

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Rev. H. C. Cleff, pastor of the Evangelical church, Millheim, on his way to Bellefonte on Monday morning, paid the Reporter a few minutes' visit.

Harold S. Shattuck, county surveyor, Mrs. Shattuck, and Mrs. Ellen Stuart, all of State College, were guests of Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, on Sunday.

Guy W. Jacobs is in Washington, D. C. this week, attending the U. S. Chamber of Commerce sessions as the representative of the Steubenville (Ohio) Chamber of Commerce.

Frank White moved from the Lambert house to the McClenahan home vacated by Auctioneer E. M. Smith, who is now located in the Runkle property recently acquired by Edgar Miller.

The dramatic club of the Centre Hall High school at its plays on Friday and Saturday nights realized a net profit of $50.00. The plays were well executed, giving the audience perfect satisfaction.

The following were guests of Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener on Monday: Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur Meyer, of Boalsburg; Rev. and Mrs. Fred Griesing, of Aronsburg, and Rev. and Mrs. Albert Asendorf, of State College.

Colonel G. Decker, of the Decker Chevrolet Company, Bellefonte, while crossing the Millheim diamond one evening last week, observed the traffic light and was hit by a car whose driver failed to be governed by the "red." The damage was light.

The next meeting of the Penna Valley Ministerium will be held at Lock Haven, Monday, May 13, as the guest of Rev. C. E. Hazen, former minister and pastor of the Penna Valley church of the M. E. church. The paper will be presented by Rev. Newman, of Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. George Searson, Mrs. James Searson and daughter Betty, of Centre Hall, were dinner guests recently with Mr. Searson's sister, Mrs. Irvin Stover, at Yeagertown. Noah Eby, of Woodward, accompanied them to that place and is visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Hess, and family.

Frank Laughlin, of Bloomsburg, was in town the latter part of last week, having come to Centre county to recover a Chevrolet coupe stolen from him. The car was found near Bellefonte. Mr. Laughlin is a millwright, and some few years ago did the work when the Bradford & Co. mill was improved.

While Harry McClenahan was burning brush on Saturday morning in a peach orchard west of town, the fire spread to the mountain and got beyond his control. John Rudy, a farmer living nearby, seeing the smoke came to help, and by one o'clock in the afternoon the men had the flames under control.

Sunday was the first anniversary of the eighteen to twenty-four-inch snow that did so much damage to wire lines, fruit and forest trees in all parts of the State. The event was celebrated by a brisk hail storm and rain, accompanied by vivid flashes of lightning at about 7:45 in the evening. Monday morning the storm finished by a fall of snow and sleet that lay for some time in protected places.

A large colony house for birds was built and erected by F. M. Fisher at his home here. The house is built on lines and specifications suited to the martin family of birds. It is four tiers high and has a total of forty-four openings. Once the martins occupy it, they will continue to do so indefinitely. The are sociable in character and prefer to nest where they can see people move about and hear them talk.

Harold McWilliams, a paint contractor in Johnstown, recently visited his sister, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, in town. He was accompanied by Dr. Barr, a skin disease specialist enjoying an extensive practice. Dr. Barr, when he began practicing his profession, was the successor of Dr. G. I. Yearick, at Nanty Glo. Dr. Yearick, by the way, continues to hold down his position in the City Home and Hospital, at Mayview, in the Pittsburgh district.

Dr. John Hardenberg and wife, of St. Petersburg, Florida, have been in Millheim for a short visit. The physician is a native of Millheim but has been in Florida for some time where he is practicing his profession. He had no intention of locating there when he first went to the State, but did so without making preliminary arrangements. Dr. Hardenberg reports the Kerlins—Mr. and Mrs. A. E.—whose family physician he is, as being well and in good spirits.

John F. Hagan, the veteran carpenter of Gregg township, was a brief caller here on Monday. He has retired from active work, and on Wednesday attained his 75th year. Mr. Hagan lived a very active life and can look upon many structures in Penna Valley in which he had a part in building. He is one of the Reporter's readers who date back to the time the paper was printed in both German and English, at which time it was published in Aronsburg by Ludwig Kurtz. He knew the paper when a boy, his father, the late John Hagan, having been a subscriber in its early history. Long live John F., the carpenter.

Rev. John L. Goheen, the missionary from India, gave his illustrated lecture in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening to a full house. It was replete with information and entertainment. Rev. Goheen expects to return to his India field, near Calcutta, about the beginning of June. He will take with him a dozen "Kerlin Quality" White Leghorn hens, presented by W. W. Kerlin; also, a pen of Rhode Island reds, a number of goats, and a few other domestic animals. These will be used to improve native fows and animals. Mrs. Goheen, who is now in Indiana, and her two sons, will not return to India at this time. The boys are at school.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

AVOID MARKET LOSSES—The market discriminates very severely against ram lambs and against all lambs that have not been docked. Castrating and docking re simple operations and easily performed while the lambs are young.

GROW BERRIES IN GARDEN—Strawberry growing is an important part of the home operations. This fruit yields a large quantity in a small space and gives quick returns. Where garden space is limited strawberries can be worked in with vegetables.

PUT FEED IN HOPPERS—From a sanitation standpoint it is far better to place all grain and mast, for chicks in hoppers or boxes than in litter or on the bare filthy floor. Diseases and parasites can be spread easily through feed which comes in contact with filthy litter or ground.

ASPARAGUS IS POPULAR—Asparagus heads the list of vegetables for earliness. This vegetable is growing rapidly in popularity, the average yield increased four times what it was in 1923. It is a sure crop each spring and is available every day for a period of 8 to 10 weeks.

OBSERVE EGG WEEK—National Egg Week is being observed from May 1 to 7. This is the fourth year that this national egg celebration has been staged. The products of American hens yearly exceed $1,250,000,000, and poultry is the sixth most important industry.

FEED GRAIN WITH PASTURE—High-producing cows need grain even when on good pasture. Early pasture grass is high in protein, so grain mixtures should not contain more than 15 per cent protein for best results.
