LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Harry Gross was brought home from the Centre County hospital on Tuesday.

Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Gramley and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Haines, of Rebersburg, were in town on Sunday.

The doe hunter who got his license early was in luck. It is the same old story—it pays to be on time.

J. H. Detweiler on Monday sold a pair of exceptionally well bred Guernsey heifers due to freshen shortly, to C. M. Myers, of Julian. They are to be used as a foundation for a future herd. Mr. Myers is a stockman of some repute.

T. A. Hosterman, Prof. J. F. Wetzel and Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew returned on Tuesday evening from the Geisinger Memorial Hospital where each of them underwent dental surgical operations performed by Dr. Vastine.

Wilbur McClellan, employed by the State Highway Department, came home Thanksgiving Day evening and remained until Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClellan. The young man is located at Eldred, near the New York State line south of Olean. He is engaged with a crew of surveyors who are making a final survey of a concrete road running directly north from Larabee.

Mr. and Mrs. Brigit Bitner, last week, moved from their home in Spring Mills, to that of Mrs. Bitner's mother, Mrs. Louis E. Rossmann, also at Spring Mills. It will be recalled that Mrs. Rossmann was very seriously injured at Milton when the car in which the two were traveling was hit by a fast freight train. Mrs. Bitner will now be better able to take care of her mother, who while getting along very well, requires much attention owing to a broken leg which is yet in a plaster paris cast.

The Lone Pine hunters of Johnstown, located on the detour, killed a doe that was thought to be under weight, and to satisfy themselves as to their judgment an improvised scale was built. A board was used for a scale beam, and for weights canned goods, a can of syrup and a bag of sugar, all having the net weight marked on them, footing up to fifty pounds. The doe pulled its end down strong. When night time came the deer was taken to the State house where Ranger McKinney used a spring scale to determine the true weight and found the calculations had been properly made.

WORK STARTS ON $25,000 GRANGE DORMITORY FOR PENN STATE

Plans Call for Completion of Rose Brick Structure in September—Building Will House 100 Women.

Penn State expansion progressed another step last week when Berkebile Brothers, contractors, began preliminary work on the new $25,000 Grange Memorial Dormitory which they propose to have ready for occupancy by next September. The building will be located approximately three hundred feet south of the new College Hospital and Infirmary.

Keeping the new college buildings similar in appearance, officials have ordered the new women's dormitory to be constructed of rose brick, trimmed in limestone. The prevailing mode of architecture will be Georgian.

One hundred women can be accommodated in the proposed structure, according to the architect's preliminary sketch. The latest in furniture and fixtures will provide for their comfort. With few exceptions, the rooms of the building will be double.

The main floor will be devoted to spacious social rooms, matrons' and guest rooms, as well as dining room. A wing will flank each end of the building. These two sections are set aside as dormitories. The upper floors will be given over to study rooms and dormitories.

Trunk storage space will be included in the basement of the new structure. There will also be laundry and janitor rooms. It is planned to locate the grounds and buildings service there. The dormitory will face the new hospital, which the contractors have nearly completed, and into which the Health Service will probably be moved during the Christmas vacation. The proposed building will be erected east of the town's road, on the East Campus, and south of the Hospital. A steel will run between the two buildings while the ground in front of each will be carefully graded.

One hundred thousand dollars was raised for this building by the Pennsylvania State Grange under an agreement with Penn State that when this amount was reached the College would provide $150,000. Accordingly, the structure will be known as the Grange Memorial Dormitory.

Mrs. Sharer Hit by Auto.

Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Franklin Sharer was hit by a car when crossing the highway and was seriously injured. The injuries consist of cuts and bruises on the head, ankle and foot. She was put to bed and suffered much during the first night.

Mrs. Sharer and her husband live east of town and on Sunday drove to Potters Mills to see the former's mother, Mrs. Blaine Palmer, who is ill. The traffic was so heavy that the car was stopped on the opposite side of the road to avoid a possible collision. Mrs. Sharer alighted from the car and in crossing the highway was struck by a car coming from the south. She was carried to the home of her parents where she is being cared for.

The driver of the car was Mr. Gehl, a tailor, 28 West Market St., Lewisburg.

Thanksgiving Donations at Hospital.

The Centre County Hospital fared well during the Thanksgiving season, through the generosity of residents of Bellefonte and nearby towns. Bellefonte Community Thanksgiving service offerings amounted to $3.51, while union services at Howard netted $7.84. The Ladies Social Club of Howard donated large amounts of canned goods and other foodstuffs, while pupils of the public schools of the State sent original greeting cards to all patients in the hospital. These cards, made by pupils in the first to the sixth grades, are of their own design and workmanship, and were highly appreciated by patients.

PENN STATE STUDENTS ABANDON 'OLD MAIN'

The beginning of the end for "Old Main" building in its present form on the campus of the Pennsylvania State College came this week. After seventy years of daily use it is now abandoned by student classes in 156 interest in safety for the ancient structure is to be rebuilt with steel and concrete brackings and used for college administration and as student activities headquarters.

Old Main was the first, and for 30 years the only academic building at State College. The first class of 69 students was admitted to its west wing in February, 1859. About ten years ago the upper stories were condemned and later abandoned as men's dormitories. The building has long been unused for occupancy, and is being emptied as fast as space can be provided elsewhere for classrooms and offices.

All classes except those held in the main lecture hall on the first floor were moved to other buildings this week, making conditions more seriously crowded than ever. Every available bit of space is being utilized, but many administrative offices are not moved. Until they can be located elsewhere nothing can be done towards remodeling the building.

Youngest Penn State Student Is 15.

The youngest students at the Pennsylvania State College this year are a freshman boy and a freshman girl, each 15. Fourteen co-eds and a like number of freshmen boys are just 16 years of age. The oldest four-year students are two women school teachers, who are now seniors, each being 39 years of age. The oldest male student is 34.

Last December Court.

A change of the Centre county court calendar is anticipated. It is expected that the term of court to be held next week will be the last to be held in December, and that Judge Ward M. Fleming will issue orders for the holding of court thereafter in November instead of this month. This change will necessitate the holding of one or more of the other quarter sessions courts at slightly earlier dates.

Potter Township Auditors Meet.

The Potter township auditors met on Friday in the directors' room of the First National Bank, and examined the accounts of Tax Collector Jacob Royer and Overseers James Runkle and Clayton Wagner. Next Monday they will meet again and go over the accounts of the three road supervisors, namely, William Jordan, John Bohn and Foster Franzer.

The Potter township auditors are Harvey F. Musser, who has been on the board for many years; John F. Treaster and John E. Bubb. The latter became the successor of Charles A. Miller when he moved from Potter township to Centre Hall. The finances of the township are said to be in good condition, and no unpleasantness was experienced by the board in balancing the accounts of the officials.

Ernest Long Held for Court.

Ernest Long, of Coffee township, is being held under $2000 bail for his appearance at the December term of court to answer charges of illegal sale of intoxicating beverages, following arrest by County Detective Leo Boden and Constable McDonnell, of Pleasant Gap. A search of the premises failed to bring to light any intoxicants, but Long was arrested on the strength of a purchase of illegal whiskey made some time before the raid. He was given a hearing before Squire J. L. Tresselt of Pleasant Gap, and was bound over for court. Long had been in legal difficulties in this county before.

Clayton Martz Now Sec. Lieut.

Clayton S. Martz, of Boalsburg, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Martz, of Tusseyville, has been commissioned a second lieutenant of Cavalry and has been assigned to Troop A of Boalsburg, of which organization he has been first sergeant for many years. Lieutenant Martz's military career dates back to the World War, when he saw active service in France. It will be recalled that he won the free trip to France last May, as Troop A's representative in the Honor Battalion, which the State of Pennsylvania sent abroad to dedicate memorials erected in memory of those who died in France.

Elks Pay Respect to Dead.

The Bellefonte Lodge of Elks on Sunday afternoon in the State theatre held a service in memorial of their deceased members. The principal speaker was Rev. Clarence E. Arnold, pastor of the Lutheran church. A sextette composed of Cecil Walker, W. Fred Reynolds, Jr., Dr. Richard Noll, Harris Holmes, Earl Hoffer, Miss Bernice Crouse as organist, furnished the music.

The roster of deceased members since 1909 during which year the first death occurred, numbers seventy-seven, of which number six died during the present year.

In the year 1924 the organization had its largest number of deaths—a total of eleven. Joseph S. Barnes was the first and only member to die in 1908, and in 1913, Dr. Philip S. Fisher is the only member noted on the deceased roster. During all of the other years death numbered two or more.

Seven Mountains Continues a Prolific Field for Hunting Deer—Reports from Seventy-Three Camps—Less than Twice as Many Does as Bucks Killed Last Year.

Seventy-three camps in Forest Ranger McKinney's district in Seven Mountains reported a total of 423 does killed the first three days of the season. Mr. McKinney estimates the "day" hunters killed another 100, making a total of 523 up to Tuesday evening. In 1926 on the same field 285 bucks were killed, and in 1927 the number killed was 242. No attempt is made to give an account of does killed by private or day hunters.

Grace Smith, the seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, who was hit by an auto on the street opposite the post office, was brought from the Centre County hospital to her home here the middle of last week by her father. She is improving nicely, but is being taken to the hospital at regular intervals for examination. Of course she is obliged to wear splints on her arm for the present.

DAVID J. VONADA COMMITTED SUICIDE BY HANGING

Gregg Township Farmer Ends Life Early Monday Morning—Found by Wife Suspended from Pole Over Entry Door—Justice Robert Musser Holds Inquest.

David John Vonada ended a life termed by him "unbearable" by hanging early Monday morning. He was found by his wife suspended from a pole over an entry door at the barn, at about 6 a. m. the lighted lantern he carried to do the morning chores having been hung over his head. Neighbors were called, and Dr. H. S. Braucht, the family physician, summoned. Wilbur Lucas took down the dead body of the man. Following this, an inquest was held by Justice Robert Musser, and the verdict rendered was that the man had been broken. The jury was composed of Wagnon Lisen, Ralph Spayd, Charles Eungard, Daniel Daup.

The Vonada family consists of Mr. Vonada and his wife. They are early risers. Mr. Vonada had gone to the barn to perform the morning chores, returned to the house and then went back to the barn. Not returning to the house the second time as soon as he was expected, Mrs. Vonada went to the barn to ascertain the reason, when she discovered he had committed the rash act.

Over an entry door for a long while a pole had extended out along a heavy joist. To this a leather driving line was tied, and the other end looped about his neck with the knot coming under the ear. The drop was not over eighteen inches from the entry foot to the natural ground on the outside. It is presumed the man made a leap, thus throwing his whole weight into the improvised noose, his neck was broken. When found he was almost in a sitting posture.

Funeral services were held and interment made in the Farmers Mills cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. S. F. Greenhoe in charge. Mr. Vonada was aged 59 years and nine days. He was a son of Henry and Sarah (Haugh) Vonada, and was born near Madisonburg. Besides his wife he leaves two sons—Boyd, in Bellefonte, and Earl, at Woodward, and these brothers and sisters: George, Lewisburg; Frank, Madisonburg; Henry, Detroit, Mich.; Emanuel, Aaronsburg; Mrs. Anna Waite, Madisonburg; Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Spring Mills, and Mrs. Sarah Kreamer, Woodward.

The Vonada home is located near Penns Cave, along the road leading from the Brush Valley road to Farmers Mills.

Mr. Vonada was a good citizen and was well thought of. He owned a farm and was in comfortable circumstances. On various occasions he entertained his neighbors that his home was becoming so unbearable that he thought the best thing for him to do was to end it. His remarks, however, were not taken very seriously. It was the eccentricities of his wife, well known to many, that led the man to make the statements referred to above.

Hunter Shot Near Sunset Club House.

William Frankhouse of Terry Hill, Lancaster county, was shot while hunting on the mountains east of Sunset club house, on Monday afternoon. The bullet first passed through the upper part of the front legs of a deer and then entered the body of the hunter at the waist line on the right side, passed through the fatty layers over the bowels and left the body through the front of the left leg, the course of the bullet being downward. The artery in the left leg was barely missed.

Mr. Frankhouse was taken to the Lewisdown hospital, where it appears he is getting along nicely. He is a cigar maker at Terry Hill, and is aged 35 years.

The shot that hit the hunter was fired by his pal, Charles Shaffer, from a 32-Remington. The hunting club, known as the Terry Hill club, was located in Kohler Valley, east of the State road.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. H. L. Ebright, Saturday evening.

A Pittsburgh party hunting in Sullivan county passed through here on Monday with a bear and a deer on their car.

Clair Houser whose business is hauling milk for the Sheffield Farms Co. plant at Spring Mills, recently moved into the house vacated and owned by Bright Bitner.

Mrs. Lee W. Lingle and little daughter, of Altoona, are here with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Heckman, and sister, Mrs. W. A. Honnan.

Mrs. Harriett Haslett McConnell, wife of Rev. C. Luther McConnell, died at Church's Ferry, North Dakota. Many missionary workers in the Lutheran church will most kindly remember her as a most ardent supporter and worker for missions. She and her husband left the Bellefonte Lutheran field for the Dakota prairies in 1906, and immediately began to establish a General Synod Lutheran church there without the aid of the Lutheran Mission Board. To support themselves, Dr. McConnell and his good wife took up a piece of land and farmed it. The pastor continues to do so at this time, while the church organized has become a substantial outpost.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

A history of Mifflinburg covering the period from 1792 to 1927, by C. M. Steese, Esq., is about to be issued in book form.

Wilbur Henney, last week, killed two hogs the combined weight of which was 952 pounds. The weight of one was 507 and the other 445 pounds.

After living on the Mrs. F. O. Bair-foot farm for five years, Harry Burrows will go the farm owned by John A. Heckman, a mile or more north of where he now lives.

A fine specimen of ringneck pheasant was killed by John A. Martz on Thanksgiving morning. Instead of serving the bird for dinner, it was shipped to a taxidermist to be mounted.

Aaronsburg, with a high gravity pressure water system, further prepared against the probable loss of property through the ravages of fire by inducing its young men to organize a fire company.

One of the three cases of infantile paralysis in Bellefonte proved fatal. The victim was a ten-year-old boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Risan, and he was ill but for a week. The youth was named Olaf Stanley.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fye have moved into the house formerly occupied by M. C. Cordon, from a portion of the T. A. Hosterman home where they lived for several years. Mr. Fye is employed in the Sheffield Farms Company milk plant here.

E. K. Smith, formerly a resident here and later at Oak Hill, is in a rather serious condition at his home in Iowa, and will be obliged to undergo a surgical operation. The information was obtained through F. D. Lee, a distant relative.

Prof. L. O. Packer, who has been teaching in one of the Pittsburgh public schools for a number of years, is planning to move his family from here to that city in the event he can sell his home here. Miss Vivian Packer, a daughter, is also employed in the Pittsburgh schools.

The post office department is causing the display of posters asking the public to mail Christmas packages early. Some years ago it was possible to handle Christmas mail, although late but today, while the service is infinitely better in all respects, the business increase at Christmas is so much that mailing must be done over a longer period.

C. L. Eyster, P. R. R. agent at Coburn station, has had fairly good success hunting raccoons this season, remarks the Mifflin Journal. He has downed 11 ringnecked raccoons and one coon-account raccoons are still being shot in the deer-chasing code and Clyde's meticulous sense of the need for clean sport urged him to bring his saved-off shotgun into play against the offender.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Beaumont, of Rising Sun, Maryland, were in these parts recently. Mr. Beaumont is a field man for the Sheffield Farms Company, and from here was located by his firm at Mill Hill and later to the Maryland town named. They never miss an opportunity to get back to Centre Hall where Mr. and Mrs. Beaumont have many friends no matter how short a time.

The indications are that there will be an unusually large number of public sales of farm stock and implements throughout Centre county during next spring. There are many sales of this kind that will be termed, and really are "clean-up" sales, while other farmers will offer for sale a surplus of stock only. Centre county is noted for its public sales of these two classes and it is seldom that an animal showing breeding or individual quality, or an implement of a popular make and in workable condition is sold at a sacrifice.

As the result of a collision of automobiles driven by John Reish, of Rebersburg, and Malldriver Held, of Leokanton, last summer, another suit for damages has been instituted. The collision cost each of the individuals several hundred dollars for repairs and Mr. Reish sued Mr. Held for damages and got nothing. Now, several months later, Mr. Held is suing Mr. Reish for $1000 and the case will probably come up in the next session of Clifton county court. Of course, Mr. Reish, having carried insurance is only the tentative defendant, the insuring company assuming liability for damages, if any, when decision is made.

"Pete's Place," on top of Nittany Mountain, is in a class of its own among those of its kind. First, its location is novel—pushed out over the edge of a mountain, giving a view unparalleled anywhere in Central Pennsylvania. The furnishings are entirely modern and cannot be matched in the State for novelty or utility. From any point in the large grill-room one is afforded a view of nature that alone will recompense for time spent there—before, during and after being served. The kitchen equipment, like the grill room, is modern, and guests are invited to inspect it. Food is prepared on an electric range or some other electric appliance, and previously stored in an electrically operated refrigerator. This item is not the result of a hand-out. A visit to Pete's Place by the writer was found to be such an unusual one, and so much superior to any other found along the State highways, that it is a pleasure to tell the public about it.
