FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

MARK TREES TO BE CUT—It is easier to mark trees to be taken out during the winter thinning before the leaves have dropped. You can see the condition of the crowns better and how far they extend.

STORE PLENTY OF VEGETABLES—The farm family can have a supply of fresh vegetables every day throughout the winter if a sufficient quantity and variety are stored. The three important factors to watch in vegetable storage are temperature, moisture, and ventilation. Before being placed in storage, the vegetables should be in first-class condition, mature, free from injury, and "handled like eggs."

GROUND METAL ROOFS—In replacing single roofs with metal roofing the down rods should be connected to the eaves at the four corners of the building instead of at the two peaks as in some old systems. There should be points on all the cupolas and chimneys. The ends of the hay tracks should be connected to the roof and any door track more than six feet away from electric light circuits can be grounded to the rods.

TRAIN THE FOAL EARLY—The education of the foal should not be postponed until it is desired to "break" him as a 3-year old. The foal needs to be taught obedience from the start and not allowed to become willful or headstrong. Break to use of the halter early; be kind and patient. A foal responds quickly to the treatment reserved.

HOUSE THE PULLETS—Grade and house all pullets as they come into production. All pullets should be in winter quarters not later than November 1, even though they are not laying at that time. Pullets allowed to roost in the trees during the cold November nights frequently come down with colds after being housed.

Well, just try a Durant '65', then try your old one, or any other new one. We know what you'll buy.
