party" to rally for the "destruction of the traffic in alcoholic liquors." The bolters, about 300 in number, held a separate meeting and adopted resolutions characterizing the nomination of Smith as an unfortunate error. They left the direction of their future activities in the hands of an executive committee headed by Alvin S. Moody of Houston. WHILE Senator Robinson, Demodate, was making a whirlwind speaking tour through the South, Governor Smith gave such time as he could spare from state duties to conferences with party leaders and to further refutation of charges made in the deplorable "whispering campaign." Informed that he was accused, in a letter, of being "disgustingly intoxicated" at the New York state fair at Syracuse, 'he issued a formal denial of the charge, which denial was backed up by the statements of men who were close to him all during the day of his visit to the fair. Maine Election Notable for Size of G. O. P. Majorities; Smith Nails a Lie.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

HOSE who still place faith in the I old saying "As Maine goes, so goes the nation" are now free to place their bets on Hoover; for the Republican ticket won a sweeping victory in the state election last week. However, no one had doubted that the G. O. P. would elect its candidates, and the significant features were the size of their majorities and the total vote. The former was a surprise to even the most optimistic Republicans. Willlam T. Gardiner defeated E. C. Moran, Jr., for the governorship by nearly 85,000 votes; and Senator Frederick Hale's majority over Herbert E. Holmes was approximately 80,000. The Republican majority was more than double what it was four years ago and four times what it was in 1926. The total vote was about 35,-000 less than it was in the last Presidential year, but analysis shows that the loss was mostly sustained by the Democrats. The Republicans had made an especial effort to get out their vote and the Democrats were frankly apathetic. The Republ elected all four of the state's con-

Naturally, Republican National Chairman Work rejoiced in the Maine outcome and found in it presage for a Hoover victory, asserting that the campaign in the Pine Tree state was waged largely on national issues. On the other hand, Democratic Chairman Raskob saw no omen in the result, saying his party had made no especial effort there and no national issues were decided by the Maine election. He was "surprised the Republicans did not poll a larger vote."

The records show that since 1840, in 15 out of 22 Presidential election years, the result in the Maine state election has correctly foretold the outcome of the Presidential election.

TEXAS provided an exciting incident in the campaign when its state Democratic convention opened in Dallas. A motion that only those delegates loyal to Al Smith be seated started the rumpus. The anti-Smith crowd, led by former Governor Colquitt, promptly bolted, and as they retired from the hall there were innumerable fist fights. The regulars proceeded with their business, "cordially indorsing" the national platform and Smith and in the same set of resolutions calling upon "all officers of the government and all members of the nor's political opponents, State Senator Fearon of Syracuse. Others included the newspaper correspondents who accompanied the governor. The letter was said to have been written by a woman of Syracuse to one in Parkersburg, W. Va. Republican Chairman Work has strongly repudidated the whispering campaign as an offense to common decency equally harmful to the candidate maligned and to his opponent. He says Hoover is also the object of scurrilous and false attacks. The Post Office department has taken steps to stop the sending of the vicious statements through the mails. In one instance a lot of post cards were confiscated.

Plans were completed for Governor. Smith's tour of a fortnight, September 16-30, during which he speaks in six western cities.

HERBERT HOOVER had a long conference with President Coolidge immediately after the latter's return to Washington, and while there was no announcement of the part the President would take in the campaign, it was said he probably would make one or more addresses in New England. Mr. Hoover is now directing the organization work of his campaign. The radio part is already in operation. The candidate's first real campaign speech was ready for delivery at Newark, N. J., Monday. National officers of the national Woman's party met in Washington and decided to support Hoover because, they stated, his position is in advance of that of other Presidential candidates. They said they opposed Smith "because he opposes equal rights for women in industry and has had a long record of opposition to equal industrial opportunity for women and has actively sponsored laws handicapping women in earning their livelihood."

WHEN Hoover, praising the Kellogg anti-war treaty, hailed it as one of the great achievements of the Republican administration, Secretary Kellogg showed signs of displeasure for above all things he does not want the pact dragged into partisan politics pending action on it by the senate. Said he: "I do not think the treaty for the renunciation of war should be made a party issue in either the campaign or the senate, and I cannot conceive that it will be," Reservations to the treaty, by the senate, will be vigorously opposed by both Mr. Kellogg and Senator Borah, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee. They believe there is nothing in the treaty that imperils the Monroe Doctrine or other vital interests of the United States.

Despite the fact that most of the nations of the world have accepted the Kellogg pact, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur believes the United States should go right ahead with its navy construction program. He said as much after conferences with naval officials in which both the Kellogg treaty and the mysterious Anglo-French agreement were discussed. Other officials said the Navy department would concentrate on senate approval of the sixteen-ship bill and later would try for the adoption of a large building program.

FORMAL negotiations looking to-Rhineland and final settlement of reparations were opened in Geneva by the representatives of Germany, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan. The first discussions of Germany's plea were promising, although an earlier speech by Premier Briand, attacking Chancellor Mueller's statements of German fulfillment of her pledges, had created some doubt of ultimate agreement. London dispatches said Great Britain and France were in accord on these points:

First, perfect co-operation among the allies. Second, implicit recognition of the fact that the occupation must continue unless the Germans give other guarantees for the payment of the reparations. Third, a political guarantee by Germany that the plan for the union with Fourth, the consent of Germany to the control of the demilitarized zone of the Rhineland for 25 years. Fifth, the Germans to take the initiative by presenting concrete proposals.

could not be better in all the country. Another dictator has been offered a crown, but probably will decline it. This one is Marshal Pilsudsky, who was offered the crown of the "Polish empire" by 1,500 delegates of the monarchists of that country. He already has refused a like honor several times.

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES was elected a member of the permanent court of international justice by the League of Nations to succeed John Bassett Moore, resigned. Mr. Hughes accepted, saying he deemed it a privilege to serve on the court. GEN. JOHN J. PERSHING cele-brated his sixty-eighth birthday last Thursday and Secretary of War Davis took the occasion to present to the famous soldier four foreign decorations conferred upon him since the World war. William Wood, secret service operative, will continue to act as bodyguard of the young man until March 4. Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the governor of Connecticut, returning from a motor trip through Europe, admitted to reporters that she was likely to become John Coolidge's bride sometime next winter though not before Christmas.

E ARL ROWLAND of Kansas won first place in class A of the aerial derby across the continent from New York to Los Angeles. He drove a Cessna monoplane and was in the air 26 hours and 30 minutes. Most of the planes in all three classes made the transcontinental trip safely, and the finish was a great sight for the crowds gathered at the Los Angeles field for the air races and exhibition.

Of the nine planes that started in the nonstop race across the continent not one completed the trip except that piloted by Art Goebel, and that noted aviator had been forced to stop at Prescott, Ariz. The contest was therefore declared no race. One of the aviators taking part in the local exhibition was Lieut. J. J. Williams of the army. He crashed early in the week and died of his injuries, whereupon Col. Charles Lindbergh reported at army headquarters there and asked to be assigned to take the place of his dead friend. Thereafter the "three musketeers" in little Boening fighters were led by Lindy in their maneuvers.

HIGHLY successful tests of the new submarine safety device called the "lung" were held off the coast of Maryland. Three navy divers went down 155 feet in a diving bell, and, equipped with the "lung," crawled out and made their way to the surface safely and with no discomfort. It was made known that several scores of these devices are being constructed and their final test, that of being used for actual escape from a flooded submarine in 225 feet of water, will be made next month by the same divers. The naval officers expressed a belief that last week's successful test will result in the equipping of all of the 78 submarines in the United States navy with "lungs" for each member of the crew to be placed in the escape compartments of the undersea craft.

VOTERS WILL NOT AGREE WITH WORK

White's Attack on Smith Distinctly Partisan.

Chairman Work of the Republican National committee missed a rare chance at that New York press conference to say a graceful, chivalric word which, we think, would have been widely approved. Asked if he regretted William Allen White's attack on Governor Smith, Doctor Work replied, "It's none of our business." He went on to explain that White "is a free hand and is not connected with the Republican National committee in any way."

The committee, it will be remembered, had previously washed its hands of responsibility for Mr. White. The ablution was performed by Henry J. Allen, in charge of Mr. Hoover's publicity, who "inadvertently" confided to the reporters Mr. White's cable denying that he had retracted the Smith charges.

Granting the fact that William Alien White is in no wise apprenticed to the Republican National committee, the truth is that the Kansas editor is an authentic spokesman of the Republican party. His typewriter is worth more to the party than an army corps of ordinary press agents or spellbinders. His position might be-described as that of honorary general counsel to the party. He is an unofficial personage whom the leaders consult, and is regularly drafted, as he was at Kansas City, to help write the platform. It was not as a free lance, it was not as a disinterested citizen, that Mr. White assailed Governor Smith. It was as a Republican striving to injure the Democratic candidate in public esteem and, ar a corollary, seeking to promote Mr. Hoover's prospects. And because of his unique party place and his personal prestige, anything that Mr. White says of a political character in the campaign is mornly indorsed by the Republican National committee, unless the Republican National committee explicitly repudiates it.

Doctor Work, as we have said, had a splendid opportunity to repudiate Mr. White. He had a fine opportunity to put into striking effect Mr. Hoover's announced desire to conduct this contest with dignity and decorum, and refreshingly clear of the billingsgate of barroom controversy.

Doctor Work had that chance and missed it.-St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Democrats Stand for Honest Tariff Policy

Mr. Hoover, n stating his views on the tariff, has deliberately discarded all the results of the research of the trade experts in his own department and taken his stand with those exts in his party who deman that if there is any revision at all it must be upward. He pledges his party to a fight to keep out foreign goods. Presumably, he intends to stand by all the monstrosities of the Fordney-McCumber tariff and perhaps to add to them. Toward the methods of President Coolidge in destroying the tariff commission he maintains a discreet silence.

Governor Smith, on the other hand, proposes to rehabilitate the tariff commission and through it to give the country honest tariff legislation. That is far from the Hoover policy, and those who say that the Democrats have switched over to the Republican side on the tariff issue need to revise their references. The Democrats have accepted the principle of protection but they have not accepted Mr. Hoover's idea that protection means the Fordney-McCumber law and more

Republicans "in the Air"

Apparently both the mill owners and the mill workers of New England will be likely during the campaign to ask Curtis, Smoot and other Republican spellbinders to offer them some plan of "protection" against the cotton fields, climate, cheap power and lower cost of living that make the southern mills such devastating competitors. And what will Curtis, Smoot, et id omne genus answer?

It is a fairly safe bet that they cannot propose any better mill relief in the East than they have farm relief in the West .- Atlanta Constitution.

Candidates in Agreement

Senator Robinson's speech was more than the parrot-like echo of the average Vice Presidential candidate after the master has spoken. The Arkansas senator shows an independence of spirit as well as a deep grasp of the fundamental issues before the country. He agrees with Al Smith on the major Items outlined in the latter's speech of acceptance, even though he may disagree on some matters of personal interest and preference. Where he agrees he does so not because Al Smith says so, but because of his own frank convictions.

Tariff and the Farmer Mr. Curtis has told the farmers that many of the things which they buy have been placed on the free list by the present tariff. A diligent examination of the schedules shows that the only dutiable articles under the Underwood tariff which are now on the free list are acenapheene, toluene, xylene, pichurim beans, chestnuts and brick. Few farmers have ever heard of any of these commodities except the last two, and it is of little consequence that they are free of duty.

So Constipated That Life Seemed Hopeless

"In November, 1920, I wrote you for special instructions in the use of Milks Emulsion. I have been constipated for a number of years and suffered with my bowls for a long time. An operation was advised, but I was afraid of an operation, and your Emulsion had been recommended to me, so I decided to try it,

I could not eat any solid foods for months, but tanked up on liquid diet, until I threw it up constantly. Nothing passed my bowels except a dry, hard powder. "Finally when I was convinced that I had only a little longer to live, I resolved to try Milks Emulsion. This was in November, 1920, and after a continuous decline for two years. Now I am happy to say to you that I am greatly improved. At this writing my bowels are fairly regular with proper consistency. I have gained in weight and I am beginning to have an appe-

Rat Wore "Corset"

A rat caught at Hastings, Neb., appeared to be wearing a sort of girdle or corset. Examination showed that the rat while small had crawled into a marrow bone and had been unable to shake it off. The hole in the bone was not much over an inch in diameter, so that as the rat grew, its waistline could not develop. It had much the appearance of the wasp waist of the ladies of years ago.

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. Als your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what any experienced nurse would do-what most physicians would tell you to dogive a few drops of plain Castoria, No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. * Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot pat away. And it's always ready for the crueler pangs of colic, or constipation or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.
