

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Farmers, after having a vacation from field work for about two weeks, are at it again.

The Yender Company, contractors for the erection of the joint high school building at Millheim, began excavations on Monday morning.

Miss Lena Breen, an operator in the Bell Telephone exchange, State College, and her brother, Ted Breen, were in town the latter part of last week.

Abramhamson's Department store, Millheim, makes an important announcement in an ad. found on the last page of this issue. Be sure to read it.

Alfred Yearick, of Millburg, formerly of Woodward, is in a very serious condition due to a second paralytic stroke suffered a short time ago. He is entirely helpless at this time.

Frank Burel, of Aaronburg, was one of the operative patients at the Centre County hospital during the past week. The operation, a serious one, proved successful, and the patient is improving rapidly.

Judge M. Walton Mitchell, of Pittsburgh, for 27 years a member of the board of trustees of the Pennsylvania State College and for the past 15 years president of the board, has declined to be a candidate for reelection. His present term as trustee expires in June.

Andrew Immel, one of Gregg township's oldest and most highly respected citizens, was a visitor in town on Tuesday. Mr. Immel has attained the age of 84 years, and is enjoying life as only one can whose faculties are unimpaired. His mental alertness strikes one forcibly.

Mrs. F. K. Frank, on Thursday evening entertained the Service class of the Lutheran Sunday school at her home. After the regular session, a social hour was enjoyed, and during this period refreshments were served. Mrs. R. S. Hagan won a handsome prize by building the largest number of words from a slogan.

T. E. Jodon, of Pleasant Gap, has decided to hold another sale of western horses and milk cows during the early part of May, on either the 4th or 6th day of the month; the exact time will be duly advertised in these columns. At his last sale the demand for stock was so great that Mr. Jodon could not satisfy all buyers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hemmis, the latter better known as Miss Ethel McClenahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. McClenahan, of Centre Hall, have moved from here to Johnstown where they have started house-keeping. Mr. Hemmis has taken over the agency for the Harley-Davidson motorcycle in the western Pennsylvania district.

William H. Long, of Millroy, was in Centre Hall on business on Tuesday. He is the administrator of the estate of Susan J. Long, late of Potter township, deceased, and he will hold an orphan's court sale of a piece of property situated a mile east of Colver, on Saturday, May 18th. Full and complete details are contained in an ad. appearing this week.

The Kelley brothers—W. Maurice and Roy, of Reedsville—on their way home from a business trip to Tyrone, stopped in town for a brief chat with friends. They are lumber manufacturers, and are operating two mills in Mifflin county at present. The former is also engaged as a salesman of a high grade of anthracite coal.

S. M. Campbell, the Millheim undertaker, and his right hand man, John S. Meekley, on Tuesday morning on their way to Bellefonte on business stopped with the Reporter for a brief time. Mr. Campbell will offer the personal property of his mother, Mrs. Sarah J. Campbell, deceased, at public sale in Millheim, on Saturday, May 4th.

Clyde Smith came to Centre Hall on a motorcycle from New York City, the latter part of last week, for a few days' visit with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Smith and Miss Grace Smith. Clyde is a private chauffeur for a lady of wealth in New York City, and drives a Lincoln sedan. He is scheduled to make a trip to the South in the near future.

The annual oratorical contest between pupils of the Lewistown, Port Royal and Hazleton High schools was held Friday evening in the auditorium of the Lewistown High school building. The winner was Miss Clara Gregory, of Lewistown, who again represented her school. She won in a similar contest a year ago. The second honor went to Miss Christine Soule, a student of the Newport High school. The prize is a beautiful silver trophy cup presented by the well-known Lewistown mercantile firm of E. E. McMeen and Company.

Hugh Ralston, representing the Mifflinburg Hardware Company, was in town on Tuesday installing Pyrofax gas equipment in the Millering Cafe. This gas is superior to any manufactured article, being the natural gas with all impurities removed—so pure, in fact, that in the event of an open jet permitting the gas to escape, no ill effects will be felt by anyone breathing it. It also has many additional advantages over any other form of gas for heating purposes. The Mifflinburg Hardware Company's ads in the Reporter, or a request to Mr. Ralston, will give you further information.

A. C. Bauer, of Wilkinsburg, has been made chief clerk at the State Reformatory, Huntingdon, a position carrying with it a worthwhile salary and responsibility. Mr. Bauer at one time was engaged as an accountant at Rockview Penitentiary, and from there accepted a similar position with the Public Casualty Company, Pittsburgh, where he remained until coming to Huntingdon last week. Mr. Bauer is the husband of Catharine Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradford, and frequently comes to Centre Hall to visit them. Mr. and Mrs. Bauer and little son, "Chuck," will live at Huntingdon.

"LINDY" CROSSES PENNS VALLEY

Although only the employees of the National Air Transport Co. field in Bellefonte knew of it, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh flew over that airport about 10 o'clock last Thursday evening. He was bound from Cleveland to New York, having left the former city about 8:15 o'clock that evening. He approached Bellefonte flying at an altitude of about 4,000 feet, swooped down over the air mail field, close to the hangar, and zoomed into the air again. Although Col. Lindbergh frequently came to Bellefonte when he was a mail pilot before his epoch flight across the Atlantic, he has never landed there since that time.

OLDER BOYS PLAN CONFERENCE FOR MAY 10

Penn State will soon be the destination of about 60 boys of high school age as delegates to the eighth annual older boys conference during the week end of May 10th to the 12th. It is part of the Y. M. C. A. program to conduct such a conference in the interest of the boys of Centre county. Owing to the limit in numbers the committee promises this to be the best conference ever given since its institution in 1922.

Arrangements are being made to secure R. L. "Chief" Williams, older boys work secretary of the Pittsburgh district. Not only does the "Chief" know boys, but the boys soon get to know him and never forget him. "Dad" Dennis is another leader who has already found a place in the hearts of the boys of Centre county. Those who attend cannot but be influenced by such lives as these.

Delegates will arrive between three and five o'clock Friday and will be immediately transported to the Andy Lytle cabin at Shingletown. Sessions will be held Friday evening, Saturday morning and afternoon, and Sunday afternoon. A trip is planned to State College which includes a baseball game between Penn State and the Navy. The conference will officially close Sunday afternoon.

With the co-operation of all the Sunday schools by sending delegates, this should be a great event in the lives of the boys.
