

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Myla Spyer and brother Fred are at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Samuel Donaldson, at Marklesburg, for the week.

Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot is learning to drive her new Nash car, and Wednesday with her instructor drove to Warriors Mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Kittleberger and daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Louise, of Curwensville, spent Sunday at the C. D. Bartholomew home.

Victor A. Auman, a member of the Bradford & Company milling firm here, has been confined to the house the past week with a light attack of grip.

The Misses Ellen and Cathryn Dale, of Boalsburg, spent Saturday afternoon in town looking after some business interests and calling on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Benner expect to leave today for the Pittsburgh district, by automobile, and will spend a week or more among relatives and friends.

Winfield Scott, a tailor and musician, is making an effort to lease a room here in which to conduct tailoring. He is also a musician of note, especially in band music.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Puff, on Wednesday, went to Muncy where they will be guests of Mrs. Puff's brother, Rev. M. S. Deratine, and sister, Miss Rebecca Deratine, for a few days.

Lillian Bender, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender, of Centre Hall, was admitted to the Centre County hospital, on Monday morning for the removal of her tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Bradford and children, of town, and the former's sister, Mrs. Sallie Bohn, of Millheim, drove to Pittsburgh on Friday for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bauer.

Mrs. (Rev.) Harry Buck and daughter, of Minneapolis, Wis.; Mrs. Buck's sister, Miss Rhoda Mayer, and the latter's father, both of Millheim, were guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Geary.

Mr. and Mrs. James High, of Lock Haven, spent last week visiting among relatives at Millroy, Linden Hall and Tusseyville. At the last named place they were guests of Mrs. High's brother, James Runkle.

Mrs. Harvey Seanson, who has her home in Tampa, Florida, but who has been living with her daughters in Connelville for some time past, has been a guest of her brother-in-law, George Seanson, and family, in Centre Hall, for the past week.

Farmers who have begun husking corn report the crop to be in very fair condition, especially when the fact that much of it has not yet been frosted is taken into account. The quality and yield are also satisfactory on many farms.

Mrs. William Musser, on Sunday, was a guest of Mrs. F. O. Bairfoot, while Mr. Musser and a party of friends all of Altoona, went on to Penn Hall where they were guests of Mr. Musser's father, Robert Musser, former county commissioner.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Shoup and little daughter, of Pittsburgh, drove to Centre Hall in a Packard on Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender for the day. Mr. and Mrs. Shoup are Mr. Bender's foster parents. The couple were accompanied by Miss Catharine Strang and friend. Mr. Shoup is a contractor.

Among the large number of guests entertained on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, east of town, were Mrs. Luther Smith and Mrs. Joseph Gillen, Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Homan and three grandchildren, of Millheim; Warren Wiedahahn and Miss Gretchen Wiedahahn, R. N., of Lock Haven, and Fred Stamm and two sons, of Millmont.

It was amusing for C. Robert Neff, teacher in the local high school, to receive, on Monday, a summons to appear in a Philadelphia court for a violation of the traffic regulations of that city. Of course, Mr. Neff, on the day specified, was right here in Centre Hall and is therefore prepared to furnish a perfect alibi. The whole mistake, no doubt, is due to the officer's jotting down the wrong number of the offending car.

Lawrence E. Runkle, a temporary resident of Lewistown, called here on Saturday evening and states that after the county poor house is completed he will be working on the new hospital, ground for which was broken a few days ago, and will be known as the Dr. Black hospital. The structure will be of brick and tile and 150 by 80 feet in dimensions. There will be accommodation for thirty-four beds. The location is the Hollywood section at the western end of Lewistown narrows. The contractors are A. W. Funk & Co., Philadelphia, who are bound to have the building completed in 120 working days.

Charles E. Fisher, of Danville, was a most pleasing caller at the Reporter office on Saturday. He and Mrs. Fisher had been to Boalsburg to visit the former's brother, George N. Fisher, who a week or ten days previous suffered a light paralytic stroke. They also were to State College to see their son, Charles E. Fisher, Jr., who this fall matriculated at Penn State for the pre-medical course. Reverting to the matter of the illness of Mr. Fisher's brother, Mr. Fisher informed the Reporter that it was while on a trip from Danville to Boalsburg, made in the Lincoln car of Charles E. Fisher, that the pained condition first manifested itself. The party had reached a point this side of Potters Mills. George Fisher was driving the car, when he suddenly complained of loss of feeling in one hand. Little was made of it, however, a short time later Charles Fisher noticed the unmistakable signs in the face when the muscles were drawn out of normal position. As the condition progressed it was thought advisable to stop the car. This was done at Old Fort and help summoned to drive the car to a doctor's office. A physician could not be located at either Centre Hall or Pleasant Gap. Fortunately the trip was completed to Boalsburg without serious results. Mr. Fisher informed the Reporter that his brother's condition showed marked improvement.

HEART OF WEST GOES OUT TO SMITH

Farmers Throng Cities to Take Part in Enthusiastic Ovarations.

HE PROMISES IMMEDIATE AND REAL FARM RELIEF

Attacks Bigotry and Intolerance— Challenges the Ku Klux Klan—Exposes Hoover Stand on Water Power—Assails Republican Corruption.

Starting at Omaha, where in a brilliant speech he made a masterly analysis of the farm question, Governor Smith's swing through the West on his first speaking trip of the campaign was one continued triumphal progress.

At Omaha he lined himself squarely side by side with the farmer, pledging himself to get the farmer a square deal. At Oklahoma City, two days later, with the applause and thanks of the farmers still rising on all sides, he turned with characteristic vigor and courage to the issue of religious tolerance.

At Denver he attacked the connections with the water power trust of the Republican party and the Republican candidate, and explained convincingly his own constructive program.

gram with regard to water power. Republican corruption, so sensation-ally revealed in the oil scandal investigations, he assailed in his address at the Montana State Fair at Helena.

Although comment on Governor Smith's farm speech at Omaha was particularly emphasized the warmth and friendship shown by the Democratic candidate for the farmers and his determination to give them the kind of help they want, sight has not been lost of the masterly grasp which he displayed of the farm problem.

Going directly to the heart of the farm question, he said "the trouble is that the farmer is buying in a highly protective market and he is selling in an unprotected one. Everything that is used in the operation of his farm except what he himself produces, is laid behind the tariff wall. It is supposed to function for him but does not."

The Surplus
"A great many of the crops of this country the farmer grows in excess of the needs of the domestic market. That is the 'nigger in the woodpile'."

"MOVIE TONE NEWS REEL"

That is what you have got to pay your attention to, because as it stands today, the farmer is compelled to offer it in the domestic market first, and the surplus tends to pull down the price that he receives for the whole crop."

Referring to broken Republican campaign promises of 1924, Governor Smith continued, "What did they mean by 'equality between agriculture and industries'? They meant to give the farmer the benefit of the tariff; they know they have not done it. The President knows it. Candidate Hoover knows it."

Governor Smith then proceeded to show that Herbert Hoover, the Republican candidate, has absolutely ignored this vital and fundamental part of the farm problem. Mr. Hoover is against the McNary-Haugen bill, was largely responsible for President Coolidge's two vetoes of that measure, and the only suggestion he has ever made for solving the surplus problem is to starve enough farmers into bankruptcy so that there will no longer be any surplus.

Pointing out the harsh cruelty of such a policy, which would mean that millions of farmers would lose their homes and be driven into the cities to find work, Governor Smith pledged himself to a constructive and humane method of saving the farmer from the unfair and ruinous operation of the tariff.

He said: "As I read the McNary-Haugen bill, its fundamental purpose is to establish an effective control of the sale of exportable surplus, with the cost imposed upon the commodity benefited. For that principle the Democratic platform squarely stands, and for that principle I squarely stand. Mr. Hoover stands squarely opposed to this principle by which the farmer could get the benefit of the tariff."

"Here is a clear cut issue, which the farmers and voters of this country must decide. I pledge to the farmers and people of the country that no stone will be left unturned to give immediate and adequate farm relief by legislation, carrying into practice this principle for which my party and I stand."

Whispering Campaign

At Oklahoma City, pointing to his long record in New York public affairs and his four terms as Governor of the state, he denounced the secret and underhanded campaign being waged by the Republicans to arouse opposition to him on the grounds of his religion.

"There is no greater mockery in the world today," said Governor Smith, "than the burning of the cross, the emblem of Christ, and at the same time breathing hatred."

"I have the right to say that if there is any citizen in this country who believes that I can promote its welfare, that I am capable of governing the ship of state safely through the next four years, and then votes against me because of my religion, he is not a real, pure, genuine American."

He showed that religious creeds had made no difference to him in his appointments to office while Governor. Protestants having been named in the vast majority of cases and all creeds being respected.
