LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Annie Klinefelter and daughter, Miss Ellen, of Tusseyville, were callers at this office on Friday.

He who "borrowed" a hand cultivator or from a certain garden in the town is asked to return it, since the owner has use for it.

Mrs. Charles W. Geary and children, of Newport, are spending two weeks with Mrs. Geary's mother, Mrs. Belle Whitman, in this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Tharp and family, of Penn Hall, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther D. Weidensaul and family, at Laurelton.

A daughter, Nina Miriam, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bayiet, at Millton, June 1st. The newcomer is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Smith, of town.

While pursuing his work as a forest ranger on Nittany Mountain, Richard Brooks found a fawn but a few days old temporarily forsaken by its dam. The little animal was fondled and then left to await better care.

The Methodist parsonage at Spring Mills is being repainted by William Graden. Rev. Hazen, pastor of the Methodist charge, who occupies the parsonage, is giving considerable time himself in aiding Mr. Graden in applying paint.

G. D. Hennigh, of Birmingham, Alabama, and bride of two weeks, are enjoying a honeymoon trip to Northern States. Just now they are guests of the former's father, S. D. Hennigh, in Centre Hall. They expect to depart for their home in a day or two, via Pittsburgh.

Miss Annie Greeninger, a maiden lady known to many of the readers, who has been suffering from cancer below her right eye, returned from the Charles A. Kelley Hospital, Baltimore, on Tuesday, and is thought to be improving. She was taken to the hospital by Mr. G. S. Frank, who was accompanied by Mrs. Frank and their nephew, Randall Miller. Miss Greeninger was given the radium treatment.

All the former pastors of the Penns Valley Lutheran charge were given a special invitation to attend the charge picnic to be held on Grange Park today (Thursday.) Dr. W. E. Fischer, Dr. J. M. Rearick, and Rev. M. C. Drumm have signified their intention of being present. Rev. F. W. Barry, of Highspire, and Rev. B. F. Bisler, will also be here provided they can leave their respective homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zimmerman and two children, Karl and Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hill and little son, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hill motored up from Berks county and were week end visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Burkholder and family. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd White and two daughters, of Bellefonte, R. D., and Miss Grace White, were also Sunday guests at the same place.

A very pretty little bungalow is being erected at the west entrance to Aaronsburg by Paul Bartges. The walls are of concrete blocks to the top of the first story, and the gables of frame work finished with composition shingles. The design is unique. Winklesch and Ocker are doing the carpenter work. Mr. Bartges will be in charge of the Aaronsburg schools next fall. For several years he taught in the Millheim schools.

The Bible class in the Lutheran Sunday school at Millheim, taught by S. Ward Gramley, is sending several boys to the Susquehanna University camp, at Sellsgrove. The fortunate youths are William Swarm, who graduates this year, Donald Miller and Leo Evans. Two other boys from the same place who will enter upon their first year's training are Frederick Hosterman and Paul Shreckengast. The expenses of these latter two are being provided for by private parties.

DEATHS

ROGERS.—Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Rogers, mother of Dr. J. Coburn Rogers, died at her home in Bellefonte Friday of last week, after a lingering illness. She was born at the "stone house farm" near Jacksonville, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Huston, and was the youngest of a family of twelve children. Her husband was William Rogers, who died in 1883. Her married life was spent in Aaronsburg, removing to Bellefonte in 1889. One son, named above, survives.

Well Known Lutheran Minister Dies. Rev. F. L. Berkstrosser, D. D., well known to many of our readers, died at Harrisburg on Saturday. He was a former pastor of the First English Lutheran church at Tyrone, having served that congregation for twenty years. He was pastor when the present church was erected. From Tyrone he went to the Susquehanna Synod, and was retired, living at Harrisburg. The funeral was held at Harrisburg on Tuesday.

PERSONAL ITEMS.

Mrs. Sarah E. Homan, of Millheim, on her way to State College, stopped over night with her nephew, L. L. Smith, in town.

The store house near the McClanahan grain house was completely torn down by workmen employed by Mr. McClanahan and will be rebuilt in a more substantial way to add in storing various products dealt in by that firm.

Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Campbell, of Millheim, on Tuesday left for Philadelphia where they will remain until the end of the week. While in that city Mr. Campbell will attend the sessions of the funeral directors' State convention.

The State House in Seven Mountains occupied by Forest Ranger W. F. McKinney, was recently repainted and now is being further improved. Water from a spring is being piped to it, and will be piped to all parts of the house. A bath, toilets and furnace will also be installed.

James Brungart and sister, Miss Mary Brungart, on Wednesday left for Big Rock, Illinois, in the B. G. Grove Dodge sedan, where they will visit their sister, Miss Saah, and others. They were accompanied on their western trip by Paul Brungart, who came east from Aurora, Illinois, some time ago. The latter Mr. Brungart was employed by Lyon Metal Company, whose works are closed at this time.

COURT TO RULE ON ROAD BOND ISSUE

Governor Takes Action That Will Result in Decision Regarding Constitutional Amendment Authorizing Bond Issues.

In order to make possible a final determination by the courts of the true effect of the language of the constitutional amendments authorizing bond issues, Governor Fisher asked the State treasurer and the auditor general to re-issue $3,000,000 of cancelled bonds of the original $50,000,000 road bond issue.

State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis, who has pointed out in several recent speeches that the language of the amendments is ambiguous, immediately expressed his approval of the proposal and the auditor general's department was expected to take similar action.

Wm. A. Schnader, deputy attorney general, said that the governor's action brought about a tax payer's suit to restrain the State from re-issuing $3,000,000 of State road bonds. The suit was filed in the Dauphin county court by Wm. Montgomery, of Philadelphia, through his counsel, Owen D. Roberts. The action is in the nature of a test case to determine the meaning of the language of the constitutional amendments for bond issues upon which the people will vote in November.

State Treasurer Lewis has held that constitutional amendments for bond issues already passed and those which will be voted upon provide for a continuing debt and that the bonds can be re-issued as soon as retired. The present action is expected to clarify the situation.
