Boys' Tan Calf dress shoes, sizes up to 6, only $2.45 at Yeager's, Bellefonte.

There have been a very small number of forest fires throughout the State so far this fall, and none of them have covered a large area.

Rev. E. E. Haney, of Grover, has been with his sons, Wm. H. and Joseph R. Haney, in Centre Hall, for the past several days.

Sam Wood quality considered, Yeager's Tiny Boot Shop at Bellefonte is in position to sell rubbers at prices less than the largest of mail order houses.

The Reporter was pleased to have William Weaver, who takes care of the electrical work of the extensive business of Hosterman & Stover Co., Millheim, call on Monday evening.

A large barn on the farm of Mrs. Henry Johnston, near Blanchard, was destroyed by fire about 8 o'clock Saturday morning. The building was empty, but the loss is estimated to be several thousand dollars.

Mrs. John D. Moore, an aged lady, fell in the kitchen of her home in town Tuesday morning, and while no bones appear to have been broken, she is nevertheless suffering considerable pain and is confined to bed.

The court officers wore their new uniforms of blue with gold trimmings for the first time on the opening of criminal court Monday morning. Some of them wear them quite well; for others they are simply clothing.

The W. R. Allen garage, located to the rear of the Y. M. C. A. building, Veterinary Nasse's office and hospital, in Bellefonte, were destroyed by fire early Wednesday morning. Several cars in the garage burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. Lowder, their son Ross Daniel, and daughter Dorothy, of Oak Hill Station, and Mrs. James Mitchell and Miss Ella Bottorf, of Lemont, were callers at the Kirkpatrick home on Sabbath evening.

Some folks think that 13c is not much to save. Yeager's Tiny Boot Shop at Bellefonte can save you this much over the very lowest prices of the largest mail order houses in the United States. They also save you the postage.

Mrs. Franklin Sharer, who was hit by an auto ten days ago on the State highway opposite the home of her parents at Pottery Mills and rather seriously injured, is improving nicely and was taken to her home east of Centre Hall the beginning of this week.

Two large barns in Millin county were destroyed by fire last week. One was located at Maitland on a farm owned by J. M. Lamb and tenanted by Frank M. Parker, and the other on the outskirts of Millroy on a farm owned by J. C. Weaver and occupied by him. The loss in the latter fire is estimated at $10,000.

Ellery Jamison is being cared for here by his sister, Mrs. V. A. Auman, at her home. Mr. Jamison formerly lived in Butte, Montana, where in an accident he had one of his legs broken in three places and it is the result of this that he is obliged to be in bed all of the time. He was brought east by Mrs. Robert McCummon, of Altoona, also a sister.

The latest new arrival in Centre Hall is a boy and has been named Miles Ezra by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Haney. He came Saturday evening at 4:00 o'clock and parked with permission. He is the third child and second boy in the Haney family. The youth at present is receiving attentions from his grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Wolf, of near Vicksburg.

Rev. C. W. Horner, son of the late George Horner, of Tusseyville, and his family, of Williamstown, were guests at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. H. Klime, and his sister, Mrs. C. B. Confer, in State College, Thursday afternoon and evening of last week. In the evening, Rev. Horner officiated at the christening of his grandniece, Lavohn Marie, baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ripka.

The Ever Ready class of the Reformed Sunday school will hold a Japanese Social on Friday evening, December 21st, in Odenkirk's store. The menu will consist of sandwiches, cakes, pies, cookies, candies, ice cream and coffee. Other things for sale will be needlework, handkerchiefs and the appropriate gift for Christmas. Extra attractions will be Japanese orchestra, Cherry Tree, and Fish Pond. The patronage of the public is solicited. ad.

A party of eight Reading hunters made their headquarters at the A. O. Detweiler home, at Colyer, last week, and succeeded in killing three does. Among the number was George Goddard, a Reading game warden, who with his crowd found two illegally shot bucks and one doe weighing 41 pounds, which was 3 pounds under the legal weight. The bucks were found while still in good condition and were prepared for shipment to Reading for use in a charitable institution.

Two men, the one from town and the other from Lewistown, had a somewhat thrilling experience on crossing the Seven Mountains at the Centre-Mifflin line on Saturday evening. As they approached that point a woman suddenly appeared in front of the car and it was with much difficulty that the car was handled without hitting her. She plead to be taken with them to Lewistown, saying that her husband and another man were drunk and were in another car parked nearby. After much importuning on the part of the woman, the men finally took the stranger with them. On the way to Lewistown she was mute. A short time after her arrival in that town, the Mifflin county sheriff was telephoned for to come to Reedsville and take charge of two drunks who had run their car against a telephone pole. It is thought the men were those referred to by the woman in question.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The interior of the T. L. Smith home is undergoing extensive alterations and improvements.

Frank A. McClintic, of Linden Hall, will hold sale of his farm stock and implements, Wednesday, March 20th.

Mrs. Campbell, wife of Undertaker S. M. Campbell, of Millheim, suffered a paralytic stroke during the latter part of last week. Her speech has been affected.

Mrs. Mary E. Morgan, whose home in Georges Valley was destroyed by fire, recently, was allowed insurance by the Centre Hall company in the sum of $1000. She had additional insurance in another company, but the amount allowed by the adjusters has not been made known.

Centre Hall has had a Community Christmas Tree for a number of years past, but so far this year there has been no move to continue the practice. The Christmas tree entails a lot of work—but it is worth it.

RELIGION OF NATIONALISM.

On this subject Prof. H. D. Laessle, of the University of Chicago, says this:

The vogue of superheated nationalism is attributed to the fact that the upper middle class have discovered in it an emotional substitute for Christianity. What is happening in America and elsewhere is a process of syncretism by which an ever diminishing element of Christianity and an ever increasing element of nationalism is entering into the alloy known as modern religion.

The god of the new cult is the patria, the State, for whom the modern man will offer up his life. The ideal of the national state is a mighty, mystic power outside of puny individual men. It is the source of blessings for those who worship and obey. To propitiate and serve is the highest duty of man. The national state has a mission and its mission is everlasting.

The new religion has its rituals. The flag is supplanting the cross. The flag is the object of ceremonious salutes and dippings. Men bare their heads, children swear allegiance, adolescents salute and the grand old chiefs of the tribe lend an ear to the wisdom of babies and sucklings. The national Christmas of America comes on the Fourth of July.
