

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Roy Schaeffer is driving a new six-cylinder Star coupe.

Some Harris township farmers were plowing the latter part of last week.

Frances Bieber, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Bieber, is one of the honor students in the senior class of the Muncy High school.

We sell the best garden seeds, grown always true to name and results. Sold by H. P. Schaeffer's Hardware, Bellefonte; Bell 14M. o15

On account of the play to be given in Grange hall, the special meeting of Progress Grange called for Friday evening will be held on Tuesday evening, March 22nd.—By order of Master.

J. Shannon Boozer, on Tuesday, attended a meeting of dealers in Firestone tires held in Altoona. The dealers were entertained by Firestone, Tire and Rubber Company at the Penn-Alto hotel.

Rev. B. F. Bieber, pastor of the Lutheran church at Muncy for a number of years, and formerly pastor at Centre Hall, has accepted a call to Indiana, this state, and will go there about April 1st.

Harvey D. Hagen, the Farmers Mills carpenter, is engaged in making repairs on the garage purchased by his son, Ralph Hagen, from W. R. Hosterman. A number of improvements will be made in the front room of the building.

J. H. Wagner, for long time a resident of Potters Mills, loaded his household goods on a motor truck, Tuesday morning, and left for Mt. Union, where he purchased a property and expects to make his home. He has two sons and a daughter living there.

Mrs. Jeremiah Shunk is back to her home again after having been with a daughter at Milroy for several weeks, during all of which time she was ill. She is now not suffering, except from weakness, not being able to move about in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Boozer, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradford, Prof. and Mrs. J. F. Wetzel, Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford, Mrs. C. R. Neff, Miss Sara Neff and Ralph Neff, attended the funeral of Dr. Wm. Hoy, in Mifflinburg, on Sunday.

An effort is being made to come to an agreement whereby the parsonage of the Aaronsburg Lutheran charge will be located in Millheim instead of Aaronsburg. On Sunday services will be held at the four appointments in the charge and at that time the members will be given an opportunity to vote on the question.

Arthur Thoman, of Altoona, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton H. Homan. On Sunday, he was taken to his home by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Homan. Sunday morning Mr. Thoman sang a solo, "Lord, Teach Me to Pray," in the Lutheran church. He belongs to several musical organizations in Altoona and has been "on the air" a number of times.

C. H. Meyer, of Reedsville, was in town on Monday. He just returned from New York on a visit to his daughter, Mrs. Howard Butler, and three little daughters. Mrs. Meyer, who had been with her daughter since December, will remain until the return of Mr. Butler from abroad. Mr. Butler is an attorney for a corporation and was called on business to Paris, Rome and Berlin.

While on the block selling farm machinery and stock for Charles M. Miller, east of Madsburg, on Saturday, George Wise, the well known auctioneer of the firm of auctioneers of Wise and Hubler, became suddenly ill and was obliged to abandon his post. His sudden illness was due to hernia. A substitute was secured for Mr. Wise and the sale went on after a brief intermission.

Edgar A. Henry, of Reedsville; Fred Arthur Faus, of Jersey Shore; J. W. Eric Moore, of Centre Hall, all students of Dickinson College, and George Yoxheimer, of Northumberland, student at Juniata College, were entertained from Monday until Tuesday at the T. L. Moore home. The young men were all enroute to Lock Haven to attend the Methodist Conference held there this week, of which they expect to become members.

H. B. Herring, a well-known Gregg township farmer and well-to-do, was taken to the State Hospital at Danville, beginning of last week. He was taken in charge by Sheriff Taylor and assistant, who found him in his lumber camp at the head of Phillips Creek, on Brush Mountain. It appears Mr. Herring anticipated what was about to happen and went to the camp to avoid being taken in charge. He refused to voluntarily accompany the Sheriff, and as a consequence the county officer and his deputy were obliged to carry him a long distance to their car. The camp is located on an 800-acre tract owned by Mr. Herring. The reporter resists very much to note this incident and hopes the unfortunate man will soon recover under skilful treatment at the State institution.

Dr. Charles P. Wiles filled appointments on the Aaronsburg Lutheran charge on Sunday, preaching at Millheim in the evening. The service was attended by a number of Lutherans from here, who were attracted there to hear one of the foremost Lutheran ministers and editor of the Sunday-school literature of that denomination. Dr. Wiles is a Philadelphian. The services throughout were inspiring and were engaged in by all in the large audience. Mrs. Albert H. Stover presided at the pipe organ and rendered a beautiful opening voluntary. A duet by A. H. Stover and W. M. Duck was also beautifully rendered. The singing of hymns and chanting of the Lord's Prayer was a striking feature of the service. The charge has not yet heard from a candidate to become the pastor of the field made vacant by Rev. Daubenspeck's resigning.

A NUT TO CRACK.

Suppose What Follows Was a Fact, What Would the Students in the C. H. S. Propose?

What would you propose, members of the Centre Hall High school?

We often hear people say that they would do should they become a millionaire over night. Usually it is some very foolish thing they tell us they would do should fortune fall unannounced in their laps. To at least many of us such a windfall would be harmful. If we were put on trial and would be obliged to forfeit our inheritance on embarking on the first foolish venture, how long would we be what we wish we were—a millionaire? Over night, maybe, if our inheritance came late in the day and we went to bed early.

Let us now suppose that some one had been generous enough to provide an annual income of, say, $500 to be used in any manner the members of the High school saw fit, what would the individual members of the school suggest?

A small cash prize will be given to the student whose proposal nearest meets the approval of the editor. It is the proposal that will count; no matter how poorly written, you may win. Of course, it is desired that the students put forth their best efforts, and go into detail as much as possible.

Let us hear what is in your mind, you young lads and lassies, and there is no objection to your consulting "dad" or "ma," or a lawyer, or all of them.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

We have had exceptionally fine weather during almost all of March to date.

The class play announced last week for April 1 and 2, has been postponed until April 8 and 9.

Mary, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Swartz, of Tusseyville, is afflicted with measles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Strochecker, on Tuesday, went to Utica, N. Y., to visit their son, a Penn State graduate, who is located in that city.

Paul D. Emehizer, of Tusseyville, who is employed at the Locomotive Motor Co. plant in Williamsport, was home with his family over Sunday.

W. W. Lomberger, a Virginia lumberman, has changed his residence from Claremont to Courtland, Virginia. Mr. Lomberger was a former resident of Penns Valley.

Mrs. Virna (Geiss) Miller, of Philadelphia, in company with friends, motored to Centre county last week, and for a short period of time was in Centre Hall greeting old friends.

Mrs. John L. Tressler, who has been in poor health for some time, is a patient in the Centre County hospital, having gone there from her home in Centre Hall the beginning of the week.

Farmers are being warned that the seed corn situation in Centre county and in other sections of the State is very bad. In some tests germination was found to be as low as ten per cent.

The Senior Service class will meet at the Lutheran parsonage, Thursday evening, 7:30. Opening of "Rainy Day Bags" has been postponed until April meeting. Every member is urged to attend.

The athletic association of the Centre Hall High school will hold a bake sale and box social in the High school building on Saturday of this week—the bake sale in the afternoon and the box social in the evening.

Slugs Auto'st; In Jail.

Mike Madsky is in the Centre county jail. Sunday evening he was picked up by Fred W. Poleman, of Williamsport, on being asked for a "lift." On reaching a point in the vicinity of Hubbersburg Madsky hit Poleman on the head, and then jumped from the car. When Poleman was able to leave the car he hailed a passing car and informed the occupants of what had happened. The men overtook the slinger and held him until Sheriff Taylor arrived.

No attempt was made to rob Poleman. It is presumed the man wanted the car, but on being hit the driver lost control of it and ran it against a telephone pole, putting it out of commission.

Bandit's Letter Priest's Text.

A letter which brought tears to the eyes of many who heard it was read Sunday morning by Rev. Father O'Hanlan, pastor of the Catholic church at State College.

It was written by the youngest of the Oney bank bandits—Harry Bentley, 23—to his mother only a few minutes previous to his execution, and was filled with affection and pathos.

No effort was made by the priest to defend the banit, who had given permission of the reading of the letter, but he pointed out to the members of his congregation that the bandit and his companions were like so many of the young people of today, who do not stop to consider the result of their misdeeds.

Raymond Shade Improving.

Raymond Shade, the sixteen-year-old youth in the home of G. W. Grove, near Rockview, who attempted to commit suicide a week ago by shooting himself through the right breast with a .38 calibre revolver, is improving, and it is thought he will fully recover. No reason can be assigned for the act, except that of late had real or imaginary trouble at school. His teacher is Miss Sarah Reaick, of Georgets Valley, who states the lad was a good pupil, and so far as she knew had had no school troubles.

"FLESH AND THE DEVIL" CONCERNS MILITARY PERIOD

Filming the most militaristic period in Germany's history—without any military scenes in it—that is the paradoxical feat of Clarence Brown, famous screen director, in "Flesh and the Devil," now playing at the Richelieu Theatre, with John Gilbert, Greta Garbo, Lars Hanson and a famous cast.

The story, a vivid drama of German life just before the war, is adapted from the great Sudermann drama, "The Undying Past." It portrays the rigid militaristic spirit of the times—even affecting home life in its inflexible conventions of love and marriage, which precipitate the tremendous dramatic situation in the new play.

Outside of the opening scenes, showing the interior of a barracks of an officers' school, where John Gilbert and Lars Hanson are first introduced in the story, absolutely no military scenes are used.

The story is an elaborate production based on the Sudermann tale of the charmer who ensnared the love of her husband's best friend, bringing on her home a cataclysm. Miss Garbo, the famous Swedish star who recently has scored sensational successes in "The Torrent" and "The Temptress," plays this role, with Hanson, known as the "Swedish Barrymore," as the husband, and John Gilbert as the lover.

The picture is gorgeously staged. Old castles on the Rhine were reproduced; a complete replica of the Berlin railroad station including its trains was built at the studio, and many remarkable feats in screen stunts were carried out to make the picture so typically European that one would imagine it filmed there.

Clarence Brown, the director, is famous for such productions as "Kiki," "The Eagle," "The Goose Woman," "Smouldering Fires" and others.
