SPRING MILLS

The sick are all convalescing.
Mrs. Dean Braucht and little daughter, of Coalport, spent a week at the Dr. H. S. Braucht home.
Blaine Bitner and wife moved into the Bitner home.
Mr. Brown moved in the west side of the Bibby House.
The sale of T. M. Gramley's on Saturday was attended by a large crowd of people. Goods brought fair prices. The home was purchased by Harry Corman. Mr. Gramley will move to Millhelm.
C. G. King and wife, Austin Long and family, Blaine Bitner and wife, and Edward Jamison and wife attended the illustrated lecture at Centre Hall, Sunday evening.
Jacob McCool and wife spent Saturday and Sunday at Dewart with Mrs. McCool's sister, Mrs. Rickert, who has been ill.
Mr. Brucker is repairing the porch at his home, occupied by Clair Ohl. The porch was damaged by an auto skidding on the ice and landing on the porch. The auto was driven by a stranger from Ohio, who was not familiar with the road. He made good by sending new posts for the porch.

DEATHS

WILLIAMS—Mrs. Mary E. Williams, wife of E. J. Williams, president of the People's National Bank of State College, died at her home on Burrows Street on Thursday of last week, at 10 o'clock midnight.

Deceased was born August 7, 1873, a daughter of Thomas and Clara (Cox) Eckenroth. On September 2, 1897, she was united in marriage to Edward J. Williams, who survives her with their two children—Mrs. Mildred Kerns and Charles Edward Williams, both of State College. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Clara Eckenroth, and the following brothers and sisters: Harry E. Eckenroth, Tyrone; Charles R. Eckenroth, of Unionville; William Eckenroth, of Springtownship; Mrs. A. M. Rishel, of Bellefonte; and Mrs. George A. Calhoun, of Gary, Indiana.

Her father Thomas Eckenroth, died about four years ago.
Funeral services were held by her pastor, Rev. A. E. Mackie, of the St. Paul's M. E. church, of State College, of which church she had been a consistent member since girlhood. She was a wonderful wife and mother and those who knew her best loved her most.

WIELAND—Mrs. Daniel Wieland died in a Philadelphia hospital on Tuesday, and was brought to the home of her father, William Steese, Mifflinburg, where interment was made. She had been in the hospital since December, suffering from a general breakdown. She was aged 26 years, 8 months and 10 days. A son, four years old, survives her, as does also her husband, who is a native of Boalsburg, a son of Calvin Wieland. The family lived in Williamsport where the husband was employed as an electrician with the Penn Central Light and Power company. Two brothers and two sisters and her parents also survive.

Horses Average $172.00

Twenty-eight horses were sold in Centre Hall on Monday at an average price of $172. The dealer was C. E. Shively, of Mifflinburg. P. H. Luse, Centre Hall, and Willis Ripka, Pleasant Gap, were the only local buyers.

Russell Grove Injured.

Russell Grove, of Pittsburgh, was seriously injured Wednesday night of last week in an auto wreck that occurred on his return home from a lodge meeting with a companion. He and his companion were picked up in an unconscious condition and were taken to a hospital. Mr. Grove not regaining consciousness until the next evening. The nature of his injuries are not known here, except that he had a head wound requiring many stitches. It appears a truck ran into the car the men were driving.

Mr. Grove is engaged as a clerk by a commercial box company, and has been located in Pittsburgh for some time.

Mr. Grove's father, Gardner B. Grove, and his brother, Guyer Grove, went to Pittsburgh on Monday.

Port Matilda Man Seriously Hurt.

Samuel Leitzel, aged fifty-three, a plumber of Port Matilda, is a patient at the Centre County hospital with a fractured skull, as the result of an automobile accident which occurred Saturday night.

With his son, Edward, M. Leitzel was enroute home from Bellefonte, traveling west on the Bald Eagle trail, when about a mile and a half east of Port Matilda an automobile driven by Chester Pringle, also of Port Matilda, attempted to pass Mr. Leitzel's car. In passing the front wheels lashed and Mr. Leitzel's car was thrown off the road and turned over, Mr. Leitzel being pinned under the car. His condition is serious.

PRESIDENT'S INCONSISTENCY.

The following editorial appeared in the New York World, and is of special interest to farmers:

In vetoing the McNary-Haugen bill President Coolidge said: "This so-called equalization fee is not a tax for the purpose of revenue in the special benefit of particular groups. As a direct tax on the vital necessities of life it represents the most vicious form of taxation."

This is quite true. Yet while the President penned these words the ink was hardly dry on his proclamation raising the duty of pig iron by 50 per cent, the maximum increase permitted under the flexible provisions of the Tariff Act. This higher duty is certainly not "for the purpose of revenue in the accepted sense." It is a tax for the special benefit of particular groups, particularly for the operators of blast furnaces in the Pittsburgh district, the home of Mr. Mellon. They are entitled to tender consideration, even if the cotton growers, corn growers do have to go a-begging.

The President further denounced the equalization fee as "an employment of the coercive powers of the Government to the end that certain special groups of farmers and processors may profit temporarily at the expense of other farmers and of the community at large." A better description of his own use of the flexible tariff rates cannot be found; it is only necessary to substitute "manufacturers" for "farmers" and the cap fits.

Mr. Coolidge has steadily insisted that there shall be no tinkering with the tariff by Congress, and yet he persists in tinkering with it on his own account. Step by step he has been revising the tariff upward while the consumers forget and are forgotten. As the score now stands, there have been thirteen increases against two decreases. The duty has been lowered on live bob-white quail and on paintbrush handles. In the latter case the reduction was made at the request of an American manufacturer importing the handles from his own factory in Canada. In no case has duty been lowered on a really competitive commodity, even when the Tariff Commission has recommended it, as in the case of sugar.

FURST LIKELY TO BE JUDGE.

All indications point to the selection of Attorney James C. Furst to succeed the late Judge Keller on the Centre county bench. Mr. Dorworth, a member of the Fisher cabinet, and Mr. Furst are close personal friends and followed the same leader (Fisher) in last summer's primaries. The fact is that Mr. Furst was the only attorney in the county who was from the beginning to the end a Fisher man.

Mr. Dorworth's endorsement, it is acknowledged, will be sufficient to induce the governor to appoint Furst. The selection of Mr. Furst will mean that the Fisher element in the Republican party will stand by him in the September primaries for the nomination as a candidate for the unexpired term of Judge Keller. Ward Fleming, of Phillipsburg, will be the chief contestant of Mr. Furst's ambition to become the Republican nominee. He has had an eye on the judgeship for some time but preferred to wait, so his friends say. He now concludes this an opportune time and will wage a war of conquest. Fleming is backed by Harry Scott, the State Senator, from Phillipsburg. Scott is also a Republican State chairman. He has little to offer in the way of political sales, while the Fisher-Dorworth has a continuous stream of dribelets flowing. The contest in September means much more to the leaders than the selection of their choice of candidates—it will define who in Centre county will rule the roost.

The prevailing conditions in the Republican camp makes possible the selection of a Democrat at the November election to sit on the judicial bench, provided the attorneys select from their number a candidate and then set about to elect him.

BOALSBURG.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mothersbaugh spent Wednesday in Bellefonte.

Fred Reitz recently purchased a new Essex Tudor sedan.

Miss Daisy Rowe, of State College, spent the week-end with her father.

George Shugerts went to Altoona Tuesday to attend the burial of his mother, Mrs. Marjorie Shugerts.

Miss Flora Murray is nursing a badly sprained arm, the result of an accident.

Dr. W. W. Woods and mother spent a week in Pittsburgh, the doctor going out to consult his oculist.

Charles Fisher and son Charles Jr., of Danville, were visitors in town on Friday.

The Tavern is again open to the public; Miss Esther Callahan is landlady.

Mrs. Charles Segner and daughters, Misses Mary and Rachel, spent Wednesday in Bellefonte.

Mrs. John Horner, who was quite ill of pneumonia last week, is improving slowly.

High School Oratorical Contest.

Twelve pupils of the local High school participated in an oratorical contest on Friday evening.

After music by the school choir, the following orations were given in a pleasing manner: "A Leak in the Dyke," by Sara Bohn; "In Return," by Jane Ross; "Over the Hills to the Poorhouse," by Madeline Folk; "The Constitution," by Emma Eliza Stuart; "Bingen on the Rhine," by Catharine Smith; "Pinto Rivera and Their Prizes," by Elizabeth Mothersbaugh; "The Gospel Ship," by Wm. McClellan; "Main Street Critic," by Margaret Gingrich; "Kentucky Belle," by Nannie Belle Stuart; "The Wizard of Schenectady," by John Shuey; "Abraham Lincoln," by Sara Ross; "Dr. Grenfell," by Mildred Jacobs.

The judges, Messrs. Heckman, Graves and Spotts, of State College, awarded the prizes to Jane Ross, 1st; John Shuey, 2nd; and Margaret Gingrich, 3rd, with honorable mention of Belle Stuart.

Each contestant acquitted himself or herself creditably, and the program being interspersed with music, proved a delightful evening's entertainment, to the patrons and friends of the school.

GOVERNOR WANTS THE HIGHWAYS SAVED

More Important Than Regulation of Traffic, He Tells the Mayors.

Legislation to conserve Pennsylvania's tremendous investment in roads is the biggest problem which confronts owners and operators of motor cars. Governor Fisher informed a delegation representing the mayors, burgesses and traffic directors of the cities and boroughs of the State, at a meeting held by them on Monday in Harrisburg. The delegation called to discuss uniform traffic regulations and comprised a special committee named two weeks ago at a conference summoned by the Penna. Motor Federation.

A uniform traffic bill was submitted in the Legislature, but it does not provide for uniform standardized traffic signals, although it follows the Hoover code. The Highway Department will submit a bill next week covering every phase of the operation and equipment of motor vehicles and the registration of cars and drivers.

The department's bill will include the Hoover code revised in important particulars to meet Pennsylvania traffic requirements, and also traffic control regulations as to meaning of lights and signals. The delegation asked the Governor to give the department bill his approval. He promised a thorough study, and suggested his visitors keep in touch with Secretary of Highways Stuart.

23 Models — 4 Wheelbase Lengths
Prices range from $865 to $2090

f. o. b. factory

Never before in its history has Nash offered so compellingly attractive an array of motor car values.

Colorfully finished in exquisite blends and harmonies, of supreme gracefulness in line and design, and richly appointed and fitted thruout, this great group of 23 models provides America's most inviting opportunity in the selection of a motor car.

Embraced within this notable array of body styles are three distinct series—the Light Six, Special Six, and Advanced Six, and 4 wheelbase lengths, for the Advanced Six Series includes models of extra long wheelbase.

And of particular interest is the sensational new Nash body design as exemplified by the new Cavalier model and the new Special Sedan on the Special Six chassis, and the new Ambassador and the new Special Sedan on the Advanced Six chassis, together with the superb new Light Six De Luxe Sedan—the style car of the $1000 field.

Each model of the 23 possesses the superlative performance ability of the great Nash 7-bearing motor—the world's smoothest type.

And each model offers as standard equipment, at no extra cost, 4-wheel brakes of special Nash design, and 5 disc wheels.
