

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Hall Bottom, of State College, is quite ill due to an infected ear.

Centre county will receive a refund of $41.85 from the gas tax collected during the past year.

The big thing in automobiles being advertised on display signs at the Ho-man & Co. garage is "A six at the price of the four."

Simon Shilling, while washing windows at one of the Bellefonte hotels, fell and in doing so broke his shoulder blade. He is being cared for in the Centre County Hospital.

Musser E. Coldron will hold public sale of furniture and a large variety of articles at his home in Centre Hall borough, Saturday afternoon of this week, at 1 o'clock. See posters.

Musser Coldron will have his dwelling house in town painted this fall if weather conditions permit. The work will be done by John M. Coldron his brother, who lives in the pretty bung-alow nearby.

The best cow in the Holstein herd owned by Fred Slack gave birth to twin calves a few days ago. Since he began farming, not so many years ago, Mr. Slack's herd has given him no less than a dozen sets of twin calves.

The Mrs. Margaret Thomas farm, near Linden Hall, will be occupied next spring by B. E. Floray, of Altoona. Mr. Floray is related to the Florays about here. The present tenant on the farm is Samuel Reed.

Russell Goodhart, who has taken up undertaking as a business with J. Murphy & Son, in Newark, N. J., is at his home here at present for the first time since last spring. He came with Mr. Dimm, a former Lewistown resident.

The large chimney and fire place at Sunset club house is being rebuilt by Orvis Horner, whose large experience in that class of work almost, if not altogether, insures a chimney with a perfect draft. The old chimney was razed to the foundation.

A group of Lutheran young people will render a play entitled "Lighthouse Nan," a comedy drama in three acts in Grange Arcadia, on Friday and Saturday nights, December 7th and 8th. The cast of characters and a brief synopsis of the play will appear in a later issue.

A correspondent from Belleville states that an addition is being put to the A. J. Crozter Garage in that town, and other improvements being made, after which it will be operated by Mr. Crozter and S. H. Zook under the company name of Crozter and Zook. They will sell automobiles together with operating a first-class repair shop for cars.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sweeney, who now live at Potters Mills, contemplate moving into a part of the home west of town owned and occupied by Mrs. Mary Stahl. William Hannah, employed at the Kerlin plant, who occupies a part of the house with the Sweeneys, will also become a resident here next spring, having leased one of the Lambert houses.

Grace Smith, the seven-year-old daughter of Frank Smith, who was hit by an automobile last week and is now in the Centre County Hospital, is getting along very well. It was at first thought her injuries were but bruises, but later X-ray photographs revealed that there were broken bones in one of her arms. The adjustments had been perfect, necessitating only "springing."

Mr. and Mrs. Clay W. Reesman, of Camden, New Jersey, motored to Centre Hall on Friday and for a few days visited among friends. Mr. Reesman is an official in the city government, having charge of public parks and buildings. Naturally, he was pleased with the recent election, and referring more particularly to his State said: "We're sittin' pretty down in Jersey, with a Republican Governor, two U. S. Senators, and a Republican State Legislature."

Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, accompanied by her niece, Anna Jane Musser, on Thursday of last week went to Wooster, Ohio, where they remained until the beginning of this week. While in that city they visited Mrs. Goodhart's cousin, Rev. John Gohsen, and family, who are at the headquarters of returned missionaries of the Presbyterian Church. The Gohsen family was located in India for a number of years and will return again next year. An added interest to Mrs. Goodhart found in Wooster is the fact that she went to school there when a girl.

Representatives of the Commonwealth Protective Association of Pennsylvania organized recently by Centre county business men will canvass this locality with a view of inducing more business men to join the organization. The main purpose is to have introduced and passed by the legislature a garnishee law, which measure permits attaching wages of a workman for debts. The officers of the county organization are located in Bellefonte and are as follows: George H. Hazel, president; Russell Blair, vice president; G. Oscar Gray, secretary, and Earl S. Orr, treasurer.

After a year engaged in farming, Walter Hosterman decided to quit and has leased his farm and sold his stock to Carl McClellan, of Linden Hall. Mr. McClellan was formerly a State Highway patrolman. The farm in question is located west of Potters Mills along the State highway leading to State College, and was purchased by Mr. Hosterman from Frank Retels, now living at Spring Mills. Mr. Hosterman improved the place very much, one of the conveniences installed being a Delco light plant. Prior to going to farming Mr. Hosterman owned and conducted the garage in Centre Hall, which he then sold to Ralph S. Hagan. He has not given out what he intends to follow, but it is generally surmised he will again return to his first love, and perhaps at State College.

FARM HOUSE BURNED.

Defective Flue Responsible for Total Loss of Home of Mrs. Mary E. Morgan at Synagogue Church, Georges Valley.

Sunday morning about 9:00 o'clock, the house on the small farm owned by Mrs. Mary Morgan, back of the Synagogue church in Georges Valley, was totally destroyed by fire. Some of the household goods were also consumed. The fire is supposed to have had its origin near the flue, and was no doubt due to a defect in it. The flames soon spread to such an extent that there was no hope of extinguishing them. Attention was then given to removing the house furnishings and protecting the small barn and outbuildings. The structure was a two-story frame and was in good repair. The place was bought some time ago by Mrs. Morgan from her brother, C. W. Lingle, who had purchased it from Henry Haugh. Many years ago it was owned by Samuel McClellan. The property was insured in the Centre Hall fire insurance company for $1000. The company insured the house for more than twenty years. Additional insurance was also held in the Camden (N. J.) company. Mr. Morgan is employed at the Burnham works. The family is being given quarters by Dolan D. Decker, who lives nearby.

Man Killed in Crash Caused by "Hit-Runner."

Nimrod Guthrie, Jr. 19, of Yeagerstown, was instantly killed on Monday morning when an automobile driven by John Drake, of Burnham, was crowded off the William Penn highway at Lake Park by a "hit-and-run" driver. The car struck a telephone pole and was virtually dismantled. Pieces of the top and the body of Guthrie were found in a field 20 feet from the highway. His neck was broken.

Edward Kelley, 18, of Burnham, sustained a fracture of the skull and is in Dr. Black's Hospital. Clifford Guthrie, a brother of the dead man, and John Drake, the driver of the car, escaped with a few bruises.
