The Turn of The Tide

Thus far Governor Smith has been campaigning in the States where he is least well known and therefore in territory where the underground propaganda has been most effective. His success has been amazing. No competent observer can have any doubt that the contrast between Mr. Hoover's silences, evasions and irrelevances, on the one hand, and Governor Smith's plain speaking, on the other, has made a profound impression on the voters, declares the New York World.

Everywhere the question is being asked: What keeps Herbert Hoover from speaking his mind? Why can't he say what he thinks about water power, farm relief, prohibition? Why does he have to make a fake issue out of the tariff? Why do his spellbinders have to misrepresent Governor Smith's position on immigration? Why, when every intelligent business man knows it is absurd, does Mr. Hoover, who eight years ago appealed for a Democratic Congress, now pretend to believe that the Republicans have a patent on prosperity? In less than a month of campaigning Governor Smith has unsettled, exposed and discredited the Republican campaign strategy. He has already reversed the whole trend of opinion in the South and West.

The Republicans, who thought that the South would change its allegiance to the Democratic Party at the behest of Southern bigots and fanatics, must know by this time that Bishop Cannon, Dr. Stratton and Mrs. Willebrandt have failed. Southern leaders know better than any one else that to turn over their States to the so-called Hoover Democrats is to surrender to the worst elements in their communities. The border States from West Virginia to Oklahoma are fighting-ground; the bigots and fanatics have done their worst, and the liberals are on the offensive. In the West, from Wisconsin to Colorado, the whole Progressive vote, which followed Roosevelt, Wilson and La Follette, has been moving steadily toward Smith since the Omaha speech.

The Republicans know all this quite well, and in the last ten days they have done their best to conceal the greatness of the tide toward Smith by a propaganda of defeatism among the band-wagon voters.

For an historical parallel it is necessary to go back to the victory of Andrew Jackson in 1832 and of Abraham Lincoln in 1860. For today, as in those two epochal campaigns, a multitude of American voters, hitherto disregarded by the party in power, have found a champion and a program. No doxographer studying the figures of 1924 and 1920 can possibly calculate the consequences of the uprising in the West and in the East of millions of silent voters whom the Republican Party has treated as second-class citizens.

All that anybody can say is that the tide has turned toward Smith, and that with courage, intelligence and candor the victory can be won.

DEATHS

IMMEL—Mrs. Harriet Immel died at her home north of Penn Hall on Friday morning and Tuesday morning funeral services were held at the home and later at Paradise church, in the cemetery of which church the body was interred. She was aged 68 years, 1 month and 2 days. She had been in poor health for some time, suffering from chronic myocarditis, an affection of the heart.
The deceased was a daughter of Jacob and Maria (Garbrick) Snavely. She is survived by her husband, James Immel, and several children.

GARDNER—Clara Strickland Gardner, wife of Mitchell I. Gardner, a well-known resident of Clearfield, passed away in Clearfield. She was born in Bellefonte 65 years ago, the daughter of Cyrus J. and Nancy Huey Strickland. She lived in Bellefonte all her life until almost 12 years ago when she and Mr. Gardner moved to Clearfield. In 1889 she married Mitchell I. Gardner. In 1918 they moved to Johnstown where Mr. Gardner was Division Chief and opened the Internal Revenue office in that city. They lived there until 1921 when Mr. Gardner left the Federal Service. They then returned to Clearfield where they continued to live surrounded by their friendly neighbors. She is survived by her husband and son, Harold, at home, and one sister, Mrs. A. Lester Sheffer, of Milroy.

The public sale of farm stock held on Saturday by Paul E. Bradford and W. F. Bradford, at Old Fort, was well attended. The gross sales were $3516. The cows, heifers and calves were made Holstein. One purebred bull was also sold. The "high" cow passed for $2300, and the average for the cows was $57. The Bradfords, who are running the farm on the 50-50 style basis, now have remaining seventeen head of cattle, all purebred Holstein.

If any one tells you that you are not for good roads unless you vote for the $50,000,000 bond issue for roads, tell him he is mistaken. It is only a matter of a difference of opinion of how much money should be spent for them at this time, and the manner of obtaining it.

L. E. ROSSMAN KILLED AT MILTON, TUESDAY

A Ford Coupe He Was Driving Struck By Fast Freight—Mrs. Rossman a Williamsport Hospital Patient With Injuries the Seriousness of Which Have Not Been Determined.

Lewis E. Rossman, a resident of Spring Mills, was killed almost instantly on Tuesday when the car he was driving was hit by a fast freight train on a crossing in the city of Milton. Mrs. Rossman was seriously injured and was taken to the Williamsport hospital, the seriousness of her injuries having not been determined up to late Tuesday night. It was known she had a broken leg and a head injury. Her family and friends are very anxious concerning the ultimate results.

Mr. Rossman made daily trips among farmers to gather milk for one of the milk plants at Spring Mills, and after having performed this work on Tuesday morning, he and Mrs. Rossman drove to Milton to visit their daughter, Mrs. Harry Mensch. While attempting to cross the tracks of the P. R. R. in Milton, a fast freight struck the Ford coupe in which the couple were traveling. Mr. Rossman was carried into the grocery store of his son-in-law, Mr. Mensch, near where the accident happened and expired shortly thereafter. Upon advice of physicians, Mrs. Rossman was taken to Williamsport to a hospital.

Mr. Rossman's body was brought to his home on Wednesday forenoon by a Milton undertaker. Funeral services will be held on Friday, after which interment will be made in the Millheim cemetery.

The deceased was a farmer by occupation until a few years ago when he sold his farm near Millheim to his son and moved to Penn Hall and later to Spring Mills. He was a son of John and Elizabeth (Zelgier) Rossman. His wife before marriage was Catharine Weaver, a daughter of Daniel Weaver. There survive the deceased besides his wife, five children: Bruce and Charles, near Millheim; Blanche, now Mrs. Nelson Wert, Akron, Ohio; Mamie, wife of Bright Bitner, Spring Mills, and Fernie, wife of Harry Mensch, of Milton, where he died.

Two brothers—H. F. Rossman, a Spring Mills merchant, and Harvey D. Rossman, of Penns Cave, also survive him.

Mr. Rossman's age was 69 years, 7 months and 14 days.

Has Leg Broken in Accident.

Walter Frankenberg, aged about thirty years, a resident of Spring Mills, had the misfortune to have one of his legs broken by having a log strike it. He and William Ruff were loading logs onto the former's truck to be hauled from one of the Allison farms where the accident happened. Tuesday afternoon the young man was taken to the Centre County Hospital for X-ray examination and treatment.

A car of potatoes and apples was loaded at Coburn by Roy Schaeffer, the Centre Hall dealer. Forty cents was paid for potatoes. This is the first car shipment from the valley.

DE MILLE'S BIG FILM "THE KING OF KINGS" COMING TO STATE THEATRE

Famous Screen Version of Life of Jesus to be on View Three Days Next Week.

In response to many requests from its patrons, Manager C. L. Hall, of the State Theatre, has booked Cecil B. De Mille's production, "The King of Kings" for a three days' showing beginning on Nov. 5th next week. This is the picture that was presented to crowded audiences for six months at the Grand Theatre, New York. It enjoyed exceedingly successful runs in Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and many other cities in this country and abroad.

In filming this wonderful story of Christ, Mr. De Mille displayed daring, the work being even more venturesome than his "The Ten Commandments" and the pitfalls many. The unanimous praise of the reviewers in all the metropolitan centers indicates that his effort proved successful. He employed all his own personal resources and exhausted the new and old technique of the screen. He was aided in the work by representatives of many faiths and research scholars of authority. Miss Jeanie Macpherson, the scenarist, is said to have wrought a more finely constructed story than that of "The Ten Commandments".

Among the eighteen stars of the production are such favorites as H. B. Warner, Jacqueline Logan, Rudolph and Josepa Schildkraut, Victor Varconi, William Boyd, Montagu Love, George Siegmann, Theodore Kosloff, Julia Faye, Robert Edeson, Sam De Grasse. In fact, the cast of principals is a roster of eminent names in pictures. As the actors embody the cherished characters of the New Testament narrative, so the lauded great sets faithfully realize the scenes in the life of Jesus. Approximately $2,500,000 is said to have been expended on the production.

The picture was shown with extraordinary success in this country and abroad and it won the commendation of press and public alike. Its beauty and charm evoked the general praise.

Farmers from various sections of the valley report the corn husking program well advanced. Many farmers have already completed the work. On most farms the crop is very fair, in some instances first class, and occasionally a poor yield is reported.
