FIVE SUMMONED UNDER BLUE LAW FOR AUTO RACING

All Connected With 200-Mile Sweepstakes at Altoona Speedway—Question of Jurisdiction.

Five persons connected with the 200-mile international sweepstakes at the Altoona speedway, on Sunday, were ordered on Monday to appear at a hearing before Alderman Anthony O'Toole to face charges of violating the Sunday "blue law" of 1794. No date was set for the hearing.

Those cited were Paul Sheedy, speedway manager; Val Haresnape, starter; Harry E. Emerick, in charge of the program, and Francis Straney and Edward Martin, concessioners at the track.

The maximum penalty for violation of the law is a $4 fine. While the five were ordered to appear in an Aldermanic Court, the alleged offense was committed in Antin township, seven miles from the city line. For this reason the question of jurisdiction was raised.

The race was held Sunday in spite of the fact that an injunction was served seeking to prevent it. However, the injunction was not signed by a Judge.

FIRST VOCATIONAL SCHOOL IN CLINTON COUNTY THIS YEAR

Sugar Valley District Will Have Consolidated School With Four-Year Academic Course, and Vocational Courses.

The opening of the schools of Logan borough and the Sugar Valley Vocational School, on September 4th, shows what a small community can do for its children in the way of giving them an opportunity to secure an education.

The principal of the borough schools and of the new vocational school is Lyell Carr, who has been head of the Logan borough schools for the past several years. Mr. Carr is a graduate of Bucknell University at Lewisburg. J. Rex Haver, graduate of Pennsylvania State College, will have charge of the department of agriculture in the new school. This work has been taken up in a general way by Mr. Haver, who has been on the ground since the beginning of last month, and who will supervise the boys in practical farming in the summer each year, making his job an all year round one. Miss Agnes Caffey, also a graduate of Penn State will have charge of the newly installed department of home economics. Miss Ethel Rippe, a graduate of Wilson college, will take up her second year of work in the Logan schools. Allen Lamey, a resident of Sugar Valley and director of the High school orchestra, and Miss Grace Royer, of Logan, both graduates of the Lock Haven State Teachers College, will continue teaching in the Logan schools this season.

The first class High school which had been conducted in the borough will undergo some changes in its curriculum in order to become a vocational High school and remain a first class High school at the same time. The home economics course will be taught in the regular school building on the first floor and the agricultural course will be conducted entirely in the grange hall. The basement and first floor of this building have been rented by the vocational board of education and made into class rooms, shops and storage spaces.

The home economics work will include clothing, foods and art, and the girls of the freshman and sophomore years will have a half day in these courses and will also carry work in English, civics and Algebra in freshmen, of the first two subjects and a choice of Algebra or Latin in sophomores, the academic course being retained and the vocational work added. The boys will take courses in gardening, poultry and shop work, and the books and fully 600 bulletins have already been secured from Washington, D. C., along with maps, charts and much useful material provided by the commercial companies. The freshman and sophomore boys will be given the vocational work each year with an elective course in wood shop work for the juniors and seniors. Fully seventy-five pupils are expected to enroll in the vocational High school this fall.

A number who had intended leaving school have signified their intention to return and take the new courses offered. The school is being sponsored by the joint boards of education of Logan borough and Logan and Greene townships and is the first vocational school to be established in the rural districts of the county.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

DIP FARM FLOCKS—Now is the time to dip the lambs and ewes of the farm flock to save wasting high-priced feed on ticks next winter. Use a good livestock preparation for the dipping operation.

VENTILATE FOR HEALTH—Good ventilation of barns helps to maintain more uniform temperature, keep stock healthier, and eliminate the frost nuisance. Provide it now so good conditions will be available for the coming winter.

TESTING TELLS STORY—Wasteful feeding too often follows lack of information on production. The good producing cow does not get enough and the poor milker gets too much feed for profitable production. Testing tells the story of production related to feed requirements.

BALANCE FARM CROPS—Where a proper balance between cultivated, legume and small grain crops is maintained, a real crop rotation results. This will aid in the maintenance of a productive soil.

PASTURES NEED CARE—Permanent pastures need manure, lime and fertilizer to keep them in a highly productive state according to farm specialists of the Penna. State College.
