

Gregg Twp. Vocational School Holds Instructive Community Day Program

IDEAL DAY FOR VARIOUS ACTIVITIES WHICH COMBINE TO MAKE SUCCESS OF ANNUAL FETE.—PRIZES AWARDED IN SPLENDID EXHIBITS.

The annual Community Day for Gregg township, held under the direction of the Gregg Township Vocational School, was observed last Friday at Spring Mills. The weather was ideal for such an occasion and as a result a large crowd was present throughout the day. All of the various meetings, contests and other events listed for the day, were well attended by citizens of the local and surrounding communities.

Much favorable comment has been heard regarding the display of agricultural products. The quality of these products was high, and the number of such exhibits was larger than the exhibits of last year. The grade and rural school exhibits were exceptionally good, and much credit was due them for their part in making the fruit and vegetable exhibits a success. Each of the seven rural schools in the township and the three graded schools at Spring Mills exhibited products. Three prizes were awarded to these schools for the best school exhibit. The following points were taken into consideration by the judges in awarding these prizes: size of exhibit, enrollment of schools, number of kinds exhibited, and the quality of exhibit. On this basis the first prize of $5.00 went to the Farmers Mills school, whose teacher is Miss Mary Zerber. The second prize of $3.00 to the Grammar school at Spring Mills taught by T. R. Condo. The third prize of $1.00 to the Decker school, which is taught by Miss Rosella Heckman. The following schools received honorable mention for their good work: Primary, Logan and Intermediate. In addition to the cash prizes awarded these schools, several hundred prize ribbons were given to individuals in these schools.

Poultry Exhibit High in Quality.

The poultry exhibited this year was declared by Prof. Kandel, the judge, better than it has ever been. Some of the birds displayed were of exceptionally high quality and would have good chances of placing in any poultry exhibition.

The canning, sewing and baking display were represented by a variety of high class articles.

The Health Program.

The Grange hall was crowded again this year for the health program which was given at 10 o'clock in the morning. The program was a most interesting one and was enjoyed by a large number of children and parents who were present. The senior Vocational girls had an active part in the making of costumes and training of the children who took part. A health talk by Miss Jeffers of the Home Economics Extension staff was appreciated and enjoyed by all present.

At the close of the health program the Millheim and G. T. V. S. girls' dodge ball teams entertained the crowd which had assembled on the grounds to see them play dodge ball. The Vocational school girls defeated the Millheim High girls, 10-9.

Prof. H. G. Nisely Speaks.

Prof. H. G. Nisely, assistant director of agriculture, extension of the Penna. State College, addressed those assembled in the Grange hall at 1:30 P. M. He gave an interesting talk on the topic: "Agriculture Possibilities." Music by the Spring Mills band was included in this program.

Interest in Poultry Judging Contest.

A new feature this year was a poultry judging contest for men which was held in the afternoon. A class of white legions and a class of Rhode Island were placed by the contestants. A silver loving cup trophy was awarded S. G. Walker, who won the contest. This trophy was donated by the Keelin Poultry Farm and it is to be a traveling cup until won by the same person twice, who will then gain permanent possession of it. The cup will be engraved each year with the name of the winner. Other prizes in this contest were: 2nd, J. R. Condo, who won a combination poultry feeder and waterer donated by C. B. Stover; 3rd, E. C. Hettinger, who won a 100 lb. bag of Pratt laying mash, donated by the Spring Mills Co.; 4th, George Gerlich, 14-qt. bucket given by J. C. Robinson; 5th, M. T. Zuber, subscription to farm paper, given by H. M. Hoy.

Women's Poultry Judging Contest.

The women's poultry judging contest was conducted under the same plan as the men's, outlined above. The winners were: First, Mrs. H. E. Hennigh, who won a silver loving cup trophy which was donated by the Sheffield Farms. This cup, as in the case of the men's cup, must be won by the same individual twice before they may gain permanent possession of it. Second, Mrs. Ralph Homan, $5.00 in gold, donated by the Dalrymple's League; 3rd, Mrs. G. W. Long, 100 lbs. Amco poultry feed, donated by John Hoster; 4th, Mrs. M. T. Zuber, 12-qt. bucket, given by B. G. Meyer; 5th, Mrs. S. G. Walker, subscription to woman's paper, given by H. M. Hoy.

These poultry contests were conducted by Prof. H. C. Kandel, and proved to be an interesting feature on the day's program of events.

Games, Races, Soccer.

Games and races were conducted on the athletic field for several hours after lunch. Many pupils from the local schools and visiting schools entered these contests and races, and as a result real competition and keen interest were in evidence. Prizes were awarded the winners in the various events. These prizes were given by the merchants of Spring Mills, and were greatly appreciated by the boys and girls who were fortunate to win one or more of them.

A real soccer game was played at 3:30 P. M. The G. T. V. S. boys were the winners over Millheim High by the score of 1-0. The game was close throughout, and the winner was in doubt until the final whistle. The chicken supper prepared and served by the Vocational girls under the direction of the Home Making department of the local school, was enjoyed by a large number, and much favorable comment was heard concerning the supper.

Evening Program: "Cabbages"

The Grange hall was filled to capacity for the program in the evening. The feature of the program was the one-act play, "Cabbages," which was ably played by a group of Vocational students. The Spring Mills band also played several selections at this meeting, and their music at that time and at other events during the day was greatly appreciated. The awarding of prizes at the close of this program brought the events of the day to an end.

The day was a successful one from all standpoints, and was well supported by the citizens of the community. Interest is growing from year to year which makes Community Day a permanent event for the citizens of the community.

The list of prize winners follows. Winners of ribbons in school exhibits will be published next week.

HANNAH FURNACE MAN KILLED BY A TRAIN

Daniel Stimer, Aged 32 Years, Met a Sad Death on Saturday Night.

The body of Daniel Stimer, aged 32, of Hannah Furnace, was found lying along the tracks of the Bald Eagle Valley branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad early Sunday morning, the head and right hand missing. The accident was reported by a railroad conductor, who immediately notified officials of the affair. It was not until some time later that the head was found farther along the track, states the Philadelphia Journal.

The body was found about a mile east of Hannah station. It was taken to the undertaking parlors of C. M. Pringle, at Port Matilda, where an inquest was conducted by Coroner Heatton, of Philadelphia. From what could be ascertained from a few people who had seen Stimer early Saturday night, Stimer had spent some time in Port Matilda and started to walk to his home at Hannah Furnace, about four miles distant. Following his usual habit he walked along the tracks of the Bald Eagle Valley branch. It is apparent that he was struck by a passing train. His vision was impaired, it is said, which probably had something to do with the fatal accident.

He was born and raised at Hannah Furnace. He is survived by four brothers, Ephraim, John and Samuel Stimer, of Hannah Furnace, and James W. Stimer, of Tyrone.

Evangelical Ministerium of Lewisburg Met in Local Ev. Church.

The Evangelical Ministerium of Lewisburg and vicinity held their regular monthly meeting in the local Evangelical church in Centre Hall, Tuesday morning of last week. "Winning Youth for Christ" was the subject of a well-prepared paper read by Rev. D. F. Young, of Northumberland. Dinner was served at the parsonage. After dinner speech was given by Rev. W. L. Kambell, of Centreville.

Those present were Revs. A. F. Weaver, Presiding Elder of the Lewisburg District; H. C. Kieffel, of Millheim; J. W. Zang, of White Deer; D. F. Young, Northumberland; Reed O. Stealey, Milton; W. L. Kambell, of Centreville; W. H. Alley, of Milton; N. J. Decker, of Hummel's Wharf; William O'Donnell, of Winfield; A. A. Winters, superintendent of the Evangelical Home, Lewisburg; M. A. Herman, of West Milton; E. K. Baker, of Rebersburg; and W. L. Smith, Centre Hall.

Injuries Fatal to State College Man.

Herbert Nichols, an employee of Shoemaker Brothers, contractors, who fell on September 9 from a coal pile where he was working, and suffered internal injuries, died at 3 o'clock Thursday in the Centre County hospital at Bellefonte.

He is survived by a wife and several children.

WILL CENTRE COUNTY SUPPORT NEFAARIOUS GAME LAW?

We promised in our columns last week to tell the voters of Centre county what our representative in the General Assembly, the last two sessions, has played in protecting our county from the deadening effect of overpopulation of power. It was interesting to note that in an open letter sent to the Gazette, last week, some one by the name of D. Glenn Moore, anticipated our explanation on one of the propositions, and began offering excuses for Mr. Holmes before we could even tell about his vote upon the Game Bill.

Prior to the session of the Legislature in 1925, it was possible in different localities to have a special doe season not exceeding three days, when conditions warranted it. But how was this to be done? Two hundred citizens of a county desiring to have a special season, petitioned the Game Commission, setting forth that the game had become a nuisance. Ninety days before such special season opened, this application was required by law to be advertised for three weeks in two county papers. This gave every citizen of the county affected a chance to raise his voice of protest or approval as he chose.

By Act of Assembly dated May 14, 1925, P. L. 752, the Game Code was so amended that "upon information obtained by the board" deer without visible antlers may be killed for a special season of such length as the board may deem advisable. The ninety day advertisement was reduced to thirty days, making organized protest practically impossible. Other sections of the Game Code were amended in the same fashion. Local choice is now entirely eliminated.

Certainly Mr. Holmes did not vote for the Game Code of 1923, but he did vote for the nefarious amendment of 1925, and cannot relieve himself of the responsibility. To date more than 5500 special doe licenses have been issued, over two-thirds of which have been issued to non-residents. If the people of Centre county want an open season for does they should have it, but it should not be thrust down their throats without having a voice in the matter. A representative who votes to take away the voice of his constituency in a matter of local importance is not a representative at all.

The people of Centre county want a man who will at all time work for the best interests of Centre county, and for strict home rule in all matters of local concern here, we believe, they will cast their ballot for ANDREW CURTIN THOMPSON.

BOOK TRUCK WILL TOUR CENTRE COUNTY

Will Visit Many Sections—At Centre Hall, Friday—Mrs. Cowell and Mrs. Beach in Charge.

Without indorsing the movement to tax for a county library, the following is published as a news item:

The Department of Education, Bureau of Library Extension, of Harrisburg, under the direction of Dr. F. E. Gochran, has planned a series of their brand new Demonstration Book Truck to Centre county for the week of October 22nd, to demonstrate the workings of a Centre County Library. The truck will be under the direction of Miss Evelyn Matthews, Extension Librarian. She will speak on Saturday at the Federation of Women's Club meeting at Bellefonte.

The book truck will be parked all day Saturday, October 21st in Bellefonte. On Monday morning it will begin a tour of the county. The following is the itinerary as planned: Monday—Harrisburg to Blanchard to Jacksonsville, Nittany, Hubbersburg, Zion.

Tuesday—Unionville, Martin, Julian, Sandy Ridge, Osceola Mills, Philadelphia, Pottsville, Moshannon, Gillsintown, Snow Shoe, Millburg, Thursday—Axemann, Dale Summit, Lemont, State College, Pine Grove Mills, Boalsburg, Oak Hall.

Friday—Pleasant Gap, Centre Hall, Madisonburg, Rebersburg, Millheim. Saturday—Aaronsburg, Coburn, Risingside, Spring Mills, Pottersburg, Mifflin. The first three days' tour is in charge of Mrs. Robert Mills Beach of Bellefonte, and the last three under Mrs. A. W. Cowell, of State College. Requests for visits of the truck and questions regarding it may be directed to them. It is earnestly hoped that everyone in the county will make an effort to see the "Library on Wheels."

Bee in Car Creates Havoc.

Because a bee invaded their auto, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moore, 42 and 60, of 2606 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, are at a private hospital in Lewistown with injuries expected to prove fatal. Mrs. Moore has fractures of the skull, nose, jaw and left leg, and it became necessary to remove her left eye on Sunday. Moore suffered fractures of the jaw and ribs, a crushed breastbone and other injuries. No hopes are held out for the recovery of either.

They were enroute to Bellefonte on Saturday evening in a new sedan when a bee buzzing about in the interior of the car, excited Mrs. Moore and she threw her husband's arm. Moore lost control and the car crashed into a pole on the South Wayne street, Lewistown, detour.

Penn State's Radio Program.

The program for the coming week at the Pennsylvania State College radio station, WPSG, 259.5 meters, is as follows:

Tuesday, October 23—6:30 P. M.—Orchestra.

7:00 P. M.—Agricultural program.

Wednesday, October 24—6:30 P. M.—Organ recital.

7:00 P. M.—Talks by Dean R. L. Sackett and Dean G. L. Wendt.

Centre county had 293 marriages in 1927 and 267 in 1926, and during 1927 there were 24 divorces granted and 16 granted in 1926. In the State there were 71,130 marriages in 1927 and 72,222 in 1926, while in 1927 the divorces granted were 8,105, and in 1926 the number of divorces were 7,705.

It is within the power of Penna. Valley Democrats to elect Andrew Curtin Thompson over J. L. Holmes to the Legislature. Having already had two terms, Mr. Holmes failed to show any special fitness as a legislator and was afraid to face his constituents when they called for service at Harrisburg.

If Holmes is given three terms it will be the first break from that old custom in Centre county to hold office holders to two terms. Good men, in the past, have been denied a third term, so why make Holmes an exception?

PENNS VALLEY NARROWS ROAD BEING REBUILT

Over Four Miles of 18-Foot Water-Bound Macadam, Elimination of Curves, Three New Bridges, Part of Program.

The Union county end of the Seven Mile Narrows road is a scene of great activity these days with about eighty-six men busily engaged on reconstruction and eliminating grades and curves. Four and three-tenths miles of new 18-foot water-bound macadam will be laid, starting at the Union county line and connecting with the stretch completed last year, just east of the Laurelton State Village. More than 1200 feet of new road has already been laid.

Three concrete bridges, 6-foot span, are under construction. The road bed on Hairy John's mountain is undergoing a complete change, grades are being eliminated and the grade made easier, which when completed will allow other cars besides the new Ford to easily sail over it on high gear.

The work is under the general supervision of Daniel Zechman, of Lancaster, who is ably assisted by E. E. Johnson, supervisor of the road being reconstructed, and Charles Renner, of Lewisburg. Mr. Zerber, of Dalmatia, is inspector.

The weekly payroll amounts to about $2000, and the following machinery is being used on the job: Two steam shovels, seven 3- and 5-ton trucks, 2 teams, 4 rollers, 1 caterpillar tractor and scraper combined, 300,000 cubic yards of ground and rock will be moved in making cuts and eliminating curves of which about 300,000 cubic yards will be used for filling.

Seven months time will be required to complete the work.

"VELLED LADY CAVERN"—CENTRE COUNTY'S NEW CAVE

Mr. Haupt Extends Invitation to Public to Visit New-Found Natural Wonder.—No Admission Charge for Present Time.

Work in clearing out the "Velled Lady" cavern, the newly-opened cave, located eight miles east of Centre Hall, by G. Edward Haupt, is progressing nicely and the new formations and several rooms opened up last week. In the roof to the left of the Velled Lady was found a hole the size of a well going down straight and apparently without a bottom, as several hundred feet of rope failed to touch a bottom. The water has entirely disappeared at the entrance.

Formal opening of the cave will be advertised later, but people are being taken in daily and an invitation is extended to the public to come and look the place over; no admission charge for the present to Hidden Lake Park and Glen.

Col. Henry W. Shoemaker, eminent naturalist and writer of "Pennsylvania Mountain Stories" and folk-lore tales, will visit the cave next Monday.

Below appears a copy of a letter from Col. Shoemaker to Mr. Haupt: 71 Broadway, New York, October 6, 1928.

Dear Mr. Haupt: I would have replied sooner to your valued communication of Sept. 17th, only on three different occasions I set dates to visit the Velled Lady Cavern, but something always prevented at the last minute. I have now made an engagement with Mr. Jacob M. Hoffman, State Supt. of Parks, to visit the cavern with him on Monday, October 22nd. I plan to go there direct from my home at McElhattan, Pa., and should be there in the afternoon if all goes well.

As to the name of the cavern as per the clipping you sent me, it could hardly be said that I have named it as I merely gave the old historical name which I had in my hands as given to me by the late J. H. Chatham, many years ago. You almost got the name of the lake all right, but not quite as to Mr. Chatham it was the Lost Lake and not Hidden Lake.

As to the time when the name of the Velled Lady was given to the cavern, it was about the time of the Revolutionary War, when the first settlers came into the valley.

As to the legends of the cave, I have had considerable time to write these stories but at some time perhaps I might be able to spend a day with you and if you would provide a stenographer I could dictate the legends to her and the job could be easily completed that way. However, if I cannot do this in the next few days, perhaps if I see you on October 22nd, I can tell you some of the stories and it might form a synopsis for your booklet.

I am glad to hear that you are getting along fine in clearing out the cavern and are finding new formations daily, and that the people are much interested in the rediscovery of the lost lake.

I thank you for your cordial invitation and will hope to see you soon. Very sincerely yours, HENRY W. SHOEMAKER.

The Wiltmer Cow Sale.

A second night cow sale was held at the Mitterling stable, in Centre Hall, by W. C. Wiltmer, on Monday evening. The attendance was quite large and the bidding fairly active. Twenty-one cows were sold at an average of $150. The high and low prices were $232.50 and $111.00, respectively. The sales held at night are proving a success.

Republicans about here and others from sections here and there, just can't forget how awfully wicked the Honorable Mr. Holmes treated them when in Harrisburg in the interest of having the State road take a course through Cox's Valley instead of over a series of mountains. Mr. Holmes, instead of listening to their arguments on the subject, completely hid himself. And now these Republicans who failed to get an audience with the distinguished Representative in the General Assembly are wondering whether such treatment of them makes him advertise that "he has been faithful, efficient and conscientious in the discharge of EVERY duty."

If you don't like this doe-killing business, lump it. John L. Holmes, Centre county's representative, voted for the measure which took out of the hands of local hunters the right to declare an open season on doe deer, and put that right wholly in the hands of the game commission, and he is all-wise—knows all, sees all.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

Bezelok stock dropped six points of Saturday.

You can afford to drive with a McMore care now under the traffic light. It spells $2.50 or the first violation.

Mrs. F. O. Hosterman, of Millheim, after having been a patient in the Central Memorial hospital for five weeks, is back to her home.

Frank Smith, employed in the Fetters house, moved from the Barford house into one of Miss Sallie McClennahan's houses, vacated by R. I. Smith.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John R. Miller and daughters Arlene and Jeanette, and Miss Josephine Dickey, of Dubois, were dinner guests of Miss Margaret Jacobs, in town.

J. H. Wilson sold his property, that known as the Wetzel place, in Millheim, to J. W. Kilmeter. Robert Colver, now engaged in farming, is likely to occupy the place in the near future.

W. H. Callahan, son of D. C. Callahan, is taking a course in the Cohan Electric School, Chicago. He is a graduate of State College High school and last year taught the public school at Linden Hall.

And now the agitation is "Eat two apples a day." But—here where they grow the fruit is worth $2.00 per bushel. Who, but a policeman in a city can afford to double the consumption of this luxury during this period of Coolidge prosperity.

Pardee fire tower, on Muncy Mountain, near Bellefonte, is being put into condition for use in the close approaching forest fire season. The tower will have a young lady as a watch, whose range of vision will be wide overlands owned by the State.

One of the leading lecturers of Engleland has been engaged to speak at the Sunday chapel service of the Pennsylvania State College next week, October 23, the occasion of the annual alumni homecoming. He is J. J. Mallon, warden of Toynbee Hall, London.

Robert I. Smith, a trackman, moved his family from the northern section of town into a home recently purchased by him. The place is known as the "Neighborhood property." The two lots have been cleaned up and the house very much improved under the new owner's direction.

Guy W. Jacobs, manager of the Steubenville (Ohio) Ice Company, and director of the Citizens Budget Company of that city, is all enthused over the work the latter concern is doing. It is referred to as the "St. Louis rented money idea," and is aiming to accommodate working men who are without property to "rent" money at a reasonable rate.

Starting the season for killing rabbits legally on November 1st, as announced in last week's issue of this paper, was at variance with dates given in one or more other papers in the county, but the correct time for opening of the rabbit season stands November 1st, and not October 15th. If the article is read carefully it will tell you why October 15th is incorrect.

Bolde E. Brown, of Reading, is improving nicely after having undergone an operation for the removal of ulcers of the stomach in a hospital at that place. On Sunday he was permitted to eat in quantity for the first time since the operation. He was visited on that day by J. Fred Brown, John Jordan, Marcus Royer and D. F. Young, of Colver, in which section Mr. Brown was reared.

Howard Callahan, now tenant on the Jacob Meyer farm above Linden Hall, owned by Co. Boal, will make public sale in the spring at which time he will move to the farm owned by his father, D. C. Callahan, north of Linden Hall. This accounts for the advertisement of sale of farm stock and implements by the senior Mr. Callahan, on November 20th. At the sale a lot of pure bred and grade Guernsey cows, heifers and bulls will be sold.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huvett are in Wernersville today (Thursday) to attend the funeral of Mrs. Eleonora Gearhart Knorr, widow of the late George F. Knorr, and sister-in-law of Mrs. Huyett. She was aged over seventy years. She was a woman of many attainments and had spent much time in travel through the States and abroad. Her death was due to paralysis. Before returning home Mr. and Mrs. Huyett will go to Wenonah, N. J. to visit their daughters.

W. Maurice Keiley, of Reedsville, who some time ago took on an agency for selling coal in connection with lumbering, was farm caller on Saturday. Both he and his brother Arthur are conducting lumbering operations in Ferguson Valley. The latter is all swelled up over the recent arrival of a boy who has been named Robert Carter. He is the first child, and when he grows up he will need to look for a date six years early for pa's and ma's anniversary.

James Beck, at the ground barn below Penna. Cave, has a revivance with some classes of hunters and intends posting against a portion of his nearly four hundred acres of land. Land owners who call here and speak of hunters so frequently refer to them as committing endless depredations upon becoming gentlemen. It appears that because the hunting season is on, men ordinarily considerate of others' rights forget all about them and do not hesitate to go through gates and bars bull-like (do not close), trample underfoot what they should pass around, and shoot about buildings with the same care as one would if alone on an island. The hunter who looks at a trespasser notice posted sees the result of his own thoughtlessness or carelessness, or deviltry, as the case may be.
