Sort of a Chain Quarrel
My father used to tell a story about a couple recently married who got into an argument.

"I saw a rat," she said.
"It was a mouse," he replied.
"I say 'twas a rat," she declared.
"A mouse," he rejoined.

They parted, but later they saw how foolish they were. They came back together and almost the first words he said were:

"How foolish we were to quarrel over a mouse."
"But that was a rat," she asserted. Then the quarrel started again.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Dangerous Experiment
Mr. and Mrs. Author were going out for the evening. They had engaged a new nurse and she was left in charge of the children for the first time.

"Dear," remarked Mrs. Author as she came downstairs, "I looked into the nursery and noticed nurse was reading. Who gave her the book?"

"I did," replied her husband.
"What book is it?"
"My last," he answered.
"Darling!" exclaimed his wife. "And you know how important it is that she should not go to sleep!"

"Black Sheep" Relations
"Are you ashamed of being related to Adam and Eve?" asked Elizabeth one day of her mother.

"Why, no," replied her mother laughing. "Whatever made you ask such a question as that?"

Elizabeth was rather offended. "It's no laughing matter," she replied with some dignity. "Especially since I never heard you mention them."

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

GROW HEALTHY CHICKS—Results obtained in 1928 show that chick losses can be reduced to great extent on most farms of a definite program of sanitation is adopted. Over half of the loss last year occurred during the first four weeks. This reveals the need of better brooding management during the first few weeks.

TAKE CARE OF BEEF COWS—Beef breeding cattle should have suitable protection and adequate feed. Bred cows must not only maintain themselves but also the unborn calves. A good legume or mixed hay, with a small amount of grain or liberal quantities of silage, will keep the cows in gaining condition. Oats, corn, and bran are standard grains for such herds, State College specialists say.

WATER DAIRY COWS—Water and lots of it, is very important in dairy cattle feeding. Cows in milk should have water twice daily and it should not be too cold. It pays to put a heater in the water tank if it is outside in freezing temperature. If water has the chill removed cows will drink more and give more milk.

ORDER CABBAGE PLANTS—Greenhouse men are starting the early cabbage plants. They can regulate their sowings better if you will give them your order now. In this way there will be fewer disappointments next spring when some people usually have to be turned away.

IMPROVE APPEARANCES—Garden arbors can often be used to screen out unsightly objects. These can be made easily now and set out later. Vines, such as climbing roses, clematis, polygum, and wistaria, may be planted in the spring and trained over the arbors.

Geysers of Boiling Mud

Suddenly subsiding without the slightest warning—a big area of ground in front of a Maori meeting house at Whakarewarewa, New Zealand, from a level plain suddenly became a huge cauldron of boiling water, 15 feet deep. Heavy steam clouds issued from the cavity. In the Valley of Whakarewarewa many forms of thermal activity are found. Some of the geysers throw columns of boiling water 100 feet into the air. A Maori community has built nondescript dwellings among the precarious surroundings of mud volcanoes and boiling springs. The natural heat of the water and mud serves them instead of fires for cooking.—Family Herald.

History Told by Trees

The people of long ago did not trouble to say much about the weather in their writings, but the botanists do not need the help of records. The books they study are the trunks of trees. When a tree is cut down its age can be found by counting the number of rings between the heart and the bark. Each of these rings represents one year of growth, and scientists believe that we can decide whether a specified season was late or early, dry or wet, by studying the thickness and consistency of the fibre of the corresponding circle.

Traut's Good Excuse

Schoolboys are extremely practical in these days. The headmaster of a school in an English district recently received a note apologizing for a boy's absence from school because he was repairing his boots. The master was naturally interested, and upon inspection was astonished at the skillful way in which this lad of thirteen had soled and heeled and patched the boots he was wearing. Handiwork is not taught in vain apparently.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.
