OBSERVATION PLATFORM BUILT AT "PETE'S PLACE" ON MT. TOP

During the past week, Musser E. Coldrop, who conducts an eating stand on top of Nittany Mountain above Centre Hall, erected a huge observation platform, which affords a magnificent view of the valley for miles in both an easterly and westerly direction.

With M. C. Barger, the Spring Mills contractor, at the head of operations, and a force of from twelve to eighteen men, the platform, which is 35 by 40 feet in size, was erected in less than a week's time. Beginning at the roadside, the platform juts out over the mountainside for forty feet, the furthest point rising from 25 to 30 feet from the mountain slope below. The platform is well constructed, huge planks being spiked together and imbedded in five feet of concrete to provide the necessary supports. There are a score or more of these A substantial railing surrounds the platform, and it is Mr. Coldrop's intention to provide a telescope of several sets of hand glasses for receiving the beauties that lie in the distance.

Tonight (Wednesday) there will be an opening with a band concert by the Spring Mills band. A large crowd is expected.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Smith and two little daughters spent over Sunday at the home of Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. R. R. Finkle, in Millheim.

Mr. and Mrs. James Foust return thanks to all who rendered invaluable aid during the illness and subsequent death of their baby son.

Frank Reरिक, a railroad trackman, has temporarily been transferred from Foreman Krebs's Lewisburg crew to Foreman Hartley's crew here.

Mrs. M. E. Struhm, Mrs. J. C. Goodhart and Mrs. Helen Bittner and little son, all of town, spent Tuesday pleasantly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Geiss, in Bellefonte.

A festival will be held on the factory lawn, Potters Mills, on Saturday evening by the Spruce-ton Methodist church. An invitation is extended to all to be with them.

Mrs. Ada Butz arrived here from the South on Tuesday and is at present at the home of her sister, Mrs. S. F. Greenhoe. Mrs. Butz spent the winter in Miami, Florida, and although she left there some time ago, it is her first appearance here.

William Young, of the Pittsburgh region, who was a boy of about ten years when he left Spring Mills fifty years ago, made his first visit to that section a few days ago. He was accompanied by several daughters on the auto trip to the home of his youth.

S. E. Sharer, of near Linden Hall, one of the busiest men in Harris township, owing to the multiplicity of business he is engaged in, was a brief caller here on Tuesday. He is an auditor in his township and is having published for the board a clear statement of the finances of the school district, which, however, will not appear in this paper until next week.

Centre Hall's local poet, Harvey W. Plink, comes to you this week with a poem on Old Stone Mill. Years ago Stone Mill was a business center of considerable importance in this section of Penn's Valley. The grist mill was large and well equipped, and close by were one or more stores carrying stocks of sufficient quantity and variety to meet the needs of the community. Today conditions there are well described in a verse found elsewhere in this issue.

Miss Emma M. Cross, State nurse in Centre county with headquarters at Bellefonte, was through the valley on Tuesday in the interest of the diagnostic clinic to be held in Bellefonte on Wednesday, August 1st. She is very anxious to have the clinic be a success, especially so since it is the last to be held during her administration. She came here in December and will go to Philadelphia next month to enter the city health department. While her stay here has been brief, she has shown herself deeply interested in her work and has endeavored herself greatly to the unfortunate who came in contact with her in her official capacity.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Poulson, accompanied by two of their three children, of Cleveland, Ohio, and the former's mother, Mrs. B. Poulson, of Titusville, stopped over night with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer on their way on an auto trip to Gettysburg and other points. Mr. Poulson is with the East Ohio Gas Company. It is about twenty-eight years ago since the Poulson family left here. When the elder Mr. Poulson came here he erected the dwelling house now occupied by Mrs. D. L. Bartges and engaged in the manufacture of handles in a building on the site now occupied by the Hockman hatching. He still holds to that business and only recently opened a new factory at Titusville. It may be interesting for the readers to know that the Poulson girls, who will be recalled by many young and older, are living and married. Clara lives in Oswego, New York; Myra, in Titusville, and Grace, born here, also lives in Titusville.

DIAGNOSTIC CLINIC.

The second Extension Diagnostic Clinic, under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Department of Health, will be held on August 1st, on the second floor of the Logan Home House, East Howard St., Bellefonte, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. A corps of Department physicians and nurses will be present to make examinations of all persons—children and adults—who may present themselves for examination, especially for lung and heart ailments—actual or suspected—after which they will be reported to their regular family physicians.

It is expected this clinic will be largely attended as the previous one. J. L. SEIBERT, M. D., County Medical Director.

[This clinic is open to persons from all parts of the county. The services rendered are absolutely free regardless of the financial condition of the person of the parents of the children receiving them. Although it is desired that the directions given on the ticket be heeded, it is a question to be decided by the parties interested whether or not it is done.—Ed.]

Fifty years ago A. W. Gephart left the Gordan farm near Hecla Park, to cast his lot in Kansas, locating at Eldorado, in the southeastern section of the State, and has lived there since. His life has been devoted to agriculture, although he still lives on his farm. He and Mrs. Gephart are guests now of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Dinges, the gentlemen being cousins. Mr. Gephart states weather conditions in his home section were like here, exceedingly wet, and found the same conditions had prevailed everywhere eastward over the sections they traveled by car in reaching here. Crops not injured by hail were fair. Mr. Gephart said it may be interesting to farmers herabouts to know that farms are not all let for money rent in the west. Mr. Gephart is a share-landlord receiving a fifty-fifty rental on bottom and one-third on upland. Cattle are pastured at the rate of $7.00 per head for the season.

The Snyder stone quarries are running regularly and are shipping several car loads of stone per day, with sufficient orders in advance to keep the plant in operation for a considerable length of time.

BOY HIT BY CAR.

A car being driven by Edward Gheret, of State College, formerly of Bellefonte, hit Edward Kerstetter, a young son of Leroy Kerstetter, of Prosser-Low, a little settlement this side of Bellefonte. The boy is in the Centre County Hospital suffering from lacerations on the head, and broken bones in the left foot. While the injuries are painful they are not regarded as serious.

From the best information obtainable, Mr. Gheret, who is a contractor and builder, was absolved from all blame of the accident.

Presbyterian Manse News.

Leon K. Bryner, of Danville, sojourned a week with his uncle's family, the Kirkpatrick's. He returned Tuesday to his home in Danville. While in this section he visited friends at Pine Grove Mills and Oak Hall Station.

The Fry reunion held at the home of Fred Fry last Saturday was attended by J. M. Kirkpatrick and wife, Miss D. L. Kirkpatrick and Leon Bryner, of Centre Hall. The Captain's birthday celebrations are gala occasions and this one was much enjoyed by all who were present.

Miss D. L. Kirkpatrick, of Girard College, Philadelphia, is concluding her vacation visit with her brother at the Manse. She will return to her duties at the College on Friday of this week. Miss Kirkpatrick has enjoyed rendering service to the Girard College and like all of Girard's faithful workers has been advanced yearly since she entered their employ.

Ross Lowder, wife and daughter Dorothy and son Ross Daniel, of Oak Hall Station, and Mrs. Gramley, mother of Mrs. Lowder, dined at the Presbyterian Manse on the Sabbath.

Mrs. Rosa Haugh and Mrs. Blanche Haugh and son Hubert, of State College, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Marie Kirkpatrick.

The group of churches of which J. M. Kirkpatrick is pastor added to their membership roll during the month of July, twenty-three names.

Leon K. Bryner, Miss D. Laca Kirkpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick and son John visited among relatives last week in Spring Run, Shippensburg, Three Springs, Shiresburg, and Mt. Union.
