It is generally believed that the shark is the most dangerous, but the barracuda, a large savage pelican-like fish of the tropical seas, is more apt to attack man than the shark. Cruiser Bill Fight Nears the End; Supply Measures for Army and Navy.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

BROUGHT to time by threats of night sessions made by Senator Hale, chairman of the naval affairs committee, the senators opposing the fifteen cruiser bill abandoned their filibuster tactics and consented to limitation of debate on the measure. This was to take effect at noon on February 4 and the prospect was that a vote would be reached by the middle of the week.

If the pacifists succeed in attaching amendments to the house bill making necessary the appointment of a conference committee, there might be a final filibuster against the conference report. One amendment was favored by President Coolidge—the elimination of the clause fixing dates for commencement of the construction of the White House that if the bill passed without the time clause, the President will ask for an appropriation for an immediate start in the building program.

Representative Britten of Illinois, urging passage of the bill, said early in the week that he was "sure the time limit will be pleasing to President-Elect Hoover." But that gentleman immediately telegraphed to President Coolidge that he had made no public or private statement upon this question, and added: "As you know, I warmly support your views and you may so inform others if you wish to do so."

Senators Borah and Walsh both spoke in favor of elimination of the time clause, arguing that such action was proper as a preliminary to another disarmament proposal. Senator Reed of Missouri, who retires to private life on March 4, delivered what will be one of his last speeches, exercising his great powers of ridicule and sarcasm against the pacifists and arguing strongly for preparedness.

RESPONDING to the appeals of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur, the appropriations committee of the house reported a naval supply bill calling for approximately $351,000,000 and providing funds for the addition of 500 enlisted men to the naval establishment. This would bring the navy personnel up to $4,500. The recommendations of the budget being thus exceeded, the committee, in order to make up the deficit, advised the de-commissioning of older ships and the transfer of their crews to newer vessels. The bill's total is about $15,000,000 less than was appropriated for the current fiscal year and $70,000,000 less than the estimates submitted to Secretary Wilbur by the heads of the naval bureaus.

The War department supply bill, which had been passed by the house, was reported to the senate by its appropriations committee with an addition of $5,000,000, for purely military activities, made to the $447,000,000 total of the house measure. Of the funds added by the senate committee, approximately $3,000,000 will go for the purchase of new bombing, pursuit and training planes for the air corps, $225,000 for the National Guard maintenance, new construction and an increase in the ration allowance, and approximately $1,000,000 will be turned over to the organized reserves. Other senate changes included the addition of two items providing $51,000 for forage for 1,000 horses owned by army officers and $82,500 for the purchase of 500 additional horses for the cavalry, engineers and artillery. Both items were approved by the budget, but had been stricken out by the house.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, delivering his farewell address at the semi-annual meeting of the business organization of the government, dwelt upon the extraordinary prosperity which the nation is enjoying, but warned the country that this can be continued only by the exercise of rigid economy in federal, state and local expenditures. While admitting that as a result of the expansion of the country federal expenditures show a tendency to rise, Mr. Coolidge warned that the greatest menace to continued prosperity now lies in the rapidly mounting costs of local and state governments. This heavy drain on the earnings of the people, he said, "is a red flag warning us of the danger of depression and a repetition of the disaster that overtook the country in the closing days of 1920."

The President warmly defended his policy of drastic economy in federal expenditures, and was seconded in this by Director of the Budget Lord. RECEIVING few political visitors and devoting part of each week to fishing, Herbert Hoover is having a fine time down in Florida. Most interesting of his callers last week was Al Smith, who was stopping in Coral Gables. With John J. Rasbach and W. F. Kenney, the recent Democratic standard bearer drove over to Belle Island and spent half an hour chatting with the man who defeated him. Later he said Mr. Hoover very friendly and affable. We told each other some of the funny things that happened during the campaign to each of us, but did not talk of anything important. I can't go into that any more."

Thursday Mr. Hoover, still eager to catch a sailfish, went to Long Key on the yacht Saunterer. His guests were Justice and Mrs. Harlan F. Stone, Verne Marshall of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sullivan. Correspondents at Miami Beach now believe that Mr. Hoover has decided on his cabinet but will not announce his selections until immediately after his inauguration. They are satisfied that neither Ambassador Morrow nor Ambassador Fletcher will be secretary of state. There was a report that that portfolio of the attorney generalship might be offered to Thomas Nelson Perkins, the Boston lawyer who is one of the American alternates in the reparations conference of experts. It was believed Mr. Hoover wanted a New Englander in the cabinet.

Mr. Coolidge also was in Florida last week, but only for a brief period. Accompanied by Mrs. Coolidge and a few others, he ran down to Mountain Lake and on Friday delivered an address at the dedication of the bird sanctuary and singing tower established by Edward W. Bok. After a dinner and brief rest at Mr. Bok's home, the party returned to Washington, arriving Saturday evening. FOR the time being Gen. Bramwell Booth is winner in his fight to retain his personal control of the Salvation Army. But the high council hasn't given up yet. The chancery court in London decided that the council's action ousting the aged general was void because the commander's legal representatives were not permitted to plead his case before the council voted against him. Therefore the council had to start its proceedings all over again. One of the leading members said that the position of the reform element had been consolidated by the legal proceedings, and that there was no doubt the council would reiterate its previous decision and proceed to elect a new general without further parley. It was said the outstanding candidate for the position was Evangelina Booth, sister of the general and commander of the Army in the United States.

UNDER proclamation by the Nationalist government all China celebrated "Customs Autonomy day" on Friday because Japan, the last of the powers to hold out, has finally recognized the new Chinese tariff and thus admitted China has the right to regulate its own customs rates. As the proclamation says, China "is at last able to throw off the economic yoke imposed eight years ago by European imperialists."

The proclamation points out the benefits expected to accrue to China as the result of customs autonomy, the first of which is the enhancement of China's position in the family of nations. Second, it opens a new chapter in China's foreign diplomatic relations; third, marks the downfall of foreign imperialists, and fourth, opens the way to Chinese national economic development, enabling China to enter the world's markets on an equal footing. Lastly, the change is declared to mark the definite passing of unequal treaties, including the abolition of extraterritoriality, the rendition of foreign concessions, as well as the termination of foreigners' rights to navigation in Chinese inland waterways.

SPAIN had another of her abortive rebellions last week. In Ciudad Real, a hundred miles south of Madrid, a body of artillery revolted and ran their guns out into the streets ready to shoot up the city; and in some other places there were incipient uprisings. The government troops were sent into action promptly, and promises of immunity to all privates and noncommissioned officers induced the mutineers to return to their barracks. Their officers were all arrested for trial by court-martial, and Sanchez Guerra, former Conservative party leader, was seized at Valencia.

WALDEMARES, dictator of Lithuania, said he had uncovered a plot against his regime by men who were acting with the knowledge of President Smetona, and he caused the arrest of the chief of staff of the army and eighteen high officers of the Kovno garrison. The dictator's opponents declare he has been supporting the Soviet policies against Poland.

LEON TROTZKY, that thorn in the side of the Russian Soviet government which he helped to create, has repaid the reward for his continuous plotting against it. He was taken from his place of involuntary retirement in southeastern Russia and doomed to exile. At first no country could be found that would receive him, but finally Turkey consented to let him be sent there. So he, at latest reports, was on his way to Angora. His friends, in Berlin and elsewhere, believed he would be assassinated on the way, and there was a rumor that the murder already had been committed.

IN THE case of Glen Jennings, coast guard charged with the fatal shooting of J. D. Hanson, secretary of the Niagara Falls lodge of Elks, the jury could not agree on a verdict and was discharged. Jennings will be tried again, probably in May. The jury deliberated for twenty hours and at one time stood 11 to 1 for conviction.

ELINOR SMITH, the "flying flapper" who is only seventeen years old, went up from Mitchell field in an open cockpit plane in extremely cold weather and established an endurance record for women of 13 hours, 16 minutes and 45 seconds. This broke by one hour, 5 minutes and 45 seconds the record made recently by Miss Bobby Trout of California.

OSCAR UNDERWOOD, former United States senator from Alabama and for years one of the ablest leaders of the Democratic party, who died at his country home in Woodlawn, Va., was buried at Birmingham, Ala., with simple but impressive rites. Mr. Underwood was the last survivor of the big figures of the Democratic convention of 1912 at Baltimore. In that convention and again in 1924 in New York he was an active candidate for the Presidential nomination. His service in congress was long and distinguished. He retired voluntarily from the senate in 1927.

Ogden Mills, New York financier and father of Ogden L. Mills, under secretary of the treasury; George J. Charlton of Chicago, passenger traffic manager of the Alton railway; Alexander T. Brown of Syracuse, N. Y., inventor of shotguns and typewriters and Robert L. Slagle, president of the University of South Dakota, were among others who died last week.

GOV. HENRY S. JOHNSTON of Oklahoma pleaded not guilty to eight impeachment articles voted by the lower house of the state legislature, and announced he was ready for immediate trial before the senate. The case was set for Feb. 11. Members of the state Supreme court also are under fire, charges against them being made by witnesses before a legislative subcommittee that is making a general investigation.

Gardens Keeping Pace With Diets

Supply of Celery, Lettuce, Spinach Trebled in Past Decade.

The value of a garden used to be based largely on the saving it permitted in the budget for food, and the variety it permitted in the diet. That was perfectly in order. But now we have come to think of gardens more in terms of health and enjoyment. Vegetables have come to the front in the matter of diet because they supply roughage as well as vitamins and essential minerals. In order to build up resistance to disease and provide iron, calcium and phosphorus and vitamins for the body, at least two vegetables other than potatoes or dried beans should be eaten every day.

Crops Trebled. Maybe gardens of yesteryear supplied all these things—but did they? Not to the same extent as the gardens of today, because we have learned so much in late years about food value, diet and the importance of vegetables in the diet. It is significant that in the last decade the consumption of celery, lettuce and spinach has trebled. Iron for red blood is better supplied by garden greens than by patent medicines.

Health and Happiness. It is not every garden, of course, that supplies health and happiness in the fullest measure—only the well-balanced gardens. Such gardens produce the edible-seed crops—beans, peas and sweet corn; the root crops, such as beets, carrots, parsnips, etc.; the green and salad crops, such as lettuce, celery, cabbage, chard, etc.; the vegetable fruits, such as tomatoes, squashes, eggplants, etc.; and, in addition, small fruits such as strawberries, raspberries, currants, gooseberries, etc. Varieties are influenced by locality and condition of the soil; what is best in one part of the country is not always best in another. It is a good plan to use, for the most part, varieties which have been tried and found satisfactory. But don't close your mind on new varieties—try a new one of at least one crop every year.—The Farm Journal.

White Pine Forest Is Threatened by Fungus

The future of all white pine forests is threatened by a fungus known as white pine blister rust which attacks the pine trees only after it has undergone a period of development on the leaves of currant or gooseberry plants. The cultivated black currant is so extremely susceptible to the disease that it is a distinct menace to the white-pine timber supply. It is responsible for establishing the blister rust in white-pine forests which would otherwise have remained free from the disease.

As a warning of this threat to a very important forest tree, the Dominion department of agriculture has issued a circular on the white pine blister rust in which the disease and its effects are described and control measures proposed. On white pines the disease first of all ages and, unless controlled, prevents the growing of these trees in areas where currants and gooseberries are abundant.

Nasal Catarrh Most Difficult Disease

Nasal catarrh is one of the most difficult and obstinate diseases of sheep to treat. They should be housed in clean, dry, well bedded and well ventilated quarters. Dust in feed and bedding should be avoided as much as possible.

The nostrils should be cleaned with absorbent cotton and boric acid, afterward pouring 2 teaspoonfuls of a warm 4 per cent solution of boric acid into each nostril. To do this the sheep should be laid on its back. A short time afterward, inject or pour a teaspoonful of the following mixture in each nostril: Four ounces camellid oil; 2 drams tincture benzoin and 10 ounces sweet oil.

Agricultural Hints

Don't let mice eat your bees' honey and pollen. Screen the entrance to the bee hive and keep them out.

Until lambing time the ewes need a variety of feed, and good air, so that body, breath and manure odors will not weaken them.

The food supply in the United States has increased 14 per cent in the last five years, while the population has increased less than 9 per cent.

Whenever possible the fall plgs should be farrowed out in the clover fields or on clean pastures. Farmers who follow this system invariably have good success with fall litters.

Yellow corn contains a vitamin that is said to be essential to the best physiological development of the animal body. Feeding tests have definitely proved this fact.

"Better chicks" means chicks from stock that is bred to reach quick maturity, to produce uniformly in desired size and type and to produce not only a large number of eggs but of the size, color and shape desired.

Not Practical Method

It might be possible to start a pine by planting a cone, but not practical. Usually a cone after being buried becomes damp and closes in such a way that the seeds cannot sprout. Cones should be dried in the sun, the seeds shaken out and planted.
