

INSURE LONGER LIFE FOR AUTO

Give Car Systematic Lubrication and Keep in First-Class Condition.

"Every car that comes from an automobile factory is built to deliver certain mileage to its owner, and it is up to the owner to get this mileage through proper service and upkeep," says a bulletin issued by the mechanical first-aid department of the Chicago Motor Club.

Answer These
Can you answer these questions?
How fast may I drive? When may I pass a standing street car? How may I turn to the left on an intersecting street? When have I the right of way? If you cannot answer these questions as fast as you can think and are ignorant of the correct replies, go to the nearest police station and secure a copy of the traffic regulations.

Device Gives Protection Against Auto Thieves
Nothing is more disconcerting to an auto thief than a noise which will call attention to his activities, and so the simple wiring scheme shown in the illustration should prove quite effective while the car is left in a well-populated district.

strument board. Connect one terminal of the switch to the binding post on the ignition switch, or to the wire that runs from the ignition switch to the spark coil, at any convenient point. Connect the remaining terminal of the switch to the binding post on the horn that is wired to the horn button, or to the wire itself if that is easier.

Speedometer Very Poor Gas Mileage Indicator
The speedometer is a very valuable piece of equipment, but never depend upon its reading to tell when the gasoline supply needs replenishing.

Where Fault Lies.
"The fault," continues the bulletin, "lies in the American system of living—the hurry and bustle. We have no leisure for anything—we run our cars until they break down instead of giving them proper care.

Car Makers Are Turning Out Better Mechanics
Many of the motor car makers who are turning out better automobiles than ever before have undertaken to produce better mechanics to service their products.

AUTOMOBILE ITEMS

The man who looks for a gas leak with a lighted match generally finds it. To preserve his general color scheme the hit and run driver should always drive a yellow car.

Major Segrave, who set the record in auto speeding, was born in America. His father is an Irishman. The automobile has caused some tragic episodes in demonstrating that the locomotive still has the right of way.

It is a good deal better for a new automobile to make a bow, as the headlines say, than it is for it to turn turtle. Fresh oil in the crank case every 500 miles is as important to a car as fresh bedding is for the old sow.

Sweet Clovers Are Variable

Offer Opportunity for Development of New Strains for Definite Uses.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
All sweet clovers are variable in their habits of growth, and many individual plants of distinct type and form may be found in nearly any sweet-clover field.

Better Hay Varieties.
There is considerable interest at present in the production of better hay varieties, he says, since the common sweet clovers, especially the white-flowered species, are too coarse and heavy to make good hay from the second year's growth.

On Acid Soils.
Several persons are endeavoring to find a sweet clover that will grow on acid soils, lack of lime being a serious hindrance to culture of the crop in many localities.

A type of sweet clover that would be exceedingly useful, according to Mr. Kephart, is one that would remain green late in the fall, start growth early the next spring, and remain green and in good feeding condition well into the following summer.

Sweet Clover Doubles Wheat Yield in Dakota
J. M. Miller, who farms 1,800 acres in North Dakota, is an enthusiast when it comes to sweet clover. "Sweet clover," said Mr. Miller, "is the greatest soil builder ever discovered."

Agricultural Facts

Soy beans with corn is an insurance against an imperfect stand. Cull the slow-maturing pullets. They will be cull hens when they grow up, if they ever do grow.

The glazed stage is right for harvesting silage, but frosted corn makes inferior silage; better harvest too soon than too late. Prices of dairy cattle are on an upgrade and they probably will continue to rise until about 1931 when they will reach the peak.

Silos are not expensive structures, so feeding capacity can better be enlarged by increasing the number rather than the size. It is best to use an early nurse crop with sweet clover the same as with other legumes and the nurse crop should be sown thin.

Never take the chances of putting a slightly defective specimen in a plate of fruit or vegetables for an exhibit. The judge is more than likely to find it. It pays to ring-face baskets of peaches, pears, or apples because then each fruit in the face gets its share of the pressure from the cover.

Many Counties Complete Tuberculin Testing.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A summary of tuberculosis-eradication work conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the various states shows excellent results during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927. An outstanding achievement was the large increase in the number of entire counties which have completed the tuberculin testing of all cattle within their boundaries.

On July 1 a total of 17,000,380 cattle in the United States were under supervision for the eradication of bovine tuberculosis. Besides this number considerably more than four million cattle are on waiting lists and will be tested as soon as the federal, state and county veterinary inspectors complete their work for those owners who signed up earlier for tuberculin testing.

The total number of cattle in herds accredited as free from tuberculosis exceeds 1,885,000. The work of tuberculosis eradication is going forward systematically in all states. During the last month of the fiscal year the inspectors engaged in tuberculin testing applied the test to more than 800,000 cattle, of which approximately 24,000 were found to be affected with the disease.

Plan for Determining Sex of Guinea Fowls

In raising guinea fowls, many amateurs and some not so amateurish, are puzzled when the time comes for marketing, as they find it difficult to select males and females to be retained for breeding purposes.

To a casual observer the male and female of the species are identical in shape, size and plumage. But a closer inspection will reveal that one has a richer color of the neck feathers, its wattles are more plump and firm, and the plumage in general is more compact. This is the male.

The "huck-wheat" call that is so commonly supposed to come from the male is, in fact, the cry of the female, usually when frightened or excited. She may be further detected by her rougher coat of feathers, and by her wattles which are somewhat pale and shrunken.

When guinea fowls are in the prime of condition, as they should be after spending the summer on free range, the difference between the male and female will not be so pronounced as it is in the early summer, just after mating time, and one should study the birds carefully to insure a balanced selection of stock for breeding purposes.

Harvest Silage Corn When Ears Are Mature

When corn is to be harvested for silage, it should be cut when the ears are mature but the leaves and stalks are still green. Corn cut and bound to be fed as dry forage should be cut at the same time. It should be allowed to cure in shocks until dry and then hauled in and piled. By this method the ears are mature and well filled and all of the forage value of the stalks is saved.

Corn should not be shocked out of the field until it has dried for several weeks, after it has quit growing. Otherwise the corn will be hard to shuck, will be apt to heat and mold and make poor feed. In shucking from the field it is a good practice to have a box in which to throw the better ears. These can be specially dried out and sorted for seed supply if field-selection has not been practiced, or if there is a market for seed corn.

Rye and Wheat Are Good as Spring Soiling Crop

For a spring soiling crop, fall-sown rye and wheat are excellent and are especially adaptable in the North. These can be followed with either barley or oats for an early summer soiling crop in the North. Sudan grass is, also, an excellent soiling crop for this season, and in the South sorghums and Japanese cane in particular are probably the best.

The big need for a soiling crop is in midsummer, however, when pastures are dry. For a short season crop at this time, corn is the leader in the corn belt. It is palatable, yields heavily, and remains in good condition over a long period of time.

Pleasant Trip, Except—

A Bloomington girl started out on a 1,000-mile trip. So optimistic was she that she not only did not carry a spare tire, but she did not have any repair tools either.

On her return recently she was asked how she enjoyed the trip which she took alone. Her answer was: "I didn't have a bit of tire trouble. I told you I wouldn't. And I only ran out of gas three times and out of money twice and I only got held up once."—Inglanapolis News.

Got His Money Back
