PENN STATE TRUSTEES PLAN "OLD MAIN" WORK

College Building Will Be Torn Down
To Use Original Limestone Again
Specifications Include Activity Rooms, Cafeteria, Lobby for Students, 150-Foot Tower.

By decision of the Board of Trustees of Pennsylvania State College, Old Main will be completely torn down and rebuilt with the weathered limestone of the 70-year-old structure. Reconstruction work is scheduled to start early in June.

The trustees have authorized their architectural committee to procure plans and specifications for the reconstruction of the building. Preliminary plans of the College architect, Charles Z. Klauder, of Philadelphia, have been approved by the Board, and working plans are now being drawn up.

According to the present plans, the limestone of the old structure will be used in rebuilding, and the general construction lines of the building will be retained. There will be fewer floors in the new edifice, but it will be topped by a 150-foot clock tower.

Student activities and the College administration will be centered in the rebuilt Old Main. Student Union, quarters, student publication and other activities rooms, a large lobby, health service dispensary, cafeteria, campus societies meeting room, religious activities center, and theatrical rehearsal hall are some of the features planned for the reconstructed building.

Funds for the reconstruction will be provided partly by the State appropriation and through pledges to the College emergency building fund. Additional building will depend upon legislative appropriations.

The first wing of the present building was erected in 1859, and contained dormitory rooms, laboratories, class rooms, and administrative offices. In December, 1893, the structure was completed and remained for several years the only building on the campus.

Work on the tower of Old Main, as it now stands, was finished in 1896. For many years only minor improvements were added until 1914, a stone terrace was built at the front entrance.

Several years ago the building passed out of the picture as a men's dormitory. Over ten years ago the attic and roof tower were condemned and abandoned for general use.

Construction work on the new unit of the men's dormitory quadrangle will start this month in order to have it ready by November of this year. At present work is still continuing on the Main Engineering building, the Grange Memorial Dormitory, and the addition to Pond Laboratory.

DEATHS

MOORE—John Daniel Moore passed away on Tuesday evening at 6:15 at the home of his son, T. L. Moore, in Centre Hall, where he had made his home since the death of his wife eight weeks previous. Death was due to a paralytic stroke. He had been in the yard to the rear of the house and when he entered the kitchen Mrs. Moore noticed a peculiar expression on his face, and that he could scarcely speak. He soon sank into unconsciousness and remained in that condition until his death, a period of 120 hours.

Funeral services will be held at the home on Friday at 2:00 p. m., and continued at the Methodist church in interment in the local cemetery. The deceased was a son of Fayette and Matilda (Hockman) Moore, and was born on the Dr. Lieb farm, east of town. After his marriage to Miss Sarah Toner, the couple lived all of their lives in Potter township and Centre Hall. They engaged in farming up to a few years ago, but made few changes. On one farm he lived twenty-six years and on another ten years, the other tenancies were of shorter duration.

Mr. Moore was a man highly regarded by all who knew him. He was scrupulously honest and upright and lived a consistent life with his religious profession. He is survived by a son, T. L. Moore, and two grandchildren, Rev. Frederic Moore and Miss Miriam Moore; also, one sister, Miss Eliza Moore, at the Phoebe Home, Allentown. His age was 77 years, 10 months and 5 days.

SHREFFLER—John Shreffler died at his home in Williamsport on Friday and funeral services were held Monday and interment made in that city. Death was due to dropsy.

The deceased is survived by a wife, and two children, also a sister, who will be recalled by readers here as Miss Catharine Shreffler, who taught the primary grade school in town, and a younger brother, Claire. He was a son of Jere and Agnes (Hunkie) Shreffler and when a young man lived with his parents here. On leaving Centre Hall Mr. Shreffler located in Williamsport where he has since lived and for the greater part of the time was employed by a manufacturer of furniture.

The deceased was aged fifty-two years.

GROVE—After an illness due to cancer for a long time and confinement to bed for eleven weeks, James Grove, a prominent College township citizen, passed away at his home at Lemont on Friday. Funeral services were held Monday and interment was made at Pine Hill, Rev. W. E. Smith, pastor of the deceased, having the services in charge, and was assisted by several other ministers.

Mr. Grove, during the active period of his life, engaged in farming, but retired seventeen years ago. He was a son of William and Rosetta Grove, and was aged sixty-nine years.

There survive him his wife, who before marriage was Miss Annie Houz, and two sons and one daughter: William Grove, Lemont; Calvin Grove, Bellefonte, and Mrs. Anne Grove, of Rockview.

The funeral was attended from here by Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, who sang at the funeral services, and Mrs. D. F. Smith, a relative of Mr. Grove.

LINGLE—Mrs. Leona Tressa Lingle, wife of Ralph Lingle, died at her home east of Spring Mills, on Friday after an illness of five weeks following becoming a mother of her third child, all living. Interment was made Tuesday forenoon at Cross church, Georges Valley, Rev. W. E. Smith officiating.

Deceased was the daughter of Lucian Snyder, of Spring Mills, who with her husband, three children and these three sisters—Mrs. Edith Auman, of Spring Mills; Mrs. Vergie Ebert, of North Bend, and Miss Orpha Snyder, Spring Mills—survive her.

The age of the deceased was 26 years and 6 days.

WISE—Mrs. Elizabeth Wise, widow of Emanuel Wise, died at her home at Jersey Shore of diseases incidental to her advanced age.

Deceased was a daughter of the late Daniel and Mary (Kresmer) Reighard and was born at the Reighard home in Loganton, December 22, 1839, making her age at death 89 years, 1 month and 7 days. She was the oldest of a family of eight children—five boys and three girls. She was the mother of four children, three sons and a daughter. The latter passed away at the Jersey Shore home last spring.

Besides the sons, she is survived by but one of the Daniel Reighard family, Mrs. Clara Keister, of Ridgway, for many years a resident of Millheim.

Services were held at the late home of deceased at Jersey Shore Saturday morning. The funeral cortege moved overland by motor to Loganton where interment was made.

LIMBERT—Mrs. Viletta (Miller) Limbert, wife of William Limbert, died at their home at Madisonburg. She was born in Union county October 2, 17, at the Penna Valley Narrows Hotel, which her parents, Harvey and Lydia Miller, conducted at that time.

Mrs. Limbert was a consistent member of the Reformed church and was held in high esteem among her neighbors and friends and will be missed in the home and vicinity.

Low prices, courteous service, good materials—what? A writer in the current issue of the American Druggist recently made a survey of drug store customers to get an answer to that question. Here is what he learned about why people trade at certain stores in preference to others: Cleanliness and attractiveness of appearance ranked as the chief reason. Next came promptness of service and quickness of delivery of ordered goods. Pleasant employees and courteous service were linked in the third place, size of assortment ranked fourth and low prices came last. This has been our policy for 30 years.—A. Abrahamson.
