

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A telephone pay station was placed in the Mitterling restaurant, on Monday.

Service over the trolley line in Huntingdon has been discontinued after operating for twenty-one years.

Rain began falling Monday near noon, and continued at intervals until after ten o'clock at night. Rain was much needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Lloyd and little daughter, of Williamsport, were guests for a day of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Kryder, in town.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Finkle, of Cleveland, Ohio, who spent the past week at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Finkle, in Spring Mills, motored home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kerlin left for St. Petersburg, Florida, on Tuesday morning, where they will remain for the winter as has been their custom during the past few years.

J. E. Noll, who is farming near Centre Hall, was a Reporter caller on Monday and reported finishing cutting his field of corn which he thinks is one of the best in all his section.

Rev. J. Frederic Moore, of Lewisberry, drove to Centre Hall on Tuesday, and returned the following day with his mother, Mrs. Thos. L. Moore, who will spend a week or ten days with him.

Henry Potter and sister, Mrs. Margaret Kent, both residents here since last spring, have been patients in the Centre county hospital for two weeks. Their condition was reported as improving on Tuesday.

Mrs. Thomas A. Hosterman was seriously ill last week, neuralgia of the heart giving her much suffering for several days. Her condition at present is greatly improved, which fact her many friends are glad to note.

In addition to the two new Chevrolet cars sold to Elmer Hettlinger, mentioned elsewhere, the Homan Motor company recently delivered a new Oldsmobile sedan to Austin Confer, Spring Mills, and a Chevrolet truck to George Long, of Madisonburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stahl, of Altoona, were at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Mary Stahl, near town, from Saturday until Monday. Miss Marion Smith, of Howard, a public school teacher, was also a guest there during the same time.

John B. Myers, Esq., of Lock Haven, was appointed to the post of attorney in charge of municipal bond issues under an act passed by the last legislature. He is an old line Republican and was appointed by James F. Woodward, secretary of internal affairs.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Hosterman, who has been ill with diphtheria, continues to improve every day. The little fellow is in fine spirits and is awaiting the time with the remainder of the family when a release of quarantine regulations will become effective.

Paul Chronister, of Harrisburg, special representative of the Continental Auto Insurance Underwriters, was in town last week adjusting the claim on the auto collision between P. C. Frank and Miss Laura Runkle. Mr. Frank was insured with Mr. Chronister. This gentleman has written considerable automobile insurance in this section during the past month or more.

Four A. C. F. coaches passed through town on Tuesday on their way to Scranton where they will be used by the Scranton Bus company on fixed routes. The coaches have a capacity of thirty-two passengers each and were manufactured by the American Car and Foundry Company, Detroit, Mich. A gallon of Atlantic gas is good for eight miles. The tanks were supplied at the Boozer garage, 143 gallons being used.

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sharer, living east of town, continues to be in a serious condition. The last few days she has been able to move her left foot. While the little one's head moves from side to side, she has no control of it. The child has no appearance on the face of being ill, which indicates a healthy body except the parts attacked by the disease, infantile paralysis, since the middle of September.

The Presbyterian Manse was roofed with Arro-Lock shingles by the Williamsport Arro-Lock Shingle company, a branch of the Penn Lumber and Coal company. The work is being done by John Lockuff, Al. Lockuff and Walter Berry. The shingles are handled locally by D. A. Boozer, who purchases them in car lots. From the manse the men went to Tusseyville where the Lutheran-Reformed church and the William Bitner home will be covered. John Delaney, east of town, will also have his house covered with the Arro-Locks.

J. R. Brungart is a patient in the Geisinger Memorial hospital, Danville, to which institution he was taken on Friday. Mr. Brungart is suffering from a severe attack of erysipelas on his face and is in a very serious condition. Last spring he suffered much from a similar attack and was at the same hospital for a long while. It was only three days after the disease first appeared that his condition became alarming. Mr. Brungart is treasurer of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance company and is also officially connected with the bank in Rebersburg.

An attempt to collect on a $1000 accident insurance policy carried by the late Paul Noll, son of J. E. Noll, of near Centre Hall, who died as the result of injuries received when struck by an auto several months ago, was unsuccessful by the father of the youth. It seems that because the policy did not state specifically that it would pay on account of an accident sustained while riding a bicycle, the claim will not be paid. This proves that, before signing on the dotted line it is well to know what you are getting for your money. There are entirely too many insurance peddlers catching unwary and credulous people.

FLEMING VS. WALKER AT NOVEMBER ELECTION

Phillipsburg Decided Republican Judge-ship Contest—Also For Treasurer.

The following election comment is reprinted from Mr. Dorworth's Bellefonte Republican, and appeared on the first page, first column. The major portion of the statements can be checked up as correct by comparing them with the election returns as printed in any of the county papers.

The article is as follows: No material changes in the unofficial returns were noted in the official count of the Republican and Democratic vote cast at the primary election in Centre county on Sept. 20th, as a result of the primary decisions, the nominees for Judge who will be pitted against each other at the November election are M. Ward Fleming, of Phillipsburg, on the Republican ticket, and W. Harrison Walker, of Bellefonte, on the Democratic side.

Analysis of the election figures reveals that Judge Furst had a plurality of 657 over Fleming in the county outside of Phillipsburg, South Phillipsburg and Rush township. Fleming's lead of 1382 in his home section wiped out Judge Furst's plurality up to that line and gave the Phillipsburg man the nomination with a net margin of 725.

Judge Furst was a victor in 39 of the 65 election districts in the county. Fleming winning out in 26. Judge Furst won out in every district in Penns valley, and carried State College Borough, College township and Ferguson township by a vote of two to one. Fleming carried Bald Eagle valley except Howard borough. Worth township and Liberty township, in numerous instances the margin either way was small.

State College and Howard boroughs were among the districts witnessing the sharpest battles. State College business men got behind Judge Furst's campaign and scored a decisive victory.

Whereas Phillipsburg responded most generously to Fleming's appeal to support him as a "home town" candidate, Bellefonte failed to do anything like that for Judge Furst.

Phillipsburg's home-prise spirit gave Fleming 843 over Judge Furst. Bellefonte gave Judge Furst a lead over Fleming of only 63 instead of the 400 or more his friends had confidently anticipated. Had Bellefonte responded with the Phillipsburg spirit Judge Furst would have been nominated.

Just as Phillipsburg, South Phillipsburg and Rush township determined the defeat of Judge Furst, so did that section decide the defeat of Charlie Long, of Spring Mills, and the nomination of Howard Holtzworth, of Unionville, for County Treasurer. Long led Holtzworth by 122 in the county outside of Phillipsburg, South Phillipsburg and Rush township. Holtzworth, however, had a lead of 949 in those three districts and that easily gave him the nomination. In the closing weeks of the campaign Holtzworth had openly advocated Fleming's nomination, and Phillipsburg reciprocated for him.

Walker township was a bitterly contested district that was won for Judge Furst by 39. The Middle Precinct in the township was the hotbed. There Judge Furst won by a single vote, but the fight had been so warm that the result stood out conspicuously when the returns were received.

The star district for Judge Furst in the entire county was East Haines township, where Carl Motz returned a victory for him of 41 to 1. Motz had been importuned by Bellefonte friends to "lay off," but his answer was the 19 to 1 victory for Judge Furst.

There were 959 more Republican ballots cast for Judge than for Sheriff or Register, and 449 more than were voted for any other place on the ticket. The contest at the polls revealed just about the usual number of instances of "double crossing" attending any sharp fight. Feeling ran high in many districts. Judge Furst and his friends naturally viewed the result with disappointment, but find satisfaction in the knowledge that they conducted a clean campaign and refrained from personalities.

Breyers Sell to Sheffield.

The Breyer Ice Cream company, at Spring Mills, sold their entire plant at that place to the Sheffield Farms Company, and now is operating the plant. The same complement of men are operating the plant for the Sheffield people as did for the Breyers.

The price paid for the plant has not been given out, but it is thought to have been between $80,000 and $100,000.

They Called This Man a Visionary and Foolish Schemer.

In all the history of the world there is no more dramatic story than that of Christopher Columbus, whom the wise men of his day called a visionary and foolish schemer, but who gave the world a new measure of faith in the face of defeat and victory over superstition and ignorance and fear.

For that is the measure which Columbus day brings to Americans each year and it is the story of the dramatic achievement of Christopher Columbus and his message to the world which is so well summed up in the illustrated feature article, "1492 to 1927," by Elmo Scott Watson in this issue of The Reporter. Master Christ Morrow, son of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Morrow, reached his ninth birthday on Saturday, and to celebrate the event a dozen or more of Christ's school chums were invited to a party in which a birthday cake and everything had a part.

Oiling and chipping the State Highway between Old Fort and Union county line is in progress since Tuesday. The chips are being manufactured at the Spyker quarries and large quantities have been hauled by five-ton trucks to convenient points along the route. The oiling began at the Union county line, the car of oil being located at Coburn.

Mention was made last week of a large sum of money being held in New York city awaiting the heirs of John Nicholas Emerick, a fur dealer, and partner of John Jacob Astor. One of the interested parties here wrote to the New York World, making inquiry as to the truth of the statements concerning the estate. Information was received that the estate existed and that a will had been found. Information from another source states for a certainty that the will had been found in a trunk handed down for several generations. A communication was received by C. W. Boozer, of Centre Hall, a relative by marriage, from one of the Emericks in Illinois who is a direct heir, stating that he had seen the will and that it was a well written document. The Emericks in Penns Valley are doubling their efforts to trace their ancestry with the hope that it will bring them a portion of the millions in cold cash held in New York city.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

KILL POULTRY WORMS.—Many flocks of pullets, raised this year, are found to be infested with worms. None of the many remedies are giving entirely satisfactory results. Kamala capsules for tape worms and nicotinic sulphate capsules for round worms have proved the most satisfactory of any of the known remedies.

SAVE GREEN TOMATOES.—Before the first heavy frosts are expected to hit your garden, pick all the green tomatoes which are mature in size and lay them away for ripening, say vegetable gardeners of the Pennsylvania State College. Remember that a warm, light place will hasten ripening, while a cool, dark place will retard the process. By carefully following this information, ripe tomatoes may be enjoyed for the rest of the season.

PLAN FOR NEW INSECT CONTROL

TROL—When picking apples pay attention to the presence of red spider or injuries of other insects, such as leaf rollers, codling moth, curculio, and scale insects, so that orchard practices in the spring can be planned to control such pests.

KNOW PROFIT AND LOSS—October is the harvest month of the year. It is then that the gardener sees a part of the results of his labor. If he has been systematic he knows what he has saved in dollars and cents by raising his own vegetables and a part of his fruit, but it will be impossible for him to estimate the real riches which his flowers, vegetables, and backyard fruit have brought to him during the past season.

How Times Change

A good story was told by Rev. Dr. Black at the Edinburgh section of the Scottish Burns club on the occasion of the annual dinner. Doctor Black, on going to preach in a country kirk, was asked by the beadle, "Ha'e ye your sermon written?" When the reverend gentleman replied that he had, the beadle exclaimed, "I'm rale glad, because when thae folk come we' a paper, ye ken they'll stop when that stops; but when they ha'e nae paper ava' the Almichty Himsel' disna ken when they're likely tae feenish." Not so long ago the written sermon was anathema to the Scotchman.—London
