl Cummings, where she will remain for some time.

A large number of deer have been shot in this district during the past week. The Rebersburg club have shot the limit, and the Wolfs Store club have five. The numerous day hunters have also met with success.

On Tuesday, Curtis Weaver and family drove from Reading to the home of his father, Calvin Weaver, Sr., and brought with them Mrs. Emma Corman, who had been at the home of Rev. Brown for several weeks.

Mrs. Harry Hubler and daughter Jean came in from Pittsburgh on last Thursday. Mrs. Hubler will care for her mother, Mrs. John Harter, who has been ill for some time and who is not improving as her many friends would wish.

On the night of Dec. 12 an Evangelistic meeting will begin in the Reformed church, Rev. Yostey, a great orator and a man who is meeting with success in Laureton, will conduct the meetings with the assistance of other out-of-town ministers. Two of "Billy Sunday's" singers from Williamsport, will be here to conduct the singing.

The STREET of HAPPY WINDOWS

This is a street of Happy Windows! Just see how the bright happy rays of light pour forth from the windows.

Your street, too, should be one of the "Happy Windows." We must all help in spreading cheerfulness.

Electric light is very cheap. To burn a 50-watt lamp in your home for two hours costs only 1c, almost unbelievable, but true.

These Improvements are Important

There are two general classes of motor car improvements. Those made primarily for their effect on the public—and those made primarily for their effect upon the car.

You will perceive at once that Dodge Brothers new five-bearing crankshaft, two-unit starting and lighting system, air cleaner and other recent improvements, are the sort that represent genuine value.

They are sound and substantial betterments, producing definite and marked results, and as such they are typical of Dodge Brothers methods and product.
