FUGITIVE CONVICT

SURRENDERS SELF

Lewistown Man Who Escaped from Rockview Prison Three Years Ago Gives Self Up, Revealing That He Has Developed Troublesome Conscience.

William Baker, 21, of Lewistown, who escaped from the Western penitentiary at Rockview more than two years ago, surrendered to police in Philadelphia on Monday. He said his conscience bothered him.

Baker was committed from Mifflin county for stealing an automobile and jail breaking. He became a trusty at the penitentiary and was sent to Rockview prison, where there are no walls. He walked off the prison grounds on December 6, 1926, and had a day's start before he was found missing at the night check of prisoners.

Baker told police that he resolved to surrender after writing a letter to his father, Howard Baker, saying his conscience bothered him and he was prepared to return to jail and finish his sentence.

SPECIAL COURT TUESDAY.

Judge Fleming called a special term of court for Tuesday, the principal business transacted being hearing testimony and other features of divorce cases.

Henry Gramley, aged 17 years, was sent to the Huntingdon Reformatory. He pleaded guilty to having committed various depredations in Miles township, among them being the theft of a bicycle. He was arrested and taken to the Bellefonte jail last week.

William Baker, who broke away from the penitentiary about two years ago and a few days ago surrendered himself to authorities in Philadelphia, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue, was given the usual sentence by Judge Fleming.

About eleven o'clock on Monday forenoon a slight rain began falling, and as it fell it froze, making the highways exceedingly dangerous for automobilists. A number of cars on the way over the mountain were obliged to be halted and chains applied. Later a thicker coating of ice was cut up by traffic, making travel less dangerous. During Monday night all traces of the ice disappeared.

The only petty theft reported from this locality during the past week was a can of milk lifted from a cooling trough at the home of John D. Homan, the local dairyman. It is presumed the milk was used for making ice cream.

William H. Keller, an aged citizen in this place who for some months has been cared for at the State College hospital, has been very ill during the past week or more.

DEATHS

GOHEEN.—Mrs. Katharine (Woods) Goheen, wife of the late Wm. M. Goheen, was found cold in death at her home at Boalsburg, on Monday at 4 P. M. The actual time of her death will never be known. Mrs. Goheen appeared to be in good health and last week enjoyed a day's trip to Lewis town with her son, and also spent part of Saturday on a shopping trip to Bellefonte with her daughter, and attended services in her home church Sunday afternoon. Monday, about 10 o'clock, neighbors noticed Mrs. Goheen walking in the yard. At 4 o'clock in the afternoon her daughter, Mrs. Tusssey, went to call on her mother, and on entering the house found the fires out and her mother absent. Going to the rear porch she was shocked to find her mother lying cold in death, the result of a heart attack. Just two months ago Mrs. Goheen had gone to her daughter's home for a short time and on her return found her husband, Wm. M. Goheen, dead in his chair.

Katharine Woods Goheen was the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Matthew Woods, and was born at Curwensville, June 18, 1850. January 28, 1875, she was married to Wm. M. Goheen. Their married life was spent in the vicinity of Boalsburg, where they have many friends who mourn their passing. Surviving are the two children, Matthew W. and Margaretta, wife of R. Edwin Tusssey; four grandchildren, Richard Goheen, Wm. Mary Helen and Katharina Tusssey, and these brothers and sisters: Hon. Cyrus E. Woods, of Greensburg; Mrs. M. A. Woods, Boalsburg; Mrs. Alice Magoffin, Holidayburg; Miss Helen F. Woods, of San Diego, Calif.

Mrs. Goheen was a member of the Presbyterian church for many years, and her pastor, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, will officiate at the funeral services at the home Thursday at 10:30 A. M. Burial in the local cemetery. (From the Reporter's Boalsburg correspondent.)

KELLER.—Mrs. Margaret Mease Keller passed out of this life Friday afternoon at the home of a daughter, Mrs. William Ott, in Bellefonte, where she had been staying during an illness that dates back to early last fall. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Ott home. Rev. W. J. Wagner, her pastor, and Rev. Arnold, officiating. Interment was made at Pleasant Gap, long the home of Mrs. Keller.

The deceased was a daughter of Martin Mease and was born and reared in the vicinity of Pleasant Gap. Her marriage to Ephraim Keller took place more than sixty years ago, the husband dying in June of last year, at his home at Pleasant Gap. Eight children survive the mother: Mrs. William Ott, Mrs. D. M. Kline, Mrs. J. W. Garbrick, Martin M. Keller, Mrs. Ralph Noll, all of Bellefonte; Mrs. A. D. Smeltzer, of Pleasant Gap, and D. W. and D. P. Keller, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Keller was well known about here, she and her late husband having lived west of Old Fort on a farm for a number of years. They both were charter members of Progress Grange, and later became members of Logan Grange. Mrs. Keller was long an active member of the Lutheran church. She was aged 73 years, 1 month and 11 days.

KENT.—Mrs. Margaret Nancy Kent died on Sunday forenoon at the home of her brother, Henry R. Potter, in Centre Hall, from complications arising from a fall about ten days prior. Interment was made at Centre Hall on Wednesday forenoon, her pastor, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, of the Presbyterian church, being the officiating minister. Interment was made in the cemetery here.

Mrs. Kent was the daughter of Joshua and Mary Taylor Potter, and was one of nine children born to them at the Potter homestead, west of Centre Hall. She was aged 85 years, 8 months and 15 days. Her husband, Dr. E. A. Kent, died in December, 1918. There were no children. The couple lived for some time at Brooklyn, this State, and later at the Potter homestead. After her husband's death she continued to live with her brother and about a year ago they moved to Centre Hall.

Two brothers survive the deceased: Henry R. Potter, previously mentioned, and Joshua T. Potter, also of Centre Hall.

FRAZIER.—William Henry Frazier, after an illness of several weeks, died early Friday morning at the Centre Hall hotel where he had been an all-around man for sixteen years. He was aged 72 years, 3 months and 25 days. Funeral services were held at the hotel Tuesday afternoon, and interment made in the local cemetery.

The deceased was a son of Daniel and Elizabeth (Emerick) Frazier, and was born near Madisonburg. He was never married. Three brothers and a sister survive him: James, Wellington, Kansas; Jeremiah, Sharon, Kansas; Foster W., Spring Mills; Mrs. Carrie Rimmer, Pleasant Gap. Also two half-brothers: Charles and Alfred, and a half-sister, Mrs. Margaret Knapp.

BECK.—John H. Beck, merchant at Nittany, and a well known citizen of Centre county, died Saturday night. Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Beck was long on the board of directors of the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Centre County.

AUMAN.—Jacob Auman, a resident of Penn township, west of Coburn, died Friday afternoon, aged a little over 86 years. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning. He was a son of Philip and Rebecca (Blasner) Auman, long deceased.

GILL.—Edward Gill, aged about fifty-nine years, a son of Amos Gill, died Sunday night of intestinal nephritis.

Spring Mills vs. Mifflinburg. The Gregg Township Vocational School will play Mifflinburg High School in basket ball at Spring Mills, Saturday, January 21st, at 7:30 P. M. Both girls' and boys' teams will play. Mifflinburg is reported as having one of the best teams in a number of years, therefore two hard games are anticipated.
