

POSTAL REGULATIONS COVER REVISER RATES

Change in Instructions Made Necessary by Act Effective July 1.

Regulations and instructions necessary to carry out the provisions of the Postal Rate Act, which goes into effect July 1, have been promulgated and made public by the Post Office Department.

The act restores one-cent postal cards, provides for acceptance of business reply cards and letters in business reply envelopes without prepayment of postage, and for the collection of one cent additional on ounce on first-class matter when mailed with delicate postage.

Second-class rates on advertising sections of publications and the postage on magazines and newspapers, when sent by others than the publishers or news agents, are reduced. A minimum charge per piece is fixed on second-class matter when there is more than 32 pieces to the pound.

Postage rates on fourth-class matter are reduced and the bill provided for bulk pound rates on third-class matter, a special rate on library books and combined special handling and special delivery at reduced rates.

The purpose of the proposed business reply cards and envelopes is to meet a demand from advertisers for the means by which they can encourage replies to advertising matter by the payment of the postage on such replies without the necessity for complying with the advertising matter government postal cards or stamped envelopes.

JAMISON—GREENAWALT.

The following is reprinted from the Conneautville (Crawford county) News: About thirty friends and relatives witnessed a very pretty wedding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Greenawalt, in Spring township, when at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon their only daughter, Ada Irene, became the bride of Miller E. Jamison, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jamison, of Spring Mills. The ring ceremony was used the service being read by the Rev. E. M. G. Minnigh. The Lohengrin wedding march was played by Miss Leona Keiser.

Miss Mildred Corey was bridesmaid and Guy Jamison, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. The bride was gowned in white silk crepe and carried a bouquet of white sweet peas and the bridesmaid wore pink silk crepe and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. Little Miss Shirley Rogers was flower girl. The decorations of the house were pink and white.

Following the ceremony a three-course dinner was served at which a beautiful bride's cake adorned the center of the table.

The bride received many beautiful and useful presents.

They left that afternoon for a trip to Punnatsylvania and other points in Central Pennsylvania.

The bride is a graduate of the local school and has been employed by Shaykey Brothers. The groom has been for some time a milk tester at the Dickinsonburg plant of the Tech Food Products Company.

They will have the best wishes of many friends.

Nearhood House Sold.

The Nearhood house, on Hoffer street, long neglected and unoccupied much of the time, has been purchased by Robert I. Smith, one of the railroad track men. He has already re-roofed the house and later will clean up the surroundings and improve it in many ways. He also purchased the vacant lot adjoining. The property was bought from Reuben Tressler for $725.00. Mr. Tressler got the place from the trustees for the heirs of Mrs. George Nearhood.

Persons from Yeagertown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shively accompanied Mrs. Shively's mother, Mrs. Alice Leightley, to Centre county on Sunday afternoon, where Mrs. Leightley remained for a visit with relatives for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Shively returned on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Stover and Mrs. Irvin Burris visited Mrs. Maria Packard at Beech Creek, on Sunday.

Centre county last year produced 2,550 bushels of peaches valued at $5,934.00.

COAST TO COAST ON FOOT.

James Hand, the Man With a Mended Broken Back, Stopped Saturday Night in Town.

James Hand, who styles himself as the "man with a broken back," stopped in town Saturday night on his way from New York City to San Francisco, California. He left New York City on June 9th, making the trip here by Saturday, 23rd. He draws with him a little covered express wagon, fittingly lettered.

Mr. Hand is a miner and in a mining disaster in Illinois was very seriously injured. The injury was mostly to his back, which was "broken." A rare surgical operation, including the removal of a vertebrae and the substitution of a piece of bone from his right leg, proved successful.

The traveler expects to reach the Pacific Coast in five months and to arrive in California by the time he started. He had calculated the distance to be 3159 miles.

The following note was given the Reporter by the traveler:

June 24, 1928.

"I want to thank the people in Centre Hall for their kindness towards me—a stranger to them all. I like the town of Centre Hall, situated so beautifully against the mountains, and every person in it, so much that I want to come back again.

"Mr. and Mrs. Grove, with whom I stayed over night, were so good to me, also Miss Kreitzer, who did my correspondence for me.

"I shall never forget the town of Centre Hall, and again I say 'thank you' to every one of you."

"JAMES HAND, Lokomis, Illinois, 'or the man who is traveling from coast to coast with a broken back.'

Twins Again.

Many of the Reporter readers will recall an item in these columns telling how Fred Brown, of Potter township, a few years ago while fighting fire on Tinsley Mountain, picked up a helpless little fawn and carried it to a place of safety and later took it to his home above Colyer where it has lived most of the time. The little animal, two weeks ago on Monday, gave birth to twins—a doe and a buck. They are being cared for in the Brown barn to which the mother has access when she wishes. The fawns take kindly to the caresses of a little daughter of Mr. Brown, but show much displeasure on being touched by strangers.

A year ago the doe also gave birth to twins. The buck is supposed to have been destroyed by a wild animal when quite young, but the doe lives and is counted a good specimen of the deer tribe. Like her mother, she hangs around the Brown farm home and accepts dainty morsels of food.

Philips Home and Garage Sold.

Frank P. Philips sold his home and garage, at Potters Mills, to Lewis Lotz, of Pittsburgh. The new owner will take possession of the garage next week and move into the Philips house about August first. Mr. Lotz is a son-in-law of Harry Goodyear, merchant at Colyer, and is counted an automobile mechanic of high skill.

Mr. Philips built both the garage and dwelling house five years ago. August first he will move into the McKinney place, near Potters Mills, purchased by him some time ago. For the property and garage equipment Mr. Philips received $3300.

PREVENT GLARING HEADLIGHTS BY RE-FOCUSING

An Intensive Drive on Glaring Headlights by Highway Patrolmen.

Adjust your headlights, or the highway patrolmen will nab you. An intensive drive will be made this summer in all parts of the State in an effort to eliminate the glaring light menace.

Dangers of glaring lights are more than many motorists appear to appreciate and the department of highways announces that it is determined to make the roads safe by forcing automobile owners to keep their headlights in proper focus.

Hundreds of stations for the adjustment of lamps have been commissioned by the State and are to be at the service of motorists day and night. Eternal vigilance, the department points out, keeps headlights from getting out of focus. Frequent inspection is necessary because when the machine passes a bump, the joint is likely to undo what has been done at last adjustment, causing the motorist who is negligent to drive under conditions that endanger the lives of others.

The highway department suggests that a good way to test your lights is to place some object 25 feet ahead of the car and if any main beam strikes higher on this object than the height of the center of the headlight, the lamps need to be re-focused.

Lybarger Wins $550 Award.

Lee Francis Lybarger, Jr., of Bucknell university, won fourth place in the finals of the fourth annual intercollegiate oratorical contest in Los Angeles, a few nights ago. He is the son of L. P. Lybarger, Millburg attorney.

The fourth place winner, whose prize is $550, was a member of Bucknell's graduating class last spring. Throughout college he held an unprecedented record of prominence in oratorical activities.

He was the winner of the school's freshman declamation prize, and the sophomore oratorical prize. He took part in previous national oratorical contests, winning first prize in the eastern Pennsylvania meet one season and second place in the Pennsylvania State contest the next year.

First place, with its prize of $1,500, went to Carl Albert, a freshman at Oklahoma university. Herbert Wenig, of Stanford university, was second, winning $1,000. Allan Frew, Davidson college, Davidson, N. C. was third. His prize was $750.

WARNS OF FOURTH OF JULY ACCIDENTS TO CHILDREN

State Department of Health Gives Timely Advice—"Be a Patriot, But Let Fire-Cracker Alone."

"Prepared to celebrate the Fourth of July, a boy of twelve years, a few days ago, filled his pocket with giant torpedoes, and then fell with such force that the torpedoes exploded, tearing a hole nine inches in diameter, in his flesh. While this can be classified as a freak accident it nevertheless serves to attract attention to the inevitable 4th of July casualties," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health.

"It may be interesting to note that in the past twenty years 61,000 men, women and children have been killed, maimed or injured in Fourth of July accidents—a rather large price to pay for the celebration of the birthday of even so great a nation as the United States.

"While municipal ordinances in the large cities of the Commonwealth forbid the sale and use of explosives within their borders, the fact remains that nearly every conceivable form of fireworks can be readily purchased outside the city limits along the main highway. This is the intended protection to children is largely lost.

"While it is very natural to accede to childish impetuousness, one's enthusiasm should not overcome judgment. Particularly is this required when faced with the roadside stand that appealingly displays powder in the guise of fireworks and other forms of the use of which may maim and even slay. Patriotism, after all begins at home, and an enthusiasm which permits small children to purchase powder goods along the highway that are forbidden in the city is, to say the least, an extremely poor manifestation of love for one's youngsters.

"Some years ago lock-law took a tremendous toll because of the so-called toy pistol. Just remember that any kind of a gun which will shoot blank cartridges is far from being a toy. And the danger is in the immediate use of the trigger-spring to be weak, thus causing premature and unlooked-for explosions with their dangerous flesh-wounding consequences.

"It may seem a bit arbitrary to deny one's offspring the dubious, though undoubtedly exciting experience of 'playing with fire,' but if at the end of the day it is a question of an injured or mortally wounded child against a happy and healthy one then there is no sound argument against the safety side.

"Therefore, under no circumstances permit small children to play with fireworks or fire-works of this sort of thing must be a part of the Fourth of July celebration; then keep the children at a safe distance from them.

"In the event of this warning being disregarded and a powder burn, however slight, resulting give the victim the advantage of immediate medical advice. Tetanus, commonly known as lock-jaw, may result if this suggestion is not followed.

"Be a patriot by all means, teach the children the meaning of Fourth of July and permit them to enjoy it. But let the fire-crackers alone and manage the fireworks yourself. Be safe and sane and sensible—rather than foolish, over-enthusiastic—and sorry."

No Paper Next Week.

Next week being the week of the "Glorious Fourth," there will be no paper issued from this office, which is in keeping with custom. The office will be open, however, to receive money on subscription, take orders for printing, and the like.

WHEN WILD PIGEONS DARKEN THE SKIES

Harrisburg Man Tells How the Pigeons Were Slaughtered in the Late Seventies—the Terrible Cry of the Panther.

The following story from the pen of Henry W. Shoemaker appeared in his newspaper, the Altoona Tribune, the other day:

S. L. Williams, veteran compiling clerk from the capitol at Harrisburg, in commenting on the report that a lone wild pigeon was seen near the Zimmerman hospice in the mountains above Potters Mills, says:

"I can recall the time when the sky was dark with wild pigeons, millions of them on the wing. I have helped my father net one hundred and one dozen pigeons in a single day in the fields back of Montoursville, Lycoming county, where I spent my boyhood days. They would come rushing toward us from over the mountains, and we would stand up a flyer, that is, a pigeon fastened to a long cord, and they would come down to the feed beds, and we would spring the trap, and the net would soon be a struggling mass of captive pigeons. I have been to the nesting grounds of the pigeons, on Wolf Run, near Proctor, in Lycoming county; that was in 1877. They were butchered at their nesting time, and it is no wonder that they left the country. No, I don't think they are extinct, they merely left this Pennsylvania where sure extermination forced them."

Mr. Williams has also some interesting reminiscences of wild cats, panthers, and other creatures once abundant in the Pennsylvania forests. He told the following incident:

"In the winter of 1882 I was in bed one night at a lumber camp on Shingle Branch, of Youngwoman's Creek, in Clinton county, when the roar of a panther on a nearby mountainside made us all sit up in bed. Truly it was the most terrific sound that I have ever heard. There was no more sleep for any of us that night, and the horses almost tore the stables down in their fright. Panthers lingered on in the Youngwoman's Creek region until the forests were cut away, when like the wild pigeons, they vanished for the unknown country."

OWNERSHIP OF TOP OF NITTANY MT. IN LITIGATION

Ownership of Top of Mountain by John M. Detweiler Disputed by Musser Coldron—Argument Before Judge Fleming, July 2nd.

Who owns Top of Nittany Mountain? That is the question raised by legal proceedings by Musser E. Coldron, who claims he has a right through purchase of a part of the Top, possession of which has been held several years by John H. Detweiler.

The squabble for rights was brought about when after midnight last Wednesday, Mr. Coldron loaded a suttler's building on Grange Park onto a lumber wagon and with a truck hauled it onto Nittany Mountain Top, while Mr. Detweiler was peacefully sleeping a few rods distant.

The following morning Mr. Detweiler had Mr. Coldron arrested for trespassing. Later Coldron, through his attorney, John G. Love, had a warrant granted on Detweiler to show cause why he (Detweiler) should not bring an action in ejectment for the premises in dispute.

At the same time Coldron filed a bill in equity against Detweiler, praying for relief and possession of his (Coldron's) property.

A writ of injunction was also caused to be issued by Coldron on Detweiler restraining him from interfering in any manner in the erection of a building on his (Coldron's) own land.

The rule, bill of equity and injunction will be heard before Judge Fleming, Monday, July 2nd, at 10 A. M. Mr. Detweiler is represented by W. G. Rankle, and Mr. Coldron by John G. Love and S. D. Gettig.

The disputed land is a part of a tract originally owned by Dr. H. F. Blitner, of Lewisburg. It was parceled out to several parties, one of the purchasers being Mr. Detweiler. Another was Mrs. James S. Stahl. Mrs. Stahl sold her holdings to Mr. Coldron, and it is the boundary line on or near the top of Nittany Mountain between these two tracts that is in dispute.

Caldwell Club House Sold.

The club house located immediately west of Sunset Club house, on ground leased from the State, in Seven Mountains, was sold to J. H. Conery, Lewisburg, manager of the Butler Oil and Sales Company, in that place. The price was built up a few years ago by J. T. Caldwell, of Bellefonte, and sold by him to H. L. Ebricht and Max Herr, who sold it to the Lewisburg man. The price obtained has not been made known.

Jordan Farm Sold.

The farm owned by the late Peter B. Jordan, located at Colyer, containing 148 acres, was sold by Lloyd M. Keiser, the owner, at public sale, on Saturday, to John Jordan. The price was $4025. Other bidders for the place were John Fohringer, William Bubb and John Bedyoun, the latter of Burnham.

The household goods of the late Mr. Jordan and Mrs. Jordan were also sold on the same day.

Chicago-New York Bus Spills.

Twenty passengers in the eight-ton Fagel bus of the Purple Line, Chicago-New York, had a narrow escape Sunday morning when the bus left the concrete road at Arch Rock, four miles west of Mifflintown, plowed out ten panels of fence, sidestepped a score or more posts, and hung dangerously on the brink of an embankment with nothing but the wire fence cable holding it.

The passengers escaped with a shaking up and shock, and were taken through in a bus summoned from Reading. The driver is said to have refused to make any statement as to the cause of the accident. The wreckage of the Keystone and Montgomery garages pulled the heavy bus to the concrete and the driver brought it back to Lewisburg.

Hertelcher Home Sold.

The Hertelcher home, located at the end of the concrete road in the northern section of town, is reported on good authority, was sold on Monday. The purchaser has not been made known.

Will Enforce New Food Regulations.

The restaurant hygiene section of the State Health Department has completed plans for a preliminary survey of stores, booths and markets for the purpose of enforcing the State Advisory Board's regulation, recently approved, which prohibits the exposing for sale in any public place in the Commonwealth, articles of food or food-stuffs which are eaten uncooked unless such articles are protected from dust, dirt, flies and vermin. Howard Haines, chief of this section, said that this regulation involves grocery, delicatessen, confectionery, department stores and markets.

As a preliminary procedure the department within the next few days will distribute more than 50,000 cards carrying the provisions of the regulations which in turn will be circulated by local health departments and health officers.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS DEFRAUDING STATE BY FALSE REPORTS

State Council of Education Investigating Discovers That Some Districts Have Been Obtaining More Than Their Proper Share of State Aid by Reporting Large Assessments.

Investigations by the State Council of Education have revealed a number of school districts in the State have been making erroneous assessment reports and consequently have been receiving more aid from the State than they were entitled to under the law.

This was revealed on Saturday following a meeting of the State Council of Education at which the reports of several investigators was discussed.

Dr. John A. Keith, superintendent of public instruction, said after the meeting that the council is anxious that every district in the State should know that it is justly entitled to under the law that districts should not be penalized because of obvious errors in their reports and likewise districts should not be permitted to secure from the State treasury more money than they are justly and properly entitled to receive by mere device of artificially increasing the total rate of assessment.

As the investigations are not complete the council did not make public the list of districts which have been obtaining more money from the State than was legal. Representatives of a number of the districts, however, were called before the council to explain why the financial reports submitted to the council did not correspond with the figure turned in by the investigators.

Luther Dale Family in Accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dale, of Oak Hill, sons Ralph and Frederick, and Mrs. Blanche Ferguson, the latter of Meadville, returning from a week-end visit at Meadville, met with an automobile accident at Reynoldsburg, near Dubois, on Monday afternoon. Driving on the wet road, the car skidded and struck a concrete abutment and upset. All members of the party sustained slight injuries, consisting mostly of cuts and bruises. Medical attention was given at the office of Dr. King in Reynoldsburg. The car was considerably damaged, so that it was left for repairs and a call sent home for another car to bring the family to Oak Hill.

Third Centre County Bull Association Is Formed.

The third Centre County Holstein Bull Association was organized here a short time ago, and on Saturday a fine sixteen months old Holstein bull was received from the Nordlake farms, Munton, Wisconsin, the breeder being B. W. Norris, Prof. Bromell, State College, selected the animal.

The dairymen composing the organization named above were brought together largely through the efforts of County Agent R. C. Blaney. The group is made up of Messrs. Charles R. Smith, R. Willard Smith, Charles Scott, Fern T. Dunkle, Charles Ross, Clarence Blazier, M. T. Burkholder, T. F. Delaney, John W. Delaney, Paul Bradford.

Independence Day, 1776, Saw History-Making Feat.

The States of Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois have in the past, or soon will be, paying honor to the memory of George Rogers Clark, and as Independence Day comes 'round again the whole nation might well join in remembering him. For on July 4, 1776, he was engaged in a history-making feat by which the whole nation benefited.

If you would know what this feat was, why it was so important and why it is so appropriate to honor the name of George Rogers Clark as a part of the Fourth of July celebration this year, be sure to read the illustrated feature article, "1776—July 4, 1776," by Elmo Scott Watson in this issue of the Reporter.

The New Train Schedule.

The new train schedule on the L. & T. now in effect, is a radical change from that of the old schedule adhered to with but slight change since the road was built, more than forty years ago. Lemont is the only station on the line in the valley that will have an agent on duty when the train east, arriving here at 6:10 P. M., passes through. Baggage and express for points west of Montandon will be carried through to Sunbury and brought back in the morning train west. No express or baggage will be either received or sent out on the evening train going east from points between Bellefonte and Montandon, except at Lemont.

As heretofore a postal mail clerk and regular mail car will be carried on the first train west and the last east. The other two trains will carry only closed pouches and sacks.

Kelley's Entertain.

A Reedsville correspondent furnishes this news item: Mrs. Maurice Kelley and Mrs. J. Arthur Kelley entertained 72 guests at the Juniata Valley Country Club at a bridge luncheon. Guests from McVeightown, Bellefonte, Lewisburg and Milroy were present. Prizes were received by Mrs. Wm. Black, Lewisburg; Mrs. Lucrета Damm, Lewisburg; Miss Edith Bratton, Lewisburg, and Mrs. Harold Bloom, Reedsville.

Out of town guests were: Mrs. Walter Kelley and daughter, Dallas, Texas; Mrs. Roy Kelley, McKeesport; Mrs. Ormsby Hampson, Baltimore; Mrs. Clara Elston, Collinsville, Conn.; Miss Fannie E. Hottelster, Hanover; Miss Marian Gillespie, Lancaster, and Miss Wills, Punnatsylvania.

The John R. Lee farm, at Colyer, is offered for sale. See ad. in this issue.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

No paper next week.

H. L. Ebricht installed a hot water heating plant in his home last week.

Cow sale by Cressman & Ricker, on Grange Park, Saturday of this week. See ad. in this issue.

John Cronin and wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Shim, of near Baltimore, were guests of the W. F. Colyer family, for a day recently.

W. H. Baird, of Pleasant Gap, was a Chautauqua patron during the three-day festival at Centre Hall, and took occasion to call at this office.

The ladies' aid of the Evangelical church will hold a festival at Penna. Cass on July 7th. The Spring Mills band will furnish the music.

Kenneth G. Haines son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Haines, of Bebersburg, and a graduate of Penn State this year, joined the Nypphen baseball league as a member of the Scranton team.

Don't forget the festival on the High school grounds for the benefit of the local ball club, Saturday night of this week. The Lemont band will furnish music, and a good time is assured.

Mr. and Mrs. Albright Dreeser, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Dreeser, Miss Katie Dreeser and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Vonada and son, all of Jersey Shore, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Greenhoo, on Sunday.

Mrs. James E. Stewart, of New Bloomfield, Perry county, was here for a week with her sister, Mrs. Lucy Henney. On Sunday her husband and son came here and on returning home Mrs. Stewart accompanied them.

The Chautauqua held at Bebersburg was not supported sufficiently to pay out expenses, leaving a rather small sum to be met by the guarantors, and regardless of this condition a return engagement for next year was arranged for.

John Benner, of Bellefonte, was taken to the Lock Haven Hospital recently for treatment. Mr. Benner was a former Potter township farmer and under the Democratic board of county commissioners was janitor at the court house up to the beginning of this year.

A State patrolman hung around the railroad station of town on Friday afternoon for a short while, and in that time stopped several cars whose drivers violated road laws. One of the common offenses there is to pass a car going in the same direction on the railroad right-of-way.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Dunlap and Dr. Wrencher and wife, all of Reading, drove to Centre Hall and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. J. Lloyd Brooks on Rhoneymede, Mrs. Dunlap's old home. From here they went on to Tyrone where they were guests of Mrs. Roger T. Bayard, a sister of Mrs. Dunlap.

The George M. Gamble mill, at Bellefonte, offered at public sale by John Curtin, trustee for the bankrupt Frank Mayer estate, was bid to for $28,000. There were claims against the property for $35,000. The property is said to be worth at least $50,000. C. Y. Yeager, when themill was owned by Mr. Gamble, offered him $95,000 for the place.

Miss Elizabeth Hoy, daughter of Mrs. Anna Hoy, of Philadelphia, who some years ago spent her summers regularly at the home of her grandparents, the late Mrs. Wm. B. Mize, will leave next Saturday for a two months' trip abroad. She will travel through Spain, Italy, Switzerland, France and England, returning to the States the early part of September.

Ernest Frank, who for several years has held a position with the Maryland State Highway Department as an examiner of applicants for driver's license, has resigned his position to accept a clerical position in a large automobile tire and accessory store, which position affords greater opportunity for advancement. Mr. Frank and his family are now visiting relatives in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Neese, of Millheim, Mrs. Bruce Roseman, of Penn township, and Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Campbell, of Pennsylvania Furnace, returned from a week's motor trip to Ohio. The group visited in Youngstown, Akron and Cleveland. In Youngstown they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Goodhart and in Akron they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bohn.

The changing of the train schedule on the Lewisburg and Tyrone branch of the Pennsylvania has resulted in John Fisher, baggage master under the old schedule, on the early train east, to select a run out from Tyrone, which appears to him to be more to his liking. Mr. Fisher began railroading as a passenger brakeman thirty-seven years ago, and later was advanced to baggage master. During the World War, when the services of a railroad mail clerk were dispensed with on the train referred to, Mr. Fisher since then handled the closed pouches and sacks carried on the trip east and west together with the baggage and express.

Boyd F. Jordan, who recently resigned as cashier of the Port Matilda Bank, was in Centre Hall on Saturday and called at this office to have his "Report" forwarded to Jersey Shore where he and his family will reside in the future. From a list of fifty applicants, Mr. Jordan was selected for the position of assistant cashier of the new Union National Bank of Jersey Shore, which will open its doors for business on Saturday. The bank is capitalized at $125,000, and has trust powers. Three thousand invitations have been issued for the opening ceremonies. Mr. Jordan is a native of Tusseyville, a Centre Hall High school graduate, and a young man of pleasing personality and ambition, qualities which assure his success.
