

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cupples were in Lewistown, their former home, on Sunday.

Unless you mean to introduce the three-term system in Centre county, cast your vote for Claude Herr for Prothonotary.

The State Game Commission reports there is no foundation for the rumor that rabbits in Pennsylvania have rabbit fever, also known as tularemia.

Among the "live stock" advertised at public sale by L. M. Royer, east of Old Fort, are several hundred white leg-horn pullets.

The Ladies' Bible class of the local Reformed church will hold a bake sale in the I. O. O. F. room, Saturday, November 12th.

Ernest J. Treaster, farmer living near Potters Mills, fell while walking about his home, resulting in a broken shoulder blade.

Miss Elizabeth Bradford, on Wednesday morning, went to New Kingston, near Harrisburg, where she is a guest of the Rev. J. F. Blingman family.

Mrs. Charles Faust, of Centre Hill, was a caller on Monday on her way to teachers' institute. She is a State Normal graduate and is now teaching at Tusseyville.

Mrs. W. W. Kerlin was taken to the Clearfield hospital on Monday, and after treatment for a week or more expects to undergo an operation to be performed by Dr. Waterworth.

It is reported that Edward Clark, living on his father's farm at Houserville, will move to the Grefner farm, west of Centre Hall, now tenanted by Harry Snively.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Spyer and children, on Monday evening, went to Marklesburg where they remained for a day or two with Mrs. Spyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Donaldson.

From beginning to end October was a most beautiful month. Many of the October days were ideal. Much vegetation had completed its natural life before being hit by frost.

It will be twenty-one years next week since Joseph C. Dale was murdered on Nittany Mountain. Who committed the cowardly deed of shooting him in the back while seated in his buggy, continues a mystery.

Guy W. Jacobs came in from Steubenville, Ohio, on Friday night, to see his mother, who broke her hip in a fall a short time ago. On Sunday Mr. Jacobs left for Georgia to attend a convention of ice manufacturers.

The Misses Mae, Hazel and Martha McClellan recently returned home after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Markle, in Altoona. The young ladies also visited at the R. S. Boal home, in the same city.

While hunting in the Penns Cave district a few stray shot from a gun discharged by Ralph Homan struck his brother, Ernest Homan. One pellet hit near his eye and one or more on the body. The wounds are slight and are not thought to result in anything serious.

The Woman's Missionary Society and Mission Band of the local Evangelical church will give an entertainment as their Thank-offering Service on Sunday evening, November 6th, at 7:30 o'clock. A good program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited to come.

Lee Frazier, Esq., accompanied by two Painesville, Ohio, friends, one an attorney and the other a merchant, drove to Penns Valley and for a few days were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Foster W. Frazier, parents of the former, who live along Sinking Creek. The party was out for pleasure.

That unusually sprightly walk of Cleve Brungart's is due almost wholly to the fact that since Wednesday morning he is papa—papa of a son. The boy has not been named as yet. It is predicted that he will have the best attention from his three sisters, the youngest of whom is about twelve years of age.

John Meeker is back from the Johns Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, where he was operated on for enlarged and infected tonsils, on October 22. The operation was performed at 8:00 A. M., and between 12:00 and 2:00 on the same day severe hemorrhages followed, the condition of the patient being very serious. He is now getting along nicely at the home of his mother, Mrs. Clara Meeker, near Potters Mills, and no further trouble is anticipated.

Clarence Musser, in the Penns Cave district finished his morning's hunt on Tuesday by bringing to ground an 18-pound turkey gobbler. The bird flew up before being seen by the hunter. Mr. Musser met all kinds of game previous to this, a lone grey squirrel being the only game in his sack—rabbits, pheasants, squirrels—shot at but missed, and a herd of deer stalked through the woods apparently for his amusement. The big gobbler was met near his home when the hunt was almost over.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Paradise Evangelical church met last Thursday evening at the home of their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. M. W. Dayton, Spring Mills. After the transaction of the regular business by the society, a social hour was enjoyed with music and refreshments. There were 35 people present. The society hasn't been organized long but is progressing because of the willingness on the part of everyone to do something for their church.

LYKENS LAWYER SCORES METHOD OF KILLING DOES

Says Kentucky Backwoodsmen Can Show State How to Trap Deer.

The controversy as to the method being employed by the State Game Commission in ridding the state of surplus does, was again attacked by Attorney H. E. Buffington, counsel for Justice of the Peace J. Allen Barrett, of Lykens, who led a fight against the commission's plan of using sharpshooters.

Replying to the commission's challenge that Barrett demonstrate how a deer could be trapped and shipped to other parts of the State, where forage is abundant, as he recommended, Buffington said: "In the early summer of 1913, a carload of fifty deer, safely crated, was shipped to Lykens Secretary Kalp-russ and Bert Lightner, game warden, told us these deer were trapped and shipped from the wilds of Kentucky. We who released them certainly know they were wild."

"If the present Game Commission don't know how to capture and crate a deer, why don't they send to Kentucky for instructions?"

"Any of those back-woods colored men at $5 a day would gladly come to Pennsylvania and supervise the warden trappers."

"What the southern Negro can successfully do, the Pennsylvania warden ought to make do."

"Is it to shield the pride and ignorance of paid subordinates whose knowledge is limited to only one way of capturing the eight-foot fence that the board is employing the slaughter-pen method on the Pennsylvania does?"

"Why don't they learn and try the Kentucky method? The Michigan plan? The Mexican scheme? Or the old Pennsylvania salt-lick trap to be operated by our native backwoodsmen?"

"To trap and ship to barren spots means work and skill, while to go out and kill the feeding doe is much 'easy picking.'"

"Where farm crops are being over-run by deer, if the deer must be killed to prevent it, why not deputize those who are injured to do the killing on their own fields—and let them set traps?"

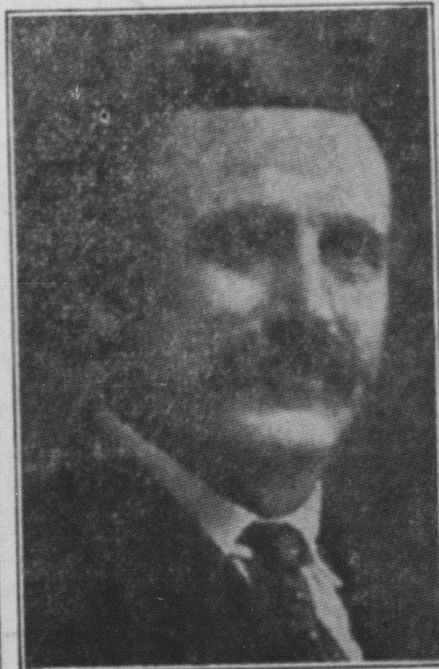

"The farmer will see that he is amply repaid in meat for the injury sustained. Authorize the farmer on the fringe of the forest to protect his fields with the rifle and also to keep his kill, and all complaints will cease."

"The surviving does will also soon learn and keep away from the death fields."

"Why not authorize the 'Shanty Meat Plan.'"

"Let the hunters eat doe meat in camp."

"Grant to every hunter's camp, cabin or crew composed of from three to ten men, the privilege of killing one doe and eating it in the woods. For every eleven or more men, let them kill two does, and at the end of the hunt no doe meat to be taken out of the woods unless it is first cooked. All doe heads to be destroyed immediately, so that no game warden of officious tendencies can charge a mistake. Let the hunters get and eat their own fresh meat in the mountains and enjoy it free from official annoyance. If the game is too thick, let the hunters whose license money made it so, do the thinning out."

Foot Troubles affect the whole system

Don't neglect your feet

Free Foot Comfort Demonstration

NOVEMBER 8th and 9th

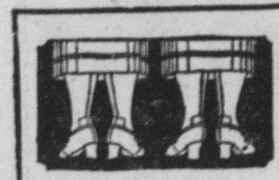

By an expert from New York

Pains in the feet go through the nervous system to remote parts of the body, causing distress which nothing will remove till the real trouble is corrected.

Whatever may be the cause of your suffering—weak or broken down arches, weak ankles, painful heels, crooked or overlapping toes, excessive perspiration, corns, callouses or bunions—you can rid yourself of it permanently and quickly.

On the above date a Foot Comfort Expert from the Staff of Dr. Wm. M. Scholl, will be at our store. He is thoroughly trained in Dr. Scholl's methods of foot correction and he will make Podo-graph impressions which reveal the exact nature of any foot trouble, and demonstrate how the correct Dr. Scholl Appliance or Remedy will relieve you.

FREE SAMPLES Come in and get a free sample of Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads for Corns. They give instant relief and remove the cause—friction and pressure.

Dr. Scholl's Walk-Strate Heel Pads correct faulty walking and standing, and prevent crooked and run-over heels. Absorb shock. Saves repair bills. 35c per pair.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads give instant relief from painful corns. This medicated, antiseptic, protective, healing, safe and sure—35c.
