Letter from North Dakota.

Taylor, N. D., Feb. 3, 1927. Enclosed please find my check to advance my subscription to 1928. We have had a nice winter up here so far. We have not had much snow. Autos were in use all along. We have had some cold weather—24 degrees below zero for a few days. Yesterday was groundhog day, and he surely saw his shadow. Today is still warmer—40 degrees above zero. As to our crops, this last year wheat made a little more than seed and seed again for this spring. Oats and barley were made to hay; corn was fair. Some farmers must buy all their seed to sow and feed. I have oats and barley left over to run me. Some people think it is dry up here, but we don't need so much rain to raise a crop as they do in other states. If we get the rains at the right time. The days are two hours longer up here than in Illinois; nights are short, so the ground keeps warm all night; that is what makes the crops grow. All live stock does well here. I sold four pigs, 300 from Nov. 11 to Jan. 25. They weighed 210 lbs., and I got 11c per lb. live. Last fall I took five pigs on a debt of ten dollars, kept them seven weeks and then sold them for $30.50. Horses are very cheap. I think all should use horses instead of autos and tractors. It would be better for everybody to use horses and keep the money here instead of sending it east for autos, tractors and oil.—W. L. ROYER.

BIG SAVING IN TAX BILLS.

Senator Would Abolish Collectors and Give Work to County Treasurers.

Elimination of the fee system for tax collectors would be provided in a bill introduced in the Senate a few days ago by Senator Schlantz, of Lehigh county, and sponsored by the State Tax Commission and endorsed by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce and the Pennsylvania League of Women Voters. The measure would be applicable to all counties except Philadelphia, and its supporters claim that it would save taxpayers between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000 annually in fees paid to collectors. Present county and local tax collectors would be succeeded at the end of their terms by 66 salaried county tax collectors, who would be then serving county treasurers. Each county treasurer, in addition to the salary and fees which he now receives for acting as such, would receive the following annual salaries as county tax collector:

Allegheny, $5000; Lackawanna, Luzerne and Westmoreland, $3000; Berks, Cambria, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Lancaster, Montgomery, Northampton, Schuylkill and Washington, $3000; Beaver, Blair, Chester, Clearfield, Lehigh, Northumberland and York, $2000; Armstrong, Bradford, Butler, Bucks, Carbon, Crawford, Cumberland, Franklin, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence, Lebanon, Lycoming, Mercer, Somerset, and Venango, $1500; Adams, Bedford, Centre, Clarion, Clinton, Columbia, Elk, Greene, Huntingdon, Mifflin, Monroe, Perry, Potter, Susquehanna, Tioga, Warren and Wayne, $1000, and Cameron, Forest, Fulton, Juniata, Montour, Pike, Snyder, Sullivan, Union and Wyoming, $500.

With the consent of the county commissioners, the county tax collectors would employ necessary clerks, whose salaries would be fixed by the salary boards of the commissioners. One-half of the entire cost of tax collection would be paid by each county, and the other half by the various other taxing districts in the proportion that the valuation of the assessment of the particular district would bear to the total valuation of all the districts in the county.

The county tax collectors would have authority to appoint any of his clerks and deputy collectors without additional compensation other than for expenses. Taxes also could be paid through registered mail, by money order or by certified check. Delinquent taxes would incur a penalty of 1 per cent a month from first due date.

Pipe Organ Will Be Dedicated.

A new Moller pipe organ, with chimes, has been installed in the Zion Lutheran church, at Boalsburg, and the same will be dedicated with fitting ceremonies on Sunday, February 13th, with two services, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 7:30 in the evening. Rev. John Wagner, of Hazleton, president of the Susquehanna Synod, of the Lutheran church, will preach both morning and evening. The organ was manufactured at the M. P. Moller factory at Hagerstown, Md., and with the chimes cost $3500. Mrs. Wallace White, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Feilding, to date a fund of $2900 has been raised toward payment on the organ, leaving a balance of $1000, which it is hoped can be raised at the dedicatory services. On the Saturday evening prior to the dedication a recital will be given by Miss Helen Lackenmeyer, of State College, assistant musical director. The public is invited.

C. W. REESMAN OUT FOR POLITICAL HONORS

Feeling Way for Preferment at Coming Primaries in Camden, New Jersey, for City Commissioner.

The Philadelphia Sunday Record, in its New Jersey News section, gave its readers a splendid photo likeness of Clay W. Reesman, formerly of Centre Hall, in connection with a lengthy article bearing on the selection of a city commissioner in Camden. Mr. Reesman's city of adoption. The portion of the political write-up referring directly to him follows: Keen interest has been awakened in Camden political circles the past few days by launching of city commissioner-ship booms by William D. Sayers, Jr., and C. W. Reesman, both active Republicans. Neither Sayers nor Reesman have announced themselves as candidates, but their friends in all parts of the city have been actively advancing their cause and real healthy booms have been the result thereof. Sayers is deputy internal revenue collector and for years has been recognized in Camden as the spokesman for United States Senator Edge. Reesman is one of the aggressive go-getter type. He has been an ardent supporter of the Woodruff faction of the party and the cordiality with which his name has been received indicates a buying of the factional hatchet in the Republican ranks. He is the Twelfth ward member of the Republican County Executive Committee, president of the East End and Civic and Improvement Association, vice president of the East End Republican League, past president of Camden Chapter of the American Business Club, a member of the Elks and County Historical Society. Mr. Reesman is engaged in the insurance business.

Although Reesman has not announced his candidacy, he is in a receptive mood. "I am eager for party success," he said last night, "and if getting into the fight I can be of any aid to the cause, I stand ready to serve."

STUDENTS WIN IN STOCK JUDGING AT PENN STATE

James D. Bohn, of Boalsburg, Takes First in Swine—Gold Medal Awards for Winners.

A Mercer county boy enrolled in the 4-year course in animal husbandry, George F. Dye, of Fredonia, won the recent freshman livestock judging contest at the Pennsylvania State College, W. L. Henning, of the College animal husbandry department, announced. His score was 1093 out of a possible 1400 points. Three classes each of sheep, swine, beef cattle, and horses were judged. Eighty-seven agricultural freshmen participated. Many of those who judged made high scores on a single type of livestock but their combined scores on all classes gave them a lower ranking. Kenneth Hood, New Castle, was first in cattle; William P. White, Pittsburgh, first in sheep; George Coldren, Green Park, first in swine, and Alvin C. Watson, Lock Number Four, first in horses.

In the contest for the 25 two-year agricultural students, Charles B. Turmbacher, Castle Shannon, won first place in judging all classes. He scored 1139 in a possible 1400 points. He placed first in beef cattle, second in horses, and fourth in swine. Frank M. Jackson, Akersville, was first in judging sheep. James D. Bohn, Boalsburg, first in swine, and Ellsworth Heyser, Norristown, first in horses. Many of the leading freshman judges were formerly club members or students in vocational schools. Each of the winners of first places will receive a gold medal as an award.

Treasurer Lewis reported a balance of $17,574,545 in the general fund, compared with $12,198,865, and $19,289,069 in the motor fund, compared with $41,775,527 at the close of December. Beman, who has in view the following constructive work: the early establishment of a cannery; the erection of a building for the vocational department; the remodeling of dressing rooms in the wings. The directors voted to adopt the alumni committee's plans for financing the alumni chapel.

Park for Loganton.

Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, of McElhattan, is negotiating with John Brown, of Lock Haven, for the purchase of the old Klecker saw mill site and timber tract adjoining Gulewite's creamery at Loganton. If the purchase is made, tentative plans made by Col. Shoemaker and Loganton residents, would convert the timber tract into a town park and recreational center, the colonel giving the use of the ground for the park in much the same manner that he gave the land at McElhattan for the Boy Scout camp, named in his honor "Camp Shoemaker."

CENTRE COUNTY MUST MAINTAIN HILL ROAD

Old Highway from Bald Eagle to Phillipsburg County Property.

Judge Harry Keller handed down an opinion in the case of the road supervisors of Taylor township against the county commissioners, a peremptory mandamus proceeding to compel the county to maintain the old Bald Eagle to Phillipsburg, in which he found for the supervisors and ordered the county commissioners to maintain the road. The road is one of continuous use between upper Bald Eagle valley and points on the other side of the mountain and which was taken over by the State several years ago as a portion of Highway route No. 37. When the State built the concrete road over the mountain the old road was discarded and a new route chosen, the latter being quite a distance away from the old one. Naturally people living along the old road demanded convenience. The supervisors of Rush township kept up their end of the road but the supervisors of Taylor township took out a mandamus to compel the county to maintain the portion of the road in that township. There was no precedent case to go by, but after reviewing the case pretty thoroughly, Judge Keller threw the county commissioners who accepted his decision or appeal the case remains to be seen.

Centre Hall has a half-dozen or so Jess dogs now than it had a month ago. The reduction was made by Constable Whiteman fulfilling the duties imposed on that officer by the "dog law."

RURAL CARRIER EXAMINATION.

To Be Held at Centre Hall—Position to Be Filled That of Carrier on Route No. 2 from Local Office.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination to be held at Centre Hall, receipt of applications for which will close March 2, 1927, to fill the position of rural carrier at Centre Hall, and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from this post office. The date of examination will be stated on admission cards mailed to applicants after the close of receipt of applications. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily wagon route of 24 miles is $1800 per annum, with an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. The salary on motor routes ranges from $2,450 to $2,600 per annum, according to length. Separate examinations for motor routes and wagon routes are no longer held. Appointments to both positions will be made from the same register.

The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of the post office where the vacancy exists and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Form 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the vacancy office mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications must be on file with the Commission at Washington, D. C., prior to the close of business on the date specified above. At the examination, applicants must furnish unmounted photographs of themselves taken within two years.

This position is for carrier on Route No. 2 from Centre Hall post office, made vacant through the resignation of Dumer S. Lisher, several months ago. Since that time Edgar Miller has been acting as temporary carrier. Mr. Miller is one of a number who are scheduled to take the examination for the position.

Denied Water Privilege.

Application was made to the town council to have the water extended to beyond John Durst's, by Charles A. Miller, of near Colyer, who purchased two lots at the point named and contemplated the erection of a dwelling house on one of them. The council refused to grant the request, although Mr. Miller offered to pay more than twice as much in water rentals as the others in the same section do under the same conditions. Mr. Miller further stated that he would at any time join in a movement to enlarge the borough so that it would include his property his object in building there not being to avoid borough regulations. One of the councilmen, Lawrence Runkle, favored giving Mr. Miller the same privilege as is granted others. It might not be out of place here to say that under the charter held by the borough to operate the water plant, the borough is not privileged to furnish water to any one outside the borough limits. So long as we have sufficient water no one objects to this violation of rights, but why should the privilege be given a selected few and denied to others?

100,000 for Lutherans.

The Mount Airy Theological Seminary, near Philadelphia, has been left $100,000 by the late Charles W. Wattles, Pittsburgh jeweler, whose will was just probated. The wealthy jeweler set aside $100,000 for educational and inner mission institutions of the United Lutheran Church in this country.

The money to the Philadelphia institution was left in memory of his father. He also left $10,000 in memory of his mother to the Passavant Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Read the Newspapers, Boys.

Young men and boys contemplating the commission of crimes should read the newspapers carefully. They would learn there that a large part of those indulging in hold-ups, the theft of automobiles, etc., as a means of securing a little easy money, are caught, and that the trifling booty obtained sinks into insignificance in comparison with the penalties often imposed and the wreck of human lives involved. When the youthful criminals are mere tyros in the game and become so rattled and nervous in the perpetration of a hold-up that they begin shooting, even when no resistance is offered, murder is often added to the original offense. Then the electric chair looms up as a dreadful possibility.

Read the newspapers, young man, before you put into execution any half-baked plan for accumulating a little money without working, and take thought of the question of whether a life of freedom is not preferable to a long sentence at hard labor behind prison bars.

JOHN D. MEYER HEADS BANK.

After Seven Years of Service, Was Made President of Tyrone First National Bank.

From the Tyrone Daily Herald, date of 4th instant, the following reference is made to a former resident here: John D. Meyer, for the past six years vice president of the First National Bank, was chosen yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors as president of the institution to succeed the late John G. Anderson.

At the same time Dr. John B. Nason, who has served as a director of the bank for the past ten years, was named vice president to fill the place left vacant by the elevation of Mr. Meyer to the presidency.

The choice of Mr. Meyer as head of this splendid financial institution has met with instant favor on the part of the stockholders of the bank and is bound to meet the approval of the bank's depositors and myriad friends.
