FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

START FARM ACCOUNTS—With the beginning of the new year, resolution that will pay well is the decision to keep cost accounts on the many practices used will point the way for farm operations. Information on changes to reduce costs of production and increase profits. Ask your county agent about getting a book and starting the new year right.

BY KNOWN VARIETIES—Buy your apples by the bushel or the barrel and know what variety you are purchasing. State College fruit specialists urge.

GET READY FOR PLANTS—If a sash or other plant house is to be built or the old one needs repairs, the job will be easier now than later. It is also well to get the hotbeds and the coldframes ready for use. An abundant supply of soil for plant growing will be convenient for later use if placed under a good shelter.

STOP CANNIBALISM—Cannibalism in pullets can be partially controlled by darkening nests. "Pick-outs," which is a term used when birds eat at the oviducts, is often started when a bird is on the nest. Some birds acquire the habit of standing at the nest and while the egg is being delivered they will attack the hen on the nest. If the nests are darkened the laying hen is in seclusion and the cannibal hens are not likely to attack her.

SAP FLOW COMING—It is best to plan now for changes to be made in the maple syrup and sugar making equipment. The three months between now and the sap flow will disappear rapidly.

TO EDUCATE FARM YOUTH—Do you know of an ambitious farm youth who would like to improve his information of modern agriculture? Tell him about the short courses at Penn State January 3 to March 1, 1929, and urge him to write to the Dean of the School of Agriculture, State College, for a catalog.

HANEY—EVERETT.

Miss Ethel B. Everett, prominent Selinsgrove girl, and Harry F. Haney, of Centre Hall, will be married this (Thursday) afternoon at 3 o'clock at Selinsgrove.

Miss Everett is a graduate of the Sunbury High school and for several years was employed in the prothonotary's office in Northumberland county. Until recently she worked for Ralph Morgan, ex-Susquehanna coach, doing secretarial work. She is a member of the D. G. A. sorority.

Mr. Haney, who is assistant principal at the Orbisonia High school, attended the Gregg township Vocational school, and graduated from Susquehanna university at Selinsgrove, last June. The ceremony will be witnessed by the groom's parents, and Mrs. Paul Grove and Mrs. Mabel Smith, the latter two from Spring Mills.
