Mrs. Ella Gardner, of Pennsylvania Furnace, is a guest of her niece, Mrs. H. W. Potter, in town.

Miss Mildred Palmer spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Palmer, at Potters Mills.

The T. F. Royer farm, at Sprucetown, was bid to $3000 at the public sale held on Saturday, but Mr. Royer refused to let it go at that price.

Henry Noll, the Pleasant Gap aviator, was taking up passengers from a field beyond Milroy, where the Kratzer plane is impounded.

J. Shannon Boozer attended a meeting of salesmen of Firestone tires, held at the Penn Alto, Altoona, on Tuesday. A five o'clock turkey dinner was served.

John H. Royer, of Altoona, came here during last week and until Monday was a guest of his brother, T. F. Royer, at Centre Hill, and Frank D. Lee, in town.

Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, of Centre Hall, on Tuesday underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils at the private hospital conducted by Dr. J. V. Foster, at State College.

Mrs. W. W. Kerlin was brought to her home here on Friday from the Clearfield hospital, after an operation for the removal of a goiter. Her condition now indicates permanent relief.

Mrs. Grover Weaver, of near town, entertained the Service Class of the Lutheran Sunday school, of which she is a member, last Thursday evening. Refreshments were served.

Those who visited the Thomas Delaney home last Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCauley, Mrs. Reuben Loveland, from Lamar; Mrs. John Decker and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, from Spring Mills.

Miss Miriam Moore, a student in the Teachers' College at Shippensburg, is spending a ten-day vacation at her home here. Her brother, Rev. Frederic Moore, of Lewisberry, is also expected home today.

Andy C. Dunlap and wife, of Spring Mills, were guests of Mrs. Dunlap's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Diehl, at Mifflinburg, and sat around a board from which was served a twenty-nine pound wild turkey.

At Sunset club house, on Saturday, Edward Durst had as his guests State Commissioner of Forests and Waters Charles E. Dorworth and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Smith, of Williamsport, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, of town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Alexander are spending a week to ten days at the home of their son, Harold O. Alexander, at Wenonah, New Jersey, where the recent visit of the Stock caused the grandparents to decide upon the trip.

A. F. Vonada and son, Harry Vonada, of Spring Mills, were in town on Monday and paid a visit to this office. The junior Mr. Vonada is branching out in his work as a taxidermist, in which line of work he has become proficient.

Jonas Foust, of Pottsville, employed by the Bell Telephone company in that city, accompanied by Miss Ella Rudloff, also of Pottsville, arrived here on Monday and are now guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. George Boul, at Potters Mills.

William H. Baird was a brief caller on Tuesday, having come to town on a bit of business. He and Mrs. Baird arranged to eat their Thanksgiving dinner with their son, Prof. Lester E. Baird, supervising principal of the Mahaffee schools.

Tuesday and Wednesday were unusually warm for this season of the year.

Amanda C. Letzel, of Millmont, will spend the winter at Riverside, Illinois, 345 Blackhawk Road.
