NEW CONGRESS SEATS TO BE FILLED

Five Senators Will Merely Be Graduated from Lower House. Many new faces will be seen in the Seventieth Congress when that body meets on Monday. There will also be some old faces in new places. In both cases, seventy-three seats will have occupants other than those of the last session. Five of the new Senators, however, are merely moving from one side of the Capitol to the other. They are Hayden, of Arizona; Barkley, of Kentucky; Tydings, of Maryland; Thomas, of Oklahoma, and Vard, of Pennsylvania, all of whom were members of the House in the Sixty-ninth Congress. Senator-elect Smith, of Illinois, also was a member of the House several years ago. Senator-elect Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, America's most elastic statesman, who was bounced out of the Senate in a contested election case last year, is ready to bounce back again, this time with an election certificate which cannot be disputed. The new Senators who have never been seen before in the national legislative body are Waterman, of Colorado; Steiwer, of Oregon; Blaine, of Wisconsin; Black, of Alabama, and Wagner, of New York. Nine of the fifty-nine incoming members of the House have had previous terms and belong to the "come-back" class. They are Major, of Illinois, Fulbright, of Missouri; Howard, of Oklahoma; Casey and Kent, of Pennsylvania; Guyer, of Kansas; Clancy, of Michigan; Clark, of New York, and Hughes, of West Virginia. James M. Beck will occupy the seat made vacant by the election of William S. Vare, of Philadelphia, to the Senate. Mr. Beck is well known to most members of Congress by reason of his service as Solicitor General of the United States. James M. Hazlett had been elected to fill the vacancy, but he resigned in October without ever having taken the oath of office. Since the last election five members of the House have died. Their seats with one exception have been filled by the election of new members of the same political party. The exception is S. Harrison White, Democrat, of Denver, elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William N. Valle. Mr. White comes to Congress as an avowed "wet," pledged to the modification of the Volstead act. Coming from the heart of the arid West, his activities undoubtedly will be watched with much interest during the wet-and-dry clashes of the session.

DEATHS

SHOOK—Andrew James Shook died at his home at Spring Mills on Tuesday evening at 8:45 o'clock from a complication of diseases from which he suffered for several months. Interment will be made after funeral services conducted by Rev. Lewis Leshner, pastor of the Aaronburg Lutheran church, on Saturday, the hour at this time not having been determined. Mr. Shook was a member of the Penn Hall congregation, a part of the charge named. The deceased was a son of Philip and Catharine Harter Shook, and was born and reared in Gregg township. His wife, who bore marriage was Miss Jennie Herring, survives him, but and George Shook, at Penn Hall, are no children. Daniel Shook, at Coburn, surviving brother. Mr. Shook was a farmer by occupation and followed that vocation until the time of his death. He was a justice of the peace in Gregg township for several terms, and was again re-elected in November. He took an active part in all public affairs in the community in which he lived, and was regarded a man of good judgment and a safe leader. BROWN—Mrs. Jefferson W. Brown died at her home in Lewistown on Wednesday of last week after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were held on Saturday from the home and interment made at Milroy, the Presbyterian minister at Milroy, pastor of the deceased, officiating. Mrs. Brown, before marriage, was Miss Estella Krise, daughter of the late Prof. W. A. Krise, of this place. She was aged 53 years, 7 months and 15 days. Beside the husband four children survive here, namely: Darlington, Milroy; Irene, wife of A. C. Mayes, Lewistown; Samuel, Milroy; and Jefferson, at home also four grandchildren. Warren S. Krise, Esq., of Johnstown; Mrs. W. S. Slick, Centre Hall, and Mrs. Elsie Reish, Lewistown, are brother and sisters, respectively, surviving the deceased. Mrs. Brown was a member of the Milroy Presbyterian church and of the Lewistown Chapter of the Eastern Star.

TAYLOR—Mrs. Jennie Taylor, for many years a resident of Bellwood, died at an Altoona hospital, following an illness of some years with a complication of diseases. She was a daughter of Joseph H. and Sarah A. Hoffman, and was born at Zion, this county. Her survivors include one daughter, Ida J., at home; also her mother and three brothers and sisters: Henry G. and W. S. Hoffman, Miss Beattie and Mrs. W. C. Miller, all of Bellwood; Mrs. William Switzer, of Tyrone; Miss Elizabeth of Albany, N. Y., and Misses Estelle and Grace, of Denver, Colo. SMITH—Mrs. Sara Jane Smith died at her home in Northwood from a complication of diseases. She had been in failing health for a number of years. Mrs. Smith was born on Feb. 4, 1859, in Half Moon Valley. In 1891 she was united in marriage with Geo. B. Smith, who, with two sons, Robert, of Northwood, and Victor, of Tyrone, survive. Two sisters and three brothers also survive. Funeral services were held on November 13, with interment in a Northwood cemetery.

MCCORMICK—Mrs. Mary K. McCormick died at her home in State College, following a lingering illness resulting from a stroke of apoplexy, aged 72 years, 6 months and 6 days. She was born at Waddle, a daughter of Jacob and Mary Behrer. Surviving in addition to a son, Chester, of State College, are several brothers and sisters. Funeral services were held from the Lutheran church at State College, Rev. J. F. Harkins officiating. Interment was made in the Pine Hall cemetery.

80th Birthday; Surprise Party. A few friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Rossmann, at Tusseyville, one evening last week, in honor of her eightieth birthday. Refreshments served consisted of sandwiches, fruit salad, cake and candy. The following were present: Mrs. Mary Rossmann, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Swartz and daughter Mary, Mrs. Arthur Holderman, Mrs. C. P. Ramer and son Charles, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stutterbeck and daughter Mary, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Slutterbeck and daughter Marjorie, Mrs. D. G. Fortney and daughter Mary, Mrs. William Martz, Mrs. M. F. Rossmann, Mrs. William Fisher, Mrs. G. R. Melis, Paul Emenhizer and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wert, W. F. Rockey, Myra Rockey, Walter and Mary Horner, Misses Sarah and Sue Eroyd, Roxanna Kline, Mildred Kline, Goldie Stover.

Governor Fisher on Christmas Seal. The fight against tuberculosis has benefited all the residents of Pennsylvania, according to a statement made by Governor Fisher in announcing his acceptance of the honorary chairmanship of the Christmas Seal committee for Pennsylvania. The governor said: "The great united campaign against tuberculosis has been of unusual value to Pennsylvania because it has benefited every community and all the citizens of each community have profited in various ways. "Foremost in this effort stands the saving of thousands of lives annually which means so much in the family life of the State. Economically, the campaign has benefited practically all citizens, including the merchant, the manufacturer and the worker. "The bright little Christmas Seal has represented the heart of our people in this fight against tuberculosis, a preventable disease, but which is no respecter of persons. In this, the twentieth annual appearance of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal, I am confident it will be welcomed as an important aid in further reducing the ravages of the White Plague."

PENNSY TO DISCONTINUE PASSENGER SERVICE

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company will discontinue passenger service on its Milroy county and Centre county branch between Lewistown Junction, on the Main Line, and Milroy, by the first of the New Year. The branch is twelve miles in length and has been in operation for many years. Kishacoquillas Railroad between Belleville and Reedsville, will operate a passenger train over the M. & C. Branch from Reedsville to Lewistown Junction, and will take care of the passenger traffic, baggage, express and mail. The abandonment of the service by the Pennsylvania is attributed to the automobile-passenger cars, buses and trucks. Freight trains will continue to carry to market grain, limestone, etc.

New Car Sales

The Homan Motor company, of town, reports the sale of the following new cars during the past week: An Oldsmobile roadster to C. J. Harter, Centre Hall; Chevrolet roadster to Clayton Jones, State College; half-ton Chevrolet truck to John Patterson, Boalsburg; 1 1/2-ton truck to Lloyd Smith, of Milledale.

Mrs. Margaret Runkle Speechless

A clipping from a Shamokin paper forwarded to this office by Bruce Runkle, of near town, gives this information: Stanley Runkle, the well known and popular automobile salesman, was given a severe mental shock yesterday morning about 11 o'clock when he reached his home in the Shade apartments, 15 South Market street, and found his esteemed mother sitting speechless in a chair, having been suddenly stricken with a paralytic stroke while she presumably was attempting to reach a telephone in her efforts to summon help before she was entirely helpless. A doctor was immediately summoned and the stricken woman carried to bed, where she lies in a precarious condition today. Mrs. Margaret Runkle, aged 65 years, is the widow of the late Robert D. Runkle, who died in 1918. She is the sister-in-law of Sheriff Runkle, who died at Milledale about a week ago. About a year ago she sustained a stroke, but had greatly improved under treatment. She resides with her son and daughter, Miss Louise B. Runkle, stenographer in the law office of Attorney M. Gillespie.

BOALSBURG ITEMS

Charles Fisher and son, Charles, Jr., of Danville, were at the Fisher home for a few days last week. J. D. Mayes, wife and daughter, of Milton, were week-end visitors in town. Mrs. James Fry, of Philadelphia, and Samuel Kaup, of Altoona, were guests of their mother, Mrs. Joanna Kaup, last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lucas, of Akron, Ohio, spent the Thanksgiving vacation with friends in town. Mrs. John Jacobs, daughter and son, of State College, were guests at the Leland Walker home on Sunday. William Nevel and mother, of Colyer, moved into the L. K. Dale residence, vacated by Wm. Stuart and family, who moved into the Mrs. E. E. Stuart apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, of Maine, are here for an indefinite visit with their daughter, Mrs. O. F. Smith. Dr. and Mrs. George C. Hall are arranging to leave this week for their home in Wilmington, Delaware. Miss Anna Swenney is spending part of this week at Centre Hall. Mes Virginia Dale, of the Branch, and her cousin, Miss Jane McGirk, of Lakemont Terrace, were callers in town on Saturday.

REBERSBURG

Clymer Tyson, who holds a position in Harrisburg, is at the home of his parents, William Tyson. Orion Reish was up from Stroudsburg on a visit to his parents. Wilbur and Kermit Meyer, who are employed at Williamsport, spent several days at the home of their father, H. A. Meyer. Preston Ziegler, who teaches school at McAllisterville, and his friend, Elmer Losch, were at the home of William Ziegler for their Thanksgiving vacation. Harry Detwiler, from near Lancaster, where he teaches in a Vocational school; Alma Detwiler, a nurse at State College, and Richard Detwiler, a Penn State student, were at the home of their mother, Mrs. Carrie Detwiler, for the week-end. Luella Gophart, who was home over the week-end, took sick Sunday night and was unable to go to State College Monday where she is employed as a stenographer. Mrs. Will Tarbet, daughter Phyllis and Guy Vonada, from Pittsburgh, were guests at the Calvin Mallory home recently. Mrs. Kelley and daughter, Mary Louise, from State College, were at the home of Mrs. Kelley's mother, Mrs. Mattie Meyer, for several days.

Please remember, when thinking of Christmas-gift giving, a year's subscription to the home paper will be very acceptable to some relative or friend far from home.

The Centre Reporter, $1.50 a year.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. S. S. Kreamer, of Lewistown, came to Centre Hall on Wednesday for a short visit. Mrs. John O. Diehl, of Mifflinburg, who was in town for the day on Wednesday, found time to call at this office. Walter R. Hosterman joined the Laurel Run Panthers, a hunting club from State College, on Wednesday, for the deer hunt in Bear Meadows. A card received at this office from D. Ross Bushman requests the address of the Reporter changed to R. I. Box 211, San Diego, California. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Puff and three children were at the home of Mrs. Puff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fetterolf for a few days, returning home on Monday. Raymond Anderson, of Greensburg, is a guest this week of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Kifer, in town, and will spend most of the time hunting in the Seven Mountains, in company with Mr. Kifer. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Moyer and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Runkle, made a trip to Vandergriff, Armstrong county, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Allen Moyer, brother of Mr. Moyer and Mrs. Runkle. A four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ross, of Madisonburg, was taken to the Centre County hospital, on Saturday, suffering from emphysema (pus on the lungs). Dr. Morrow had the patient in charge. Judge James C. Furst is holding court in Philadelphia this week. He will return prior to Friday, at which time the recounting of the ballots cast for judge in two of the three Phillipsburg wards will begin. Among the numerous applicants seeking to become clerks to the board of county commissioners is E. R. Hancock, of Phillipsburg, who at the primaries was a Republican candidate for the nomination for prothonotary. Mrs. George Robertson and sister, Mrs. H. J. Boon, of Hartford, Connecticut, arrived here on Saturday by auto and are guests of their father, B. D. Britshin. Mrs. Robertson later on will go to Florida for the winter. The "Glad Girls" Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will have a sour-kraut supper on Thursday, December 8th, from 5 to 8 o'clock; price of supper, 50c. For those who do not like sour-kraut there will be something desirable. Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bradford and daughter Joyce, and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Booser comprised an auto party to visit Miss Flora Love at the Presbyterian Home for ladies at Holidaysburg. There is a bit of rumor going the rounds that Roy Wilkinson, defeated candidate for third term for prothonotary, may make application to the court for a recount of ballots cast at the last election in one or more of the three districts in Gregg township. It is presumed almost the impossible that fraud would be perpetrated by a Democratic election board or that a Democratic elector would offer false statements to obtain the privilege to vote.
