LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. J. L. Treasler is improving somewhat and is able to be up and about during most of the day.

E. Clayton Wagner, of near Tusseyville, lost by death one of his best farm horses, last Friday. The animal suffered from azoturia.

Mrs. George E. Breen and little grandson, who had been with Mrs. Laura Lee Breen's mother, here for a short time, went on to Altoona to visit among relatives.

Orvis L. Horner, of Colyer, was taken to the Clearfield hospital, on Tuesday morning, for treatment and possibly an operation. He has been troubled for some time with severe pains in his back.

The residence on Hoffer street owned and occupied by D. S. Ishler is being repainted by George Ishler and his grandson, Marvin Ishler. The place is being very much improved in appearance.

The Searsons moved into their home which was partially destroyed by fire and was reconstructed and repainted. The place now has a good appearance and nothing is there without or within to indicate the ravages of fire.

About two weeks ago Mrs. John Bohm at Old Fort had the misfortune to have a nail penetrate the sole of her shoe and injure her foot and since has been suffering from it. At one time blood poisoning was feared, but of late she has had less pain.

Miss Mildred Wieland, of Linden Hall, was in town beginning of the week. She taught in the Altoona public school and was recruited, June 20 Miss Wieland will sail for Europe from Montreal on the steamer Regina to return the latter part of August. She will be one of the Cook Touring party.

Misses Marion and Gladys Smith, daughters of Postmaster R. M. Smith, the beginning of next week will go to Beaver Springs where for two weeks they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Dreese, relatives of the girls. Their visits to this home is always looked forward to with great anticipations that are always realized.

A touring car driven by O. B. Gunby in which were several other persons from Turtle Creek, and an Odeon mobile coupe driven by T. E. Comly, of Unionville, collided on the State highway near the ice plant this side of Bellefonte. When the coupe stopped it was jammed head-on in a stone wall and the touring car lay on its side on the road. No one was hurt.

W. F. Rockey, of Tusseyville, was among the Reporter's editors on Tuesday. Mr. Rockey for many years has been a dealer in poultry, eggs, and other farm produce and has shipped many thousands of dollars worth to markets in the coal regions and other points. Owing to his credulity, Mr. Rockey is not rated a "Big Butter and Egg Man," but if everyone were constituted like the locksmith, penitentiary wardens, etc., would be useless and drives for Ananias club members unfruitful.

Daniel Daup, Sr., set a good example when repainting his home in Centre Hall. He not only painted the house proper, but the sheds and garages, and by doing this the improvements are more decidedly pronounced than if only the dwelling house had received his personal attention. Many houses repainted are beautiful, but perhaps a shed or garage nearby shows the ravages of time and this mars the picture. So when you paint, and are after best results, follow Mr. Daup's plan of completing the program.

Miss Vesta Blauer is attending the College for Teachers at Shippensburg for the summer session. It was at that institution she prepared for teaching after leaving the Centre Hall High school. Next fall she will again take up teaching in the Mitchell school, Brown township, Mifflin county, which school is located along the State highway leading to Belleville. This will be her third term at the school whose pupils are nearly all Amish. She finds the children studious and obedient and the community an agreeable one to work in.

Dorsey Bros. Circus Coming to Spring Mills, Monday, June 25.

Spring Mills is to have a real honest to goodness circus with all the trimmings from red lemonade to animals, including little "Nemo," the smallest educated performing baby elephant in America. Little "Nemo" has endeared himself to thousands of kiddies, requires no small amount of attention from his trainer and still partakes of his daily rations via the bottle route. The usual coterie of funny clowns, acrobats, tumblers and novelty performers, all come in for their share of applause from the Dorsey Circus audiences. Vern Coriell in his great death-defying feat, the slide for life, is chock full of thrills and chills. Mr. Coriell ascends a steel cable erected from the ground to the highest pitch of the big tent and with only his outstretched arms for a balance slides down this steep incline standing on his head. The Dorsey Circus band and air cadette provide plenty of peppy music throughout entire show. Two performances given at 2 and 8 P. M. Rain or shine, under water-proof canvas.
