Carload of Cows Sell at Average Price of $161.10.

The car load of Susquehanna county cows sold by C. E. Swab, of Mifflin, on the farm tenanted by C. B. Smith, at Centre Hill, on Monday, was attended by a large crowd of farmers and stockmen. At least 200 persons inspected these cows on Mr. Smith's farm on Sunday, and it was conceded by all to be the best load of cows ever offered for sale in this section of the State. Mr. Swab is not a stranger to many farmers in Penns Valley and Nittany Valley, he being the man who has made it possible for the farmers unfortunate to have 1, b. reactors to realize a fair price for condemned stock, having bought all the reactors in Penns Valley and 90 per cent in Nittany Valley. While the price realized is the highest average price ever obtained in this section, the same cows in other markets would have brought considerably higher prices. The purchasers and prices paid are appended: J. R. Black, Millerstown...$160.00 J. R. Black... 150.00 J. R. Black... 139.00 J. R. Kittleberger, and daughters, Misses Louise and Elizabeth, of Curwensville, stopped over night with the Bartholomew family on their way to Bethlehem where their son graduated from Lehigh University. Today (Thursday) they will make the return trip. M. L. Emerick, who more than a week ago underwent an operation in the Centre County Hospital, continues to be in a very critical condition. He has been delirious for most of the time and requires much attention aside from that ordinarily given by nurses. Members from the I. O. O. F. and Moose lodges have been giving this assistance. Dr. and Mrs. S. C. Runkle, of Philadelphia, came to Centre Hall and from here went to Penn State to attend the commencement exercises, their son, Stuart Calvin Runkle, Jr., being one of the graduating class. The young man completed the course in commerce and finance. He returned with his parents to their Philadelphia home. It was the first time the children all surrounded a dinner board since their marriage. Aside from those named above and their families was Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Harmon, of Newberry. There are nine grandchildren, and all were present. Barnegat City, New Jersey, is where Margaret Luse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mifflin Luse, will be for the summer months. She left Tuesday morning with Catharine Giesner and remained with her for the night and next day joined several other girls from State College who went to the same place. Sunset Hotel is located on an island off the New Jersey coast and it is there the young people will have their first earning experience in the various capacities for which they are best fitted.

Old Fashioned Gospel Grove Meeting at Colyer.

The Tusseyville and Colyer people are quite interested at this time in the preparation for an old fashioned Gospel grove meeting. The men of the neighborhood expect to pitch a large tent in the grove near the Evangelical church. In other years meetings of this kind have been held in this beautiful grove and were largely attended, and much enjoyed. We believe in the same God, the same religion, let us renew the old days. The first service will be Sunday evening, June 19th, and will continue from night to night for at least two weeks. I. O. O. F. Memorial Service. The local I. O. O.
