

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Hecla Park Sunday concerts are being largely attended. Penna. Cave and the Woodward cave also did big runs on Sunday.

Mrs. Margaret Godshall visited her daughters and son in Washington, D. C., for two weeks, returning home Saturday evening.

Misses Carrie Jamison, of Bellwood, and Adaline Clarke, of Tyrone, were guests of their cousin, Mrs. V. A. Aumuh, in town, from Tuesday until Friday.

Prof. J. F. Wetzel, principal of the local High school, is attending the summer sessions for teachers at Susquehanna university, Selinsgrove, which will continue for eight weeks.

The construction of the buildings on Grange Park to be used for exhibiting farm stock during the Grange fair is moving along nicely. The new buildings are located on the south-east section of the park, which particular location is that recommended by the authorities regulating county fairs.

The three meetings on Sunday night kept church-goers going. From 7:00 to 8:00 o'clock a children's service was held in the Lutheran church; Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick during the same hour preached to the members of the P. O. S. of A., and from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock the Chautauqua people had a program in the Grange Park auditorium.

Clyde Moyer, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Allen Moyer, of Vandergrift in the Pittsburgh district, drove to the Bruce Runkle home east of town. On returning he left his mother here and took with him John Runkle, Jr. On Sunday the two will come back, and Mrs. Moyer will return home with her son. Mrs. Moyer, before marriage, was Miss Hattie Condo, born and reared near town.

Paul Bradford, for a number of years a successful tenant on the Old Fort farm, is seriously considering giving up the cultivation of the soil and taking up the conduct of a hotel in Willard, a thriving railroad town in Ohio. He looked over the place a short time ago and was favorably impressed. The hotel is owned and conducted by his brother, Alfred Bradford, who desires to retire.

Early Monday morning a wrecked Pontiac coupe was found lying on its side on the southern slope of Nittany Mountain. The car had been jammed against the rocks on its way down the concrete road. The occupants were somewhat injured and were given surgical attention by Dr. Morrow. They are said to have been from Harrisburg, and were taken there by friends in a second car accompanying the party.

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Luse had early morning visitors on Sunday from Greensburg when Messrs. G. F. Scott, Fred Rugh, George Rugh and Alfred Ludwig, friends of the family, arrived at breakfast time. In the evening of the same day a car from Sandusky, Ohio, appeared loaded with relatives who will remain here for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Luse, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Dutrow. The Ohio people are William Spayd, manager of the Kroger chain store at Sandusky, Mrs. Kroger and little son, Mrs. Elbery Spayd, Mr. Spayd's mother, and Mrs. Henry Stricker, Mrs. Spayd's mother.
