FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

KILL BORERS IN STALKS—A source of possible reinfestation of this year's crop with corn borers is corn stalks stored in barns. Some of the borers brought in from infested fields may die as the result of drying out of the stalks during the winter, but in order to keep the number of moths flying in June to a low enough number to prevent commercial damage to this year's crop, all stalks should be taken out and burned, or finely cut or shredded as soon as possible. To kill borers by cutting, the machine should be adjusted to cut the stalks into pieces no more than one-half inch long.

FOLLOW PLAN IN WORK—The successful farmer plans his work and never procrastinates when the time for doing things arrives. In this way every operation is cared for promptly, nothing is sacrificed because of delay or lack of time, and above all he always has time to take the family for short vacations at various times. Life on the farm thus becomes more enjoyable each year.

TAKE CARE OF MACHINES—Spring is the time when the farmer is glad he greased and oiled all working parts of the field machinery when he put it away last year.

OBSERVE FOREST WEEK—April 22 to 28 has been designated as American Forest Week. Everyone can help conserve and promote forests. It is a duty none should shirk.
