Another Western senator—Wheeler of Montana—is riding aboard the Smith band wagon, firm in the belief that the New York governor "is the best bet of the Democrats" for the presidency. Wheeler, who bolted his party to run for vice president on a third party ticket headed by the late Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, endorsed Smith's candidacy on Friday, in a letter to W. W. McDowell, chairman of the Montana Democratic central committee. Wheeler said in his judgment Smith should be nominated by acclamation. He described the leading Democratic candidate as a "liberal in the best sense of the word," a "born Democrat" and a man who, standing as he does for "law enforcement" would improve conditions as they have existed under the Harding-Coolidge administrations.

Sees Keystone a Doubtful State. The Scranton Times, in making an appeal to the Democrats for harmony, and asking that principle rather than visions of a pie counter be held up to the youth of the land as a bid to become one in the ranks of the party of Jefferson, Cleveland and Wilson, says: "We are entering upon a presidential campaign in which there are high hopes that victory may perch upon the standard of the Democratic party. Some of the most prominent Republicans of the Commonwealth have been quoted as having said that if Governor Alfred Emanuel Smith, of New York, is nominated for President, Pennsylvania would be placed in the list of doubtful States. It is conceded on all sides that Smith will receive the nomination at the Houston national convention. His popularity among Keystone Democrats is shown by the fact that he won 69 1/2 out of the 76 delegates from Pennsylvania. His preliminary campaign has been a triumphal march. Wherever he entered a contest he won."

The Altoona Mirror comes out early with the proposal of the name of Hon. Harry B. Scott as the Republican nominee for Governor of Pennsylvania in 1928. Mr. Scott, our Republican friends tell us, invariably gets what he goes after, but if he has in mind the governorship, his luck may turn against him.

Sheffield Milk Prices. The net cash price to be paid members of the Sheffield Producers Cooperative Association, Inc., for three percent Grade B milk in the 20-21 1/2 mile zone for the month of April, 1928, is $2.15 1/2 per hundred pounds. This is equivalent to $2.38 1/2 for milk sold on a 2.5 basis. Milk prices would average higher if dairymen would more nearly balance their production to meet the seasonal demands. There is too much milk produced in the early spring months and too little in the fall.

English Law Debars Snyder County Heirs. Members of the Hummel family, many of whom reside in and about Sellingsgrove, have had their hopes of inheriting a portion of a large estate blasted.

The relatives there of the late Lady Cook, nee Tennessee Claffin, grand-daughter of Robert Buckman Claffin, who came to Snyder county from Vermont and married Anna Hummel, were preparing to raise funds to present their claims to a share in her estate in courts of England, when her niece, Miss Zula Woodhull, came to visit relatives there. She explained that by English law, when a person dies in estate in that country, the estate is divided among the nearest of kin in that country, and that the American relatives accordingly would not share in the division of the estate.

A merchant doesn't advertise goods that he can't recommend, because he knows he can't fool all of the people all of the time, and that such a policy would eventually put him out of business.

DEATHS

BARE.—Mrs. John H. Bare died at her home at Spring Mills, Wednesday afternoon of last week and was buried in the Tusseyville cemetery where services were held in the church on Sunday afternoon by Rev. W. E. Smith of the Evangelical church. Mrs. Bare had been in poor health for several years, suffering from various causes. The deceased's maiden name was Miss Lizzie Walters, daughter of Amos and Levina Walters, both deceased. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, namely, Mary, now Mrs. Robert Strouse, of near Spring Mills, and Mabel, now Mrs. Charles Wert, of Madisonburg. There also survive two sisters and three brothers: Mrs. James Houser, Spring Mills; Mrs. Samuel Colyer, Lewistown; William Walters, Milroy, and John Walters and Oscar Walters, Yeagertown. Mrs. Bare was aged sixty-one years. The funeral was largely attended, the family at one time having lived near Tusseyville.

REARICK.—A brief mention of the death of William Rearick was made in the issue of this paper last week. A more complete account is given here. William Lester Rearick, of Martinsburg, died in a hospital at New Orleans, Louisiana. Mr. Rearick, injured when a small boy, had a portion of his leg removed from one of his legs, and he never fully recovered. He went to New Orleans and underwent an operation. A blood transfusion failed to save his life. He was born at State College, August 8, 1895, a son of J. Paul and Sadie Rearick. Surviving are his parents, his wife, Mrs. E. Irene White Rearick; four brothers, George, Chester, Charles and Robert; at home; and two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Martinsburg, and Miss Ruth Rearick, a student at the University of Pennsylvania. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, Martinsburg. Funeral services were conducted at the home Friday. Burial in Fairview cemetery, Martinsburg, where the family lives.

BAILEY.—Miss Nannie Bailey died at her home in Pine Grove Mills from complications. Her parents were William H. and Mary Glenn Bailey, and she was aged 58 years. She never married but lived on the old homestead with her brother until 1922 when she quit the farm and moved into a comfortable home in Pine Grove Mills. Her survivors include one sister and three brothers, Mrs. Mary Saucerman, of Baileyville; J. Cal Bailey, of Millheim; Paul, of Martinsburg, and A. S., with whom she made her home.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick; interment at Pine Grove Mills.

Two Civil War Veterans Die. Rev. G. W. Emehizer, retired United Brethren minister, aged 85 years, and William Flack, eighty-four years old, both of Bellefonte, died last week. The former passed away on Thursday and the latter on Saturday. Both were veterans of the Civil war and served in Company A, 45th Regiment, P. V. With the death of Comrades Emehizer and Flack, Charles Heverly, a member of Company D, 45th Regiment, is the only Civil war veteran now living within the borough limits of Bellefonte.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Marcellus A. Sankey, of Millheim, was a visitor in town one day last week. A. L. Duck, of Spring Mills, was the artist who had in charge the repainting of the H. H. Mark house.

Ralph Houser, who was in Monday's auto wreck, was back to school on Wednesday, a bit sore, but hopeful of no serious complications arising from the many bruises on his body.

Centre Hall High school and Ebersburg High school battled to 12 innings on Friday afternoon on the local school field, the visitors coming off victorious, 5 to 3, in the best ball game of the season.

Miss Mary Aughenbaugh, of Currensville, and Miss Louise Smith, both students at Williamsport Commercial College, spent the week-end at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith.

Miss Margaret Alexander, a student in the school for nurses in the University Hospital, Philadelphia, is at her home here on a brief vacation. She went to the institution last fall and is pleased with the work.

Centre Hall has three citizens who are Civil war veterans: B. D. Brislin, Alfred Durst and W. H. Bartheolmew. All of them are in good health, and active. The last named file his place at an office desk every working day in the week.

Farmer Daniel Bohm, on the Brockeroth farm near Old Fort, purchased a new Dodge Victory Deluxe sedan from the Hazan agency, Centre Hall. Barber F. P. Geary is also driving a new Chevrolet sedan secured through the Homan Motor Company.

Recommend Soybeans as Good Legume Hay

If the acreage of clover and alfalfa is not sufficient to provide plenty of good legume hay for the farm livestock next winter, plant soybeans, says County Agent R. C. Blaney. Soybeans will yield from one to two and one-half tons of hay per acre, depending on the fertility of the land and the season. The feeding value of the hay is equal to that of alfalfa for the same grade of hay. All classes of livestock relish the soybean product. Where conditions are favorable the crop is not difficult to grow. It may follow corn, potatoes, stubble, or sod land. A field sowed last spring to clover which has failed will grow good soybeans. The land is prepared the same as for oats or corn. Seeding is done in late May or early June at the rate of two bushels per acre through the oats compartment of the drill. Soybeans like the ordinary garden beans, will not stand deep covering, especially if a crust is formed after a heavy rain. An inch in depth is about right for most conditions.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL DRIVE

Second Annual Membership and Contribution Drive Opened Saturday—Reports from Over County Very Favorable—Movement for New Ambulance. The second annual membership and contribution drive of the Centre County Hospital is off with a flying start. Last Saturday, May 12th, the first day, found the many solicitors enthusiastically busy and rolling up results. Telephone reports to drive executive John S. Sommerer from district captains for the first two days were very gratifying both as to response of the public and activities of the workers. State College captain, Eugene Lederer, was highly pleased with first results. Miss Blanchard and her ward brethren in Bellefonte reported exceptional results. The management of the drive were also gratified to find the generous contributions of the local industries and business houses. All in all the drive has the appearance of a big success.

As a result of the publication by the board of the hospital of the annual report of the financial receipts and expenditures and the showing of services rendered, the solicitors find the public very much better informed as to the working of the hospital. Particular attention is called to the exceptional showing in this report of the cost per patient per day of $4.08, which we are informed is the lowest in the State for hospitals of this size, or larger. One of the very essential necessities of our hospital which can no longer be delayed, is the securing of a new ambulance, better named in this modern day, "Invalid Car." The Ford ambulance now in use has been in service many years. It answered its purpose when originally given to the hospital through the generous and untiring work of the Women's Auxiliary, but it has become worn out in the service of the patients. To serve the community of Centre county properly, a car especially fitted to convey the sick to the hospital is an absolute necessity. An additional use of an "Invalid Car" is to carry convalescent patients back to their homes and take convalescent children patients out for an airing. A group of generous hospital friends are going to see to it that the "Invalid Car" becomes a reality.

The Ritz theatre, through the good spirit of the management, will present to the drive the proceeds of two evenings' moving picture shows, Monday and Tuesday, May 21st and 22nd, will be hospital benefit shows at the Ritz. Especially for this showing, Mr. Ritchell has ordered in the Mary Pickford production, "Turn the Back Door." Load up the car, take a party, go to the Ritz Monday and Tuesday, see a good movie and help the hospital. Any out of the county friends of the hospital, or any in the county who may have been overlooked by the solicitor and want to be numbered amongst the members of the hospital, return of the board, Ralph Malloy, Bellefonte. A membership card acknowledgment will be forwarded.

SAVE THE WILD FLOWERS

State Botanist Issues Appeal to Tourists Not to Destroy Wild Plants and Flowers. With the early spring flowers now reaching the height of their glory, Dr. E. M. Gross, State Botanist, has issued an appeal to the people of the State to enjoy them, but not to destroy them.

SCIENCE SHOWS SLEUTHS OF FUTURE MAY OUTDO EVEN SHERLOCK HOLMES

Particles on Clothing May Show Man's Occupation and Home Town—French Investigator Paves Way With Microscopic Examination to Convict Slayer.

The Modern Sleuth Examines Suspect's Clothing With Microscope. Insert Shows Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Creator of Sherlock Holmes.

WHEN Sherlock Holmes looked at a man's shoes and saw red on them, the great detective of fiction could tell instantly the locality from which the man came. Detectives of the future will be able to go Holmes one better, if one may judge from some of the scientific studies now being made upon dust particles.

Physicians have long known that dust flying in the air may cause certain ailments and city officials have seen to it that children's health on city playgrounds is protected against dust by certain dust-laying chemicals, such as calcium chloride. Researches show that a man's occupation may be determined from the dust particles found on his clothing and, further, in many cases, police may learn the name of the city in which he has his home.

The matter seems simple enough, too. A steel worker will have fine particles of steel clinging to his clothing, no matter how often he may brush them. Such particles might be removed by brooms, vacuum cleaners or even magnets, but a sufficient number remains for determination by a microscope.

Among the flowers that need protection are: columbine, arbutus, Dutchman's breeches, bloodroot, Indian pink, bluebells, redbud, laurel and dogwood. Among the flowers that may be picked in quantity are: spring beauty, violets, wild carrot, daisies, thistle, butter-and-eggs black eyed susan, bouncing bet, honeysuckle and buttercup. Discussing the temptation to pick flowers while driving in the country, Dr. Gross said that motorists should learn to know the wild flowers that should be protected. These, he said, should be admired, but should be left for the enjoyment of others. In picking flowers that do need protection, he urged that care be taken not to destroy the propagating parts of the plant nor the leaves which manufacture the food for those organs. Particularly in picking flowers from shrubs and trees like the dogwood, mountain laurel and rhododendron, Dr. Gross urged that the same care be taken as if they were growing in a private garden. Rare wild flowers are usually very difficult to grow in cultivation, he said, advising that no attempt be made to transplant them unless the soil, moisture, and light conditions are very similar to those in which they are found in the wild state. Plant destruction is perpetuated by persons who do not stop to contrast the freshness and beauty of a growing plant with the withered condition and the faded beauty which invariably ensues a few hours after picking. Very few of the early spring flowers are noxious weeds. They grow for the most part from bulbs or fleshy roots and hence there is no need for eradication.
