

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Bobbie, a little son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Arney, had the misfortune to fall from a swing and break one of his arms.

Mrs. Frank Herman and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Howard Herman, of Altoona, were guests at the W. F. Colyer home.

Dr. A. G. Lieb and F. M. Fisher are having their dwelling houses repainted. A. L. Duck, of Spring Mills, is doing the work for Dr. Lieb and John M. Colborn for Mr. Fisher.

James Brungart, who just finished teaching a term of school at Moshannon, last week went to Aurora, Illinois, where he will be with his brother on a farm for the summer months.

Lilae Brooks is taking a course in the Central State Normal School, Lock Haven, to further fit her for teaching in the public schools. Others from this section attending are Bertha Haskell and Martha Yearick.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bradford and Harry Kahn, of Pittsburgh, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradford, in Centre Hall. The Bradfords with Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Bradford, of Lemont, were at the Bradford hunting camp for a few days.

Mrs. Minnie Richards, who had been with her sister, Mrs. Mary Herring, in Altoona, for some months, is with her sister, Mrs. Laura Lee, and other relatives about town. She was accompanied here by her niece, Miss Mary Herring.

Central Pennsylvania branch missionary convention of the Evangelical church, held at Williamsport, last week, was attended by Mrs. T. A. Hosterman and Miss Gertrude Ishler. The latter, blind and mute, gave a short recital at one of the sessions and was much applauded.

After being pastor of the Reformed church, State College, for four years, Rev. Edwin H. Romig resigned the pastorate and accepted that of the Taber Reformed church, Philadelphia. Rev. Romig held his last service at State College on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Geary and children came up from Newport on Sunday. Mr. Geary, who conducts a cigar and tobacco store in Newport, was obliged to return to his business, but his family will spend two weeks with Mrs. Geary's mother, Mrs. Belle Whiteman.

Who told the Chautauqua lecturer on Saturday night that the town council had fifteen mile speed limit signs erected and then failed themselves to obey the regulation? It's approaching wickedness to blab such things to strangers and give them a chance to tell it to the world.

William A. Stuart stopped with his aunt, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, on his way home to Fort Worth, Texas, where he is engaged in the oil business. Mr. Stuart had been at State College with his mother, Mrs. Ellen Stuart. Another guest of Mrs. Jacobs was Mrs. Lizzie Kleckner, of Mifflinburg.

Winter wheat, oats, barley and rye throughout the State are reported in better condition on June 1st than on May 1st, and about up to the ten-year average. Wheat prospects are rated ten per cent better than June 1st of last year. The central portion of the State is credited with having the best wheat prospects.

Ray G. Decker, of near Colyer, was so successful with his experiment of growing garden plants this spring that he has fully decided to go at it in a big way next year. He furnished local people with thousands of plants, and finds that at a reasonable price the average housewife would rather purchase her garden plants than go to the trouble of raising them from the seed.

Grace Wible, who had been at the home of her uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, for a few years, after graduating from the local High school went to Bala-Cynwyd, a Philadelphia suburb, where she is living with a private family and is taking care of several children. She will be there for the summer and in September will enroll as a student in West Chester State Normal.

Harold Keller, who had been teaching school in Laurel, Delaware, returned home by automobile on Friday. At Lancaster he met Fred Luck of Ridgeway, who had just graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, and Miss Frances Fowler, of Reading, a present year Ursinus graduate, and brought them as far as his home here from where they went to Penn State to attend a house party.

The grand lodge I. O. O. F. and Rebekahs held last week at Conneaut Lake, was attended by Clyde Dutrow as a representative of the local Odd Fellows and Mrs. Milford Luse of the Rebekah lodge. Other delegates from the south side of the county were C. F. Miller, of Millheim; T. G. Decker, of Spring Mills, and Cal. Weaver, of Rebersburg; Mrs. M. E. Stover, of Coburn; Ralph Walker, Pine Grove Mills; E. B. Irvin, Boalsburg; John Myers, Stormstown; C. M. Myers, Lemont, and C. B. Adams, State College.

Mrs. Morris Furey, of Bellefonte, was a recent guest of her sister, Mrs. Amelia King, in Centre Hall. Mrs. Furey the latter part of last week celebrated her eightieth birthday, one of the festivities being a banquet served at the Brockerhoff House. Among those who attended the celebration were Mrs. Furey's sister, Mrs. King, who is 82 years old; Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Lee, of State College; Mrs. S. W. Kerstetter and Miss Louise Kerstetter, of Curwensville; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Maxwell, of Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Furey, Miss Virginia Furey, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene L. Connelly, Miss Sarah Kerstetter and Charles S. Wunder of Pittsburgh; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Furey, Gray Furey, Miss Mauris Furey, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Larimer, Morris Larimer and Miss Emily Larimer, of Bellefonte.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

John Rishel is driving a new Pontiac sedan, purchased through the State College agency.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Boozer, on Saturday, attended the funeral of the wife of Mr. Boozer's brother, John F. Boozer, at Osceola Mills.

D. C. Mitterling, the cafe proprietor, has been confined to bed since Friday, suffering from an infected finger and sore throat, possibly due to quinsy. His condition at this writing is much improved.

Miss Anna Fogleman, of Washington, D. C., came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Seanson, in Centre Hall, a few days ago. On leaving here she will go to Manchester by the Sea for the summer.

Fred Carter, of Glen Iron, is very seriously ill with double pneumonia at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John M. Luse, at State College. He became ill while at his home but was taken to State College that he might be cared for by his daughter.

Fred Slack, tenant on the Joseph K. Bitner farm, near Penns Cave, had a herd of twenty-seven Holstein cows and young cattle tested for T. b. and every animal passed through clean. Twenty in the herd are registered. This herd has been regularly tested for several years.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ramer and Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Swartz, of Tusseyville, on Monday attended the funeral of L. N. Hoover, a well known business man of Milroy, and one who employed Mr. Ramer for fifteen years. Mr. Hoover was engaged as a dealer in hardware, and did tinning and plumbing. He was the third generation of Hoovers to conduct the business at Milroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haas and child, of Winter Haven, Florida, have been guests of Mrs. Haas' sister, Mrs. Fred Slack, east of town. Mr. Haas, who is editor of the "Florida Chief," is taking a vacation, and with his wife and child and parents came to Pennsylvania by automobile. The elder couple are visiting about their former home at Middleburg. In Florida the Haas are engaged in growing oranges on a large scale, having several orchards in bearing at this time.

A year-old registered Berkshire boar was shipped by William F. Rishel, east of town, a breeder of note, to Marianna, Jackson county, Florida, on Monday. The hog was purchased by Oscar Knight, who owns a farm in Florida stocked with native hogs. The boar was purchased with the view of improving the herd. Mr. Knight was one of the performers in the Haag show. He and his wife and daughter gave exhibitions on the wire rope and did acrobatic work.

Word was received by friends in the county that Miss Ruth Bingham, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Bingham, of New Kingston, was given honors as a student and graduate from Teachers' Training College, Shippensburg. She was an honor student, a member of the orchestra, representative of the student body, president of the arts and crafts club, director of useful arts club, and associate editor of the "Campus Reflector." She will teach the second grade in the public schools at Hershey at the opening of the school year in September. While in Centre Hall, Miss Bingham was one of the apt music pupils in a large class under the instruction of Miss Byrd Stover, of Rebersburg.

EVANGELICAL MISSIONARY WOMEN MEET IN WILLIAMSPORT

Lewistown Selected as Next Meeting Place - Dr. Schmalzreid Gives Thrilling Experience in China.

Lewistown Grace Evangelical church was elected as the place for the 1928 convention of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the Central Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical Church at the closing session of the thirty-eighth convention held in St. Paul's Evangelical church, Williamsport.

Besides selecting the place of the next meeting, the convention completed all committee reports and closed all the business on the calendar. Mrs. W. J. Campbell, of Berwick, had charge of the devotional services, and Mrs. E. S. Hank, of York, led the noon-tide prayer.

Mrs. J. W. Thompson, of York, was elected president. Mrs. M. I. Jamison of Newberry, was elected recording secretary and Miss Ora Winter, of Williamsport, is the treasurer.

Other officers elected were: Vice president, Mrs. H. D. Hill, Baltimore; corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. L. Jones, York; secretary of Young People's circle, Mrs. S. A. Snyder, Baltimore; secretary of Mission Band, Mrs. E. C. Bansom, Red Lion; secretary of Little Heralds, Mrs. J. O. Briggs, Hagerstown, Md.; organizers as follows: York district, Miss Bertha Everet, Red Lion; Carlisle, Mrs. J. W. Lease, Lewisburg; Mrs. W. J. Campbell, Williamsport, Mrs. W. J. Ginter.

Dr. Schmalzreid, of West Hunan province, China, gave a graphic and vivid sketch of his life and work in that country. He told a thrilling story of being captured by Chinese bandits and said that his Chinese friends, converts to Christianity, raised $5,000 to ransom him at great personal sacrifice.

Dr. Schmalzreid is at present practicing medicine in East Orange, N. J., waiting until conditions in China permit his return.

Oasis in Sahara That Is Productive

The oasis of Adrar is in the western part of the Sahara desert in North Africa, east of the Spanish possession of Rio de Oro, of which it formerly constituted a part. A considerable portion of its 30,000 square miles is fertile land on which dates and grain grow. Ostriches are raised for their feathers and salt is mined. Due to its position on the caravan route of Morocco it is of considerable importance. The inhabitants are for the most part Berbers, says the Dearborn Independent.

An immense system of subterranean aqueducts, whose origin is lost in antiquity, supplies the oasis with water. Not even the legends of the most ancient native tribes contain a history of their beginning. Adrar lies at the bottom of a natural depression that a marvelous irrigation system connects with reservoirs feeding the surrounding plains at a higher elevation. The natives with no better implements than rude scoops and picks have dug, at a depth of from 150 to 200 feet below the surface of the desert, spacing tunnels that extend for miles.

It rains but once in ten years at any given point in the Sahara, and this sparse rainfall is conserved by collecting the ground moisture from a great expanse of territory at Adrar.
