DEATHS

BARTGES—After an illness of about three weeks, Mrs. Emma A. Bartges died at her home at Penn Hall late Saturday night from diabetes. Interment was made at Heckman cemetery Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by the Reformed minister, to which denomination the deceased adhered.

Mrs. Bartges was the widow of David Bartges and with her husband, now deceased, lived on a farm north of Penn Hall. Later the widow moved to Penn Hall and at the time of her death occupied the place formerly the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Fisher. She was the daughter of Henry Frank Eberger and was aged 85 years, one month and 13 days.

Two children survive her namely, Charles F. and Mrs. Wallace Musser, both of Penn Hall.

SMITH—Mrs. Ethel Smith, wife of John Smith, died in the Centre County hospital Friday afternoon of last week, following childbirth. She was aged about 38 years. Burial was made in the Union cemetery, Bellefonte, on Monday. Deceased was before marriage Miss Ethel Calamas, of Philadelphia. The husband survives, but no children.

Thomas L. Smith, of Centre Hall, is a brother-in-law of the deceased.

GERHART—The funeral services of Rev. R. Leighton Gerhart, D. D. who departed this life at his home in Shippenburg, was held in the Reformed church at Lewisburg, where interment was made. The services were in charge of Rev. H. H. Rupp, the pastor of that church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. C. A. Hauser, of Philadelphia, representing the Publication and Sunday School Board of the Reformed Church, with which Board Dr. Gerhart was connected for many years as editor of the young people's publications, of the Reformed denomination, West Susquehanna Classic, in which Dr. Gerhart still continued to hold membership after his removal to Lewisburg, will be represented by Rev. W. A. McClellan, of Rebersburg.

MINARY—Mrs. Frances May Minary, wife of T. S. Minary, of West Park Street, Lock Haven, died Friday afternoon at the Nichols Sanitarium at Savannah, Mo., where Mr. Minary had taken her a little over a week ago hoping to secure special treatment which would benefit her health. Mrs. Minary was aged 62 years, and had been ailing for more than a year with a complication of diseases which failed to yield to the treatment of the best specialists available. Frances May Toner Minary was born in Lock Haven, the daughter of John F. and Amelia Toner and was a lifelong resident of that city. For more than a quarter of a century she has been so active in church and civic work that her name has been among the leaders in all charitable work of the city. For a number of years she headed the W. C. T. U. in that section, was active in the work of the Civic Club, the Hospital Aid Society and was especially active in Church and Sunday school work, having been a teacher of a class of ladies in the St. John's Lutheran Sunday school for more than twenty years. She was treasurer of the Missionary Society of that church for 20 years, and for 25 years had charge of the box work in the Foreign Missionary Society, her work in this line being given special mention at the general conference of the Lutheran church held in the St. Paul's church at Williamsport last September.

Threats Land Man in Jail

John Unick, North Philipsburg resident, was sent to the Bellefonte jail Monday morning after a hearing had been given him before Edward H. Hancock, justice of the peace, on charges of assault and threats against his brother and mother.

Unick lived with his brother, Alex, and mother, Mrs. Julia Unick, in the latter's home. Complaint against him was made by the brother.

REBERSBURG.

Harry Ziegler, the Grammar school teacher, who had been seriously ill for several weeks, resumed teaching on Monday.

Mrs. Joseph Smull was taken to the Centre County hospital a week ago, and has improved under treatment, consequently the operation which was at first deemed necessary, has been postponed.

M. R. Moyer sold his home in South Rebersburg to Robert Brungart, who will move into it in the spring.

John Brungart and friend, from Williamsport, spent the week-end with friends at this place.

The women of the Lutheran church held a bake sale on Saturday night. They realized a neat sum.

The Sunshine Class of the Reformed Sunday school gave their play "The Old Fashioned Mother" in Millheim, on Thursday night. It was very much appreciated by all who witnessed it.

Mrs. Calvin Breen, who had been operated on for cancer in the Geisinger Hospital last summer, is not getting along as well as her family and friends would wish.

In the very near future the junior class of the M. T. H. S. will present the very interesting play, "Bashful Mr. Bobo."

SPRING MILLS

Dr. H. S. Branch has been quite ill with grippe and other complications. His son, Dean, and family were called home from Coalport. At this writing he is somewhat better.

The silk mill, which was idle for a short time, has resumed work with a full force of help and good prospects of continuing operations.

Sheriff Dunlap is quite busy on this side of the mountain.

Willard Hettlinger, of Farmers Mills, a high school pupil, is quite ill with pneumonia.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Nestor Heckman on January 28th.

The beautiful weather on Sunday brought out a lot of automobiles.

Edward Martin, Auditor General of Pennsylvania, formally announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Treasurer.

TENTH WORLD S. S. CONVENTION

Los Angeles to Entertain World S. S. Workers—Two Special Train Loads to Go From This State.

The tenth World's Sunday School Convention, which is held every four years, will be held this time in Los Angeles, July 11th to 18th.

Four years ago this world-wide convention was held in Glasgow, Scotland, and Pennsylvania had more than 300 delegates, and eight years ago in Tokio, Japan, when Pennsylvania had more than one hundred present.

It is fully expected this time to have more than eight thousand accredited delegates present from every part of the world where the World's Association is doing Sunday school work, and Pennsylvania fully expects to send two special train loads, which will be personally conducted, and in addition to the convention at Los Angeles, will include sight seeing trip both out and back, including such points as Chicago, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pikes Peak, Santa Fe, N. M., Albuquerque, Grand Canyon, Riverside, Cal., Yosemite, Glacier Point, San Francisco, Salt Lake City, Omaha, and at a cost of approximately $325.00 with meals, berths, sight seeing and all expenses paid en route in Los Angeles.

Some of the world's greatest Sunday school specialists will be among the speakers and conference leaders. On the program are leaders from Japan, China, Philippine Islands, New Zealand, Honolulu, India, London, India, Scotland, Greece, Turkey and Korea.

Exhibits of Sunday school material from the nations of the world will be on exhibit.

The General Sessions will be held in Shrine Civic Auditorium, a room large enough to care for fifty thousand.

A series of denominational rallies will be planned and held from day to day, where one may meet others of their own denomination from other parts of the world.

Pennsylvania has an itinerary both going and coming that has never been equaled at so low a price. Those that may desire to go out on the special trains and come back their own route can have all expenses paid going out on the special trains, and transportation furnished for the return trip at approximately $210.00. These special trains will leave Pennsylvania the evening of July 4th, returning July 25th.

A registration fee of $5.00 is charged by the World's Association and a large number have already sent in their application, and full information may be secured by writing the State's General Secretary Walter E. Myers, 1511 Arch St., Philadelphia, or your county Sunday school secretary, Darius Waite, Bellefonte.

"PROSPERITY!"

Soup Kitchens and Sleeping Places for Jobless Demanded in New York City—Textile Mills and Coal Fields Contribute to Army of Unemployed.

Republican spellbinders who have been busy selecting the words with which to paint pictures of Republican prosperity to beguile the voters in the approaching presidential campaign, must have been shocked to see the grim spectre of the municipal soup kitchen rear its ugly head in New York City. Soup kitchens strike a discordant note in a "prosperity ensemble."

The parade of hundreds of unemployed men in New York City, demanding that the municipality establish soup kitchens and open public buildings as sleeping places for jobless, penniless men, is perhaps the most striking demonstration of an unemployment situation which, to quote a qualified observer of conditions, "is not generally recognized."

It would be less significant if the New York situation were confined to conditions confined to that city, but the number of idle men now in the metropolis is thought to be due to conditions in other parts of the nation. Many of them come from the New England textile districts, where one mill after another has suspended operations. Others come from the coal fields. The soft coal industry is crippled by a bitter strike which has been in progress for many months. But even curtailment in soft coal production has not brought good times to the anthracite industry, where many mines have been running on part time, with this limited schedule on part time, with this limited periods of complete idleness.

Wall Street has been flooded during the past few weeks with reports of reduced earnings during 1927, showing that the year was far from prosperous for many big industries.

The farm industry continues to persistently deny that it has had its share of national prosperity and its demands for relief have gone unanswered. Railroad shops running on part time attest to the fact that the transportation industry is not enjoying any degree of prosperity worth shouting about.

Unless there is a great improvement in conditions within the next few months, the Republican party will be forced to go into the campaign burdened by conditions which faithful followers of the Grand Old Party have made themselves believe to be impossible under other than a Democratic regime.

"The Path Across the Hill" is the title of a three-act comedy drama presented by the Young People's band of Middleburg, in Grange Arcadia, on Friday evening. The house was comfortably filled, the audience seeming to enjoy the work of the young people on the stage. Both boys and girls took prominent parts in rendering the play. The senior class of the Centre Hall High school participated in the net profits.
