DEATHS.

CASSIDY—Word has been received in Bellefonte of the death at Canton, Ohio, of Mrs. Robert A. Cassidy, mother of Wilbur C. Cassidy, of Bellefonte, from diseases incident to advanced age. Mrs. Cassidy, whose maiden name was Caroline Johnston, was born at Boalsburg 87 years ago, but had resided in Bellefonte for a number of years, while her husband was part owner with Al Fiedler of the Gazette. When Mr. Cassidy sold out his interest in that newspaper to Mr. Fiedler, the Cassidy family moved to Canton. Mrs. Cassidy was married on December 20, 1860, but her husband preceded her to the grave. These children survive: Wilbur C., of Bellefonte; Mrs. Grace Fennacht, of Canton; Margaret P., at home; Mrs. Martha Betz, and Mrs. Lucy Sober, of Canton, and Mrs. Caroline Welker, of Columbus, Ohio. Funeral services were held at the home; interment at Canton.

MOYER—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Moyer, a native of Centre county, who has been living with her daughter, Mrs. Anna Decamp, Mifflinburg, R. D., for the past year, died from infirmities of age. FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

PROTECT THE BEES—To encourage early spring brood rearing, it is necessary to maintain a temperature of about 93 degrees Fahrenheit in the entire brood chamber. Protection from the cold and winds can be supplied by packing cases and windbreaks. The protection should not be removed until the last killing frost.

DO NOT PASTURE TOO SOON—Do not turn cows out to pasture too soon, say Penn State dairy specialists. Early pasture grass is very watery and so is of low food value. Another reason for delaying is that pasture yields for the season will be much greater if the grass is permitted to get a good start.

GARDENS NEED LIME—Lime should be applied to the garden soil, since few vegetables produce good crops on acid soil. Application must be made just after the garden has been plowed. Many successful gardeners apply lime every three years, at the rate of one ton of ground limestone per acre or one pound to 20 square feet.

CLEAN FEED PROMOTES HEALTH—Clean food is essential in producing healthy chicks. All feed should be fed in troughs or hoppers. This practice may reduce the spread of coccidiosis, round worms and tapeworms, as most diseases are introduced through the digestive tract.

CHANGE STRAWBERRY MULCH—Inspect the strawberries under mulch to see if the plants are becoming discolored. If the mulch is too thick some of it should be removed and the rest stirred. This will permit better aeration and will give the plants a chance to resume natural conditions. Working parts of the straw into the space between the rows will retard weed growth and later will add humus to the soil.

Unseasonable Spring Weather.

Monday and Tuesday snow fell. On Monday the fall melted in the valley as it fell, but on the mountains it lay to a depth of from two to three inches. Tuesday the fall was almost entire, from early morning until late at night. A covering of earth lay over everything to a depth of several inches. Toward evening a cold wind began blowing. The effect on fruit blossoms is yet unknown.

John D. put on another cent without asking us, and all his competitors followed suit. It must be grand to be the leader on the up trend.
