

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mrs. John H. Puff, Mrs. C. W. Booser and William Booser, Jr., spent Wednesday in Bellefonte with Mrs. Puff's aunt, Mrs. Derstine, in the Decker apartment.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wega, of Nanty Glo, drove to Centre Hall on Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Bartholomew. Mrs. Wega, before marriage, was Miss Mary Krumbine.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Breen and son, of Horseheads, N. Y., motored here on Thursday of last week for a few days' visit among relatives. Mr. Breen is a brother to Mrs. Harry E. Fye, of town. Both he and Mrs. Breen are natives of this section.

Reuben Garis and little son Charles, of Pinleyville, a Pittsburgh suburb, came here on Sunday for a two-day visit among the home folks. Mr. Garis is manager of a large general store conducted by one of the large coal companies in Washington county.

Mr. and Mrs. John Alumbach, Harry Weisner Harry Eckert, and John Mingle, all of Schuylkill Haven, who come here every fall during the hunting season and make the home of A. J. Weisner, near Colyer, their headquarters, were guests of Mrs. Weisner during the latter part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kerlin and their daughter, Mrs. Charles Hartman, and husband of Harrisburg, were guests on Sunday and Monday of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman. Mr. Hartman is assistant superintendent of the Gray Bar Electric company store, a branch of the Western Electric Company.

The Fort Steuben bridge, the most modern suspension type bridge on the Ohio River, was dedicated last Wednesday, at Steubenville, Ohio, where it crosses the river. Steubenville observed a half-holiday in its celebration. Guy W. Jacobs was on the committee of arrangements for the dedication, being chairman of the reception committee.

Charles E. Zerby, now a district forester at Clarion, was at the camp for a part of a day last week. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Zerby, of West Brownsville, and with his parents lived here when a boy. Mr. Zerby as the custom is among State foresters, was looking over some of the work of other foresters, among the points being the field covered by Forester Harbeson, of Milroy, and the Greenwood Furnace section.

The West Branch Medical Society, covering the region from Clearfield to Williamsport, held a meeting on Wednesday of last week at Nittany Country Club, Hecla Park. Among the speakers on the scientific program were Brooks M. Ansbach, M. D., Professor of Gynecology, Jefferson Medical School, Philadelphia, subject: "The Scope of Modern Gynecologic Surgery;" Arthur C. Morgan, M. D., President Pennsylvania State Medical Society, subject: "The Profession at Large."

The "cop" employed by the borough proved inexperienced in handling a motorcycle. He mounted a cycle belonging to a stranger and started up the mountain, but did not get far until the beast began cutting capers the traffic cop's whistle failed to stop. The wicked little machine took off the road, crossed the sidewalk and butted against a stone pillar holding up a porch to the front of Mrs. George H. Emerick's home with sufficient force to break the cap and wreck the masonry. The motorcycle also suffered injuries not corrected by "first intention."

Dr. McCluney Radcliffe, of Philadelphia, was in town for a few hours Wednesday of last week and called on acquaintances. His visits here are becoming less frequent. He came from the city primarily to attend a reunion of former students of Kishicoquillas Seminary, between Reedley, Pa., and Bellefonte, in Mifflin county. This is the second meeting of the association and it was held on Thursday of last week. The old academy sent out a large number of men and women who today are prominent in their professions or vocations, as the case may be. Dr. Radcliffe continues his connection with the Wills Eye and Ear Hospital in Philadelphia, an institution widely known throughout the East for its marked surgical services.

A Rare Musical Treat.
The congregation in the Lutheran church here received a rare and unexpected musical treat on Sunday morning when a male quartette, a pianist and soloist, all of Dallastown, York county, appeared and rendered several selections. The musicians were Hiram Peters, first tenor; Robert Keener, second tenor; M. L. Law, first bass; Leon Keener, second bass. The pianist was Miss Mary Rupp, daughter of Rev. Rupp, pastor of a Reformed church in Dallastown, and the soloist, Miss Mary Perry, a teacher in the High school in the same York county town. Most of the party were former parishioners of Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, pastor of the Lutheran church here, whose guests they were. They also sang at the services held by Rev. Greenhoe at Farmers Mills. Particularly interested listeners were Dr. and Mrs. Rupp and two little children, of Lewistown. The doctor is an uncle of the pianist, whose solo work was a perfect delight.

John F. Foreman, of Cresson, was in town on Sunday.
The indications are there will be a new train schedule on the L. & T. in the near future. There is a possibility the afternoon trains will be eliminated.
