

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Longwell and son Robert, of Williamsport, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Aman.

Wm. R. Haney will close his school today (Thursday) in order to attend the funeral of his mother, who died at Grover, Bradford county, on Monday.

Mrs. George A. Miller, of Bellefonte, will hold her annual sale of potted plants for Memorial Day, at Miller's Hardware, Allegheny St., beginning Saturday, May 26. Beautiful plants and vinca vines at reasonable prices.

Haston Long, of near Aaronsburg, was in town Monday morning, feeling fine and happy over having so thoroughly recovered from injuries received a week prior in an automobile collision on the streets in town.

A. E. Geringer, the Boalsburg auto repairman, is working on the sixteenth "stetic" body for the large trucks used for the delivery of groceries by the Lauderbaugh-Griest Company, whose wholesale grocery stores are found in a half dozen thriving towns in this section of the State.

Dr. B. Norman Ebricht, Mrs. Ebricht and three interesting children, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday to spend the day with the former's brother, H. Leigh Ebricht, and family. During the afternoon and evening the visitors were entertained at Sunset Club house. Dr. Ebricht is a veterinary surgeon and lives in Millfield.

Harold Dhrst advertises that he is prepared to do electric wiring and all kinds of electric work by contract, and will also furnish material if it is desired. He has had large experience in his line of work and is thoroughly responsible. This class of work is not a side issue with him, but is one he is making a business of.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Cupples, of Lewistown, visited their son, Merchant C. L. Cupples, in town, on Sunday. They were accompanied by "Jack" Seaman, of Lancaster, who is identified with the State Department of Agriculture. His particular line of work is to advise with the Pennsylvania Movement Commission, in connection with the Keystone State, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Martz, at Tusseyville. Sergeant Morton Smith is representing the Bellefonte Troop B, in the same capacity. These two with others of the National Guard boarded the U. S. S. George Washington, on Saturday night, at Philadelphia.

Mr. Clearwater, who holds the world's championship in three contests on the pool table, gave an exhibition of his skill with the cue and ball in the Mitterling pool room on Friday evening. He rarely erred in his calculations, and his trick shots were of a character to convince one that he earned his laurels. Mr. Clearwater's daughter is also an expert in the same line as her father, and with him gave several exhibitions at State College. Millheim was visited on Saturday evening by the expert.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Seckinger, the announcement of whose marriage appeared in last week's issue of this paper, were in town for a few days at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Elsie Kramer. Mrs. Seckinger is continuing her profession, that of nursing, and is now on a case.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Grayson, of Shippensburg, have been visitors at the Lutheran parsonage, Mrs. Grayson being a niece of Rev. Mr. Green. Mr. Grayson is a cutter in a garment factory in Shippensburg where the couple live.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Brooks accompanied Dr. Longwell to Williamsport on Sunday for treatment for a bealing in the head, with which the former was afflicted for some time. They returned home on Monday evening. While in that city they called on Mrs. J. Henry Smith, a cousin of Mrs. Brooks, who has been very seriously ill for several months. Her condition on Monday was extremely critical, there being little hope of her recovery.

Mrs. Smith is a native of Reedsville where she lived until the Smith Printing Company moved its plant from that place to Williamsport.

Dick McClintic was an arrival from the South on Monday evening, and until some time in June will be with his sisters Mrs. H. F. Musser, at Sprucetown. Mr. McClintic was reared along Sinking Creek, close to Centre Hill, but when a young man went to Phillipsburg and from there thirty-six years ago went to Atlanta, Georgia, where he became interested in a large mercantile firm. He now lives in Monroe, Georgia, where his son, Dr. James K. McClintic, a surgeon of note, lives. Some time next month Dr. and Mrs. McClintic expect to drive here when on their return the father will accompany them home. The elder Mr. McClintic's wife died a few months ago.

Fourteen members of the Department of Forestry in Minnesota, accompanied by Charles E. Dorworth, Secretary of Pennsylvania Forestry and Waters Department, and several others from Harrisburg, visited the State nursery at McKinney's in Seven Mountains, on Monday. At the nursery the party was met by Forester T. B. Harbison, of M'Broys, Forest Rangers McKinney and Brooks. The Minnesota party were interested in the rapid growth made by the pines and other trees in the reforested sections, and also gave attention to the destruction of the elms by deer. After viewing the nursery proper and comparing methods here with those in use in Minnesota, the party went on to Greenwood Furnace nursery where lunch was served them.

Lawn mowers sharpened at your homes in Centre Hall by G. W. Williams, Tuesday, May 29. Have them ready when I come.

Mrs. Paul Fetterolf entertained the Junior Service class in the Lutheran S. S., of which she is a member, at her home on Monday evening. Nice refreshments were served.

The Ladies Aid Society of Locust Grove Evangelical church will hold a picnic and festival, June 23rd, in Decker's grove, near the church. The Spring Mills band will furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Helm and three children, Charles, John and Miss Helen, were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer. Mr. Helm is a cousin of Mrs. Colyer. He is employed in the Lewisburg Chair factory, and lives in that town.

The drive for members and contributions for the Centre County Hospital is not quite complete in the borough. The total contributed by residents in town will be close to or altogether $400. This will put Centre Hall near the head of districts of its kind.

Memorial Day exercises, at Centre Hall, as in former years, will be in charge of the P. O. S. of A. The committee is striving to form a creditable parade, and to that end is urging the various organizations of the town, the veterans of the several wars, and all the children to gather at the Reformed church, at which point the parade will form for marching to the cemetery. The children will be presented flags, which they may take home with them after the exercises. A drum corps has been secured to head the parade. The time is 6:00 o'clock sharp.
