MURDER TRIAL OPENS IN CLINTON COUNTY COURT

Nine Jurors Selected After 29 Are Called to Try Joseph Huntington, Accused of Murder of Herman Klobe.

The trial of Joseph Huntington on the charge of murder opened in Lock Haven on Tuesday in the Clinton county court. The task of selecting a jury took up most of the day's session.
The charge of murder followed the death on August 17 last of Herman H.
Klobe, 72, who with his son, Floyd C.
Klobe, had engaged in a fight the evening before with Huntington on the latter's place in Sugar Valley. According to the story told the officers at the time, the dispute arose over the payment of rent to the Klobes by Huntington. In the altercation that ensued, Huntington is alleged to have used an axe upon the two men, both of whom were taken to the Lock Haven hospital, the elder Klobe dying a few days later as a result of head wounds. The son has since recovered.
Huntington fled, but was taken into custody later near White Deer in Union county. He claimed that the blows were struck in self defense, that he had been employed to go to Sugar Valley to make moonshine whiskey and that the dispute arose when he demanded payment for his work.
State police at the time said that Huntington, before going to Sugar Valley had been engaged in a brawl at Sunbury, inflicting cuts on a young man, Huntington several years ago was a member of the police force at Scranton.

At noon on Tuesday nine jurors had been selected, twenty-nine having been called and twenty rejected. Following completion of the selection of a jury, the case was expected to go on trial late that afternoon.

Reading Churches Plan Merger.

That three Reading Reformed churches are ready to entertain proposals for a merger and the construction of a large edifice for the combined congregations was admitted a few days ago by Rev. C. E. Creitz, of St. Paul's Memorial Church.

The other congregations involved are the First and Second Reformed. The Second church was richly endowed by the late George F. Buer, Reading railroad magnate. The trio own realty worth more than $1,000,000.

The Pennsylvania Publishers' Association will hold its fourth annual convention in Harrisburg on Friday and Saturday. The association includes about 225 of Pennsylvania's leading newspapers.

DEATHS

Inez Sharer Loses Brave Fight.

The brave fight little Inez Sharer put up for her life won for her many friends during the four months of her sickness. While she appeared to have conquered a severe attack of infantile paralysis that affected every limb and for weeks was unable to as much as move her head, her reduced physical condition became prey to pneumonia and after ten days suffering from it she died Thursday afternoon of last week. The little body was laid to rest on Saturday afternoon in the local cemetery, Rev. S. F. Greenhoe officiating.

The little one was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Sharer, living on the Keller farm east of Centre Hall, and was aged three years, 8 months, and 27 days. The fond parents did everything in their power to save the child's life, and provided the care of a registered nurse during most of her four months' illness. Though very young, she knew what death meant, and expressed a desire and supported it with strong determination to live.
She was never downcast in all her sufferings. She was the sunshine in the little family, and will always be retained in the memory of those and by all who by chance learned to know how hard she battled against great odds for her little life.

KELLER.—William H. Keller passed away at the State College Hospital, on Sunday, after a prolonged illness, the immediate cause of death having been myocarditis, one of the many forms of heart disease. The body was brought to the home of the deceased in Centre Hall from where funeral services were held on Tuesday forenoon, Rev. D. H.
Keener of the Reformed church officiating.

Mr. Keller came to the valley about 1884 from Berks county. He was a lumberman and sawyer and was the sawyer when the Moyers lumbered off the Huston timber tract, now the Decker farms, east of Centre Hall. Later he located in Centre Hall, where he built a home, where he lived until his death.

There survive the deceased two daughters, Miss Tillie, at home, and Maybell, wife of Rev. Ward K. Shultz, of Reading. Mrs. Keller died in February of 1924.

Mr. Keller was aged 84 years.

FAXON.—Matthew Thompson Fax-on, who with his wife resided with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warren Wood, at Shiloh, died at that place following an illness of many years with complications. He had been bedfast for a number of months. Mr. Faxon was well known throughout Centre county, but particularly was he prominent in Bellefonte and Milesburg through his connection twenty years ago with the Bellefonte Electric company, where he was employed continuously for twenty-three years. He was at one time landlord of the Rebersburg hotel. He gave up his residence at Milesburg a year ago to make his home with his daughter.
Mr. Faxon was born in McVeytown, Mifflin county, 75 years ago, and was a son of the late Myron M. and Martha Reynolds Faxon. About 54 years ago he was married to Laura C. Bullock, of Milesburg, who survives him with ten children: Mrs. Mary Anderson, Mrs. D. E. Audsley and Mrs. J.
Warren Wood, of Bellefonte; Mrs. E.
S. Bullock, Mrs. C. E. Whipple and Mrs. W. E. Grau, all of Williamsport; Mrs. J. V. Royer, of Woolrich; Mrs.
M. P. Pitts, of Alexandria, Va.; Charles, of Boalsburg, and Mrs. H. T.
Diehl, of Milesburg. One brother, John, of Alliance, Ohio, also survives.
Interment was made at Milesburg.

ROMICK.—Mary M. Romick, widow of Charles F. Romick, passed away at her home at Snyderstown after a lingering illness of almost four years.
She was a daughter of William and Mary M. Beck Martin and was born in Walker township on July 22nd, 1845, therefore was 82 years, 5 months and 13 days old. On September 13, 1866, she was united in marriage to Charles F. Romick, by Rev. L. K. Secrist. Her husband preceded her to the grave over five years ago. Surviving her are two children: Mrs. Anna M. Frain, at home, and William Martin Romick, of Philadelphia; also one granddaughter, Mrs. Edward H.
Bartley, of Jacksonsville, and three great grandchildren, also by a foster daughter, Mrs. Irvin Albright, of Mill Hall, R. D. Mrs. Romick is survived by one sister, Mrs. John J. McClinttick, of Waterford, N. J. She was a member of the Lutheran church at Snyderstown where funeral services were held; burial in the Snyderstown cemetery.

MOORE.—Mrs. Agnes Barnes Moore, widow of Charles Moore, former resident of Bellefonte, died at the home of her daughter, in Pittsburgh. She was a daughter of John and Elizabeth Barnes, and was born at Pleasant Gap, where all her girlhood life was spent.
All her married life was spent in Bellefonte. Her husband died in 1899 and about twenty-five years ago she went to Pittsburgh to make her home. Her only survivors are her daughter, Mrs.
Jack Mallin, and one brother, William Barnes, of Johnstown. The remains were brought to Bellefonte and taken direct to the Union cemetery for burial, Rev. Homer Knox officiating.

The horses are the best lot I ever brought to Centre county. They are the best I could find. All are right off the farm, with eyes, heads and feet perfect. A veterinary certificate accompanies each one, showing they are good, sound horses.

Also at the same time and place, 3 full sets of new tug harness, dozen halters, and 4 extra team bridles.
These are not factory harness. They are all well sewed and are an extra fine lot. Sale rain or shine.
