CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, JUNE 20, 1929.

NO. 25

VISIONS 10,000 STUDENTS
AT PENN STATE COLLEGELauds Hetzel As Outstanding Among College Presidents.

Ten thousand men and women some day will make up the student body at Penn State, was the declaration of Adrian C. Morse, assistant to President Hetzel at the college, when the speaker addressed Kiwanians. Mr. Morse before coming to Penn State was executive secretary of Secretary of Agriculture at Washington.

Mr. Morse, willing to elaborate his belief, gave as his reasons the location of the college, the growing consciousness throughout the State of the worth of the institution, the need for higher education to men and women of the future, and the president of the college. The speaker declared that President Hetzel was "one of half a dozen coming presidents of the United States."

Comparative enrollment of New Hampshire's State university and that of Pennsylvania was another step in Mr. Morse's contention. There, he said, one man out of every 400 attended the institution, while in Pennsylvania there was but one for every 30,000.

Extension and completion of the building program which has been started at the college will help to bring more high school graduates to Penn State, said Mr. Morse. He explained that because of limited facilities only a fraction of the applicants could be admitted.

Pointing at the worth of the college, Mr. Morse cited the seven Navy officers who will matriculate at the next session to the industries that apply for aid in regard to technical problems, and the $50,000 appropriated the college for oil research.

It is believed by Mr. Morse that the decided increase in the size of the Legislative general appropriation is an index to the increasing appreciation by the State of the worth of the college.

Not all of the speaker's time was devoted to describing statistics. The ideal location of the college, the isolation that of necessity must foster intimacy and friendliness, the beauty of the campus, and the rapidly swelling list of capable faculty members all took a share of his time.

YOUNG FARMERS' WEEK

ATTRACTS 700 JUNIORS

More than 700 boys and girls are attending Young Farmers' Week at the Pennsylvania State College this week. They include vocational students and 4-H club members from nearly every county in the State.

Judging contests, talks, recreational periods, tours, and vespers services compose the program of the tenth annual meeting arranged by the State club office. Winning vocational and 4-H judging teams will represent Pennsylvania in national livestock, dairy, and poultry contests.

Four Bellefonte residents are telling how well they would serve as tax collector in that town for the salary of $3500. The three men are engaged in the hardware business and are Wm. M. Bortoff and Charles Schaeffer, Democrats, and Orin T. Kline and Miss Sarah M. Love, Republicans. The latter is the present tax collector and makes the claim that because she has cleaned up the duplicate in good style she ought to be re-elected.

"Stop-Through Traffic" signs were erected in the valley at the approach of all roads on Routes Nos. 53 and 45. This sign has the same force as a traffic light, so far as the stop is concerned, and violators will be called to account by patrolmen. Boroughs are privileged to erect these signs within the borough confines.

Today (Thursday) is Elks' Kiddies' Day at Hecka Park.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from The Pennsylvania State College.

FATTEN CHICKS FOR BROILERS
—Chicks fed unlimited amounts of a complete ration are likely to be in good flesh when ready to be sold as broilers. Poorly fleshed birds should get a special fattening ration for about two weeks before selling time. A good mixture consists of 100 pounds corn meal, 50 pounds ground oatmeal, 50 pounds middlings, and 30 pounds meat scrap. Milk can be used instead of meat scrap and the mixture fed in a moistened form three times daily. Feed cracked corn liberally late in the afternoons.

PROTECT COWS FROM PESTS
—Flies are a serious pest around stable and milchhouse. Screened windows and darkened stables will help protect the cattle. Windows and doors to the milchhouse should be screened also. Destroy all breeding places of flies by hauling away manure daily and preventing accumulation of any filth.

ERADICATE CANADA THISTLE
—One of the best methods of controlling Canada thistle in fields is to starve out the plants by keeping green shoots cut back. If in a corn field rowed both ways, frequent cultivation with knives or sweeps instead of shovels will keep the thistles down. Cut out the thistles in the rows by hoeing.

SPEND DAY AT COLLEGE—Friday of this week is Farmers' Field Day at State College. Give yourself a treat by going to your college for a day.

ROSSMAN MOVES TO HIGH POST
IN EDUCATIONAL CIRCLESNative of Spring Mills Chosen to Head East Chicago School System, Embracing 9,000 Students—Son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman.

Prof. John G. Rossman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman, of Spring Mills, for some years instructor and more recently assistant superintendent of the Gary, Indiana, public schools, was recently honored by election as head of the East Chicago school system. The Gary Post-Tribune, issue of June 12, refers to the matter as follows:

Election of John G. Rossman, assistant superintendent of the Gary public schools, to head of the East Chicago school system was announced shortly after noon today by the Twin City board of education.

Mr. Rossman will begin his new duties on Aug. 1, succeeding J. W. Asbury, whose resignation was requested by the East Chicago board earlier this year.

Mr. Rossman's resignation will be sent to the Gary school board at once, to be effective July 1, Mr. Rossman said.

Final negotiations with the East Chicago board on his acceptance of the post there were completed this morning.

Mr. Rossman has been assistant superintendent of the Gary system for the last six years, coming here as successor to George Schwartz.

As assistant superintendent here, he has been in charge of much of the actual operation of the school system and of the teaching staff.

Mr. Rossman was elected to the Gary post while an executive in the Fort Smith, Ark., schools. Leaving Stuttgart he was director of secondary education in Fort Smith for two years, and declined the superintendency of the system there to accept his position in Gary.

Mr. Rossman received his B. A. and M. A. college degrees from Franklin and Marshall college, and later received an A. M. degree from the teachers' college of Columbia university in New York City. He also has done considerable study toward a Ph. D. degree.

For several years he has spent a portion of the summer as an instructor on school administration subjects in western universities, including the University of Montana and Washington State College, and is under contract for a similar course at the University of Utah this summer.

He has been a frequent contributor to educational journals and is a member of the curriculum committee of the State department of education, charged in a badge for revising the curriculum of the State's public schools.

In taking charge of the East Chicago schools, Mr. Rossman will direct a system embracing about 9,000 students and including two high schools, Washington and Roosevelt.

Spring Mills P. O. S. of A. Picnic.

The Spring Mills P. O. S. of A. will hold their annual picnic, Saturday, August 3rd, in Moser's Grove, east of Spring Mills.

Monument Wins This One.

In a return game with Monument, on Saturday afternoon, at 3:45 place, the Centre Hall baseball team met defeat by the score of 6 to 3. Gross was batted freely, while the locals failed to use their bats with the same effectiveness as was noticeable the week previous when Monument met defeat here.

Final School Report.

Report for 9th month of 5th and 6th grades in borough schools: Per cent of attendance, boys 97, girls 97. The following pupils were neither tardy nor absent during the term: Vinton McClellan, Fred Spyker, Jay Runkle, Kenneth Frank, Woodrow Bradford, Thelma Clark, Hazel Lutz, Alice Spyker. The following pupils were promoted to the Grammar Grade: Jack Kifer, Ralph Packer, Vinton McClellan, Fred Spyker, Jay Runkle, Thelma Clark, Hazel Lutz, Miriam Mitterling, Violetta Hartley, Margaret Meyer, Verma Smith, Sixth grade honor pupil, Jay Runkle; second, Fred Spyker. Fifth grade honor pupil, Roberta Smith; second, Woodrow Bradford.—T. L. Moore, teacher.

This Near East Needs.

Twenty thousand children are still in the care of the Near East Relief. Pennsylvania is asked to raise $50,000 more between now and June 30. Unless this amount is secured in cash or pledged this month, hundreds of children will have to be turned away from the orphanage. Turning these children out unprepared has not the meaning it would have in a country like ours, among their own people, under their own government. It means facing life in tender years with no protection.

The people of Centre county, unthinkingly perhaps, assumed a responsibility when the horrors of the massacre and deportation worked us up to giving liberally to save lives. That responsibility cannot end until those saved lives are brought into a condition to stand for themselves. If a majority of the people who have given at any time to this work, will give a little more now we shall have done our part.

Please send money or pledges to Chas. M. McCurdy, Bellefonte, treasurer for the county.

Traffic was very heavy on Sunday. Everything, however, was quiet through town.

CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM.

Three Days and Nights of Refined
Entertainment, Beginning Saturday Afternoon, June 22nd.—Community Day Program on Friday Night.

"All Star Program" is what this year's Chautauqua for Centre Hall and community is termed, and a careful study of the program would indicate that the phrase is no misnomer. No attempt will be made here to give in detail a description of each number—much has been said already in previous issues and ticket canvassers have doubtless made you familiar with the complete array of talent to be presented.

Before the Chautauqua opens regularly there will be a "Community Day" program for Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock, in the Grange Park auditorium where, of course, all the numbers on the program will be given. A Community Day playlet by local children, entitled, "The Wedding of the Painted Doll," will be presented free of charge.

Sunday evening at 8:30 a sacred service will be held.

The following is the order of the regular Chautauqua program:

Saturday afternoon and evening—Geraldine Bruce Entertainers, a musical romp with pell-mell melody on banjo, cello, saxophone and piano. Vocal moments with three thrilling voices. Violent and character numbers that link versatility with voice ability. Also, Dr. Andrew S. Beshore, Lecturer, "Have you a boy? Bring him to hear this extraordinary man of genius." In "Old Simplicity in a New Age" and "Things Not for Sale." Dr. Beshore pours out the very essence of success as found by a boy with fate apparently set dead against him.

Monday afternoon—The Dietrichs, illusionists. The Dietrichs do the impossible, vanishing solid objects into thin air, whisking them back again. In the evening, the Dietrichs, again, "Her Temporary Husband," a rip-roaring, nerve-rattling, heart-quickening romance that simply knocks you out of your seat with an unexpected climax that's a blazer! Broadway's dearest comedy drama! In the afternoon, "Cinderella for a Night."

Tuesday afternoon—Dr. J. E. Aubrey, Lecturer, "Coming Across" and "The One Mile Town" have become platform classics on how to work and study, and the fine art of living. Dr. Aubrey has delivered these two addresses over four thousand times, and you will hear them on the third afternoon and evening. Also, "Musical Moments" by the Tooley Operatic Co. In the evening—Dr. Aubrey and The Tooley Operatic Company, one of the foremost musical organizations consisting of dramatic and vocal artists specially trained in the comic opera form of entertainment. Their evening performance is "H. M. S. Pinafore."

The Dietrichs.

Part of the entertainment feature on the second day of the "All-Star" program will be given by the Dietrichs, a unique and attractive organization full of "pep" and personality. For many years Mr. Charles Dietrich has mystified American audiences with his marvelous feats of high-class magic, and entertained them with his novelty music. He has toured the United States, Canada, and Mexico, leaving behind him a trail of astounded and admiring friends who are eager to have him return. For the Dietrichs programs are veritable kaleidoscopes of mysterious surprises, startling illusions, original ideas and infallible humor.

The musical part of the Dietrichs programs include selections, both classical and popular, on various novelty instruments including the Bamboo Chimes and Xylophone. These numbers are mixed with magic in such a way that there is never a tiresome moment from the time Mr. Dietrich and his assistant appear on the stage until they leave it. As Mr. Dietrich himself would say, his programs are "mystifying moments of magic, melody and mirth, making up a merry mélange of modern marvels."

Schick Test for Children.

All children who received the tetanus-toxin, last year, are requested to appear at the High school building, Thursday of next week (June 27) at 2:00 o'clock P. M. to receive the Schick test. The test is to be given by Dr. Hugh Morrow and Miss Erickson, the latter the State College Chapter Red Cross nurse.

State Takes Over Bridges.

Twenty-five bridges of various types in Centre county will be taken over by the State Highway Department and will be either repaired or rebuilt by it. The expense comes from $5,000,000 aside for that purpose and will cover rebuilding or repairing a total of 2,127 bridges. Of this number 451 are stone or concrete, 245 timber and 1,431 steel.

In Centre county two of the bridges are stone or concrete, one is of timber and 22 steel—a total of 25.

It is estimated by the Department of Agriculture that Centre county had 1500 automobiles on farms, January 1st, which is no increase over a year ago. On all farms throughout the State there are 129,000 cars, an increase of 1520 over 1928.

The Clover Club, a social club of ladies, held their annual outing on Wednesday at which occasion each takes her husband or some male friend with her. The gathering was held in Mifflintown at the Wm. Banks hotel. There were about twenty-six in the party.

The borough traffic stop light is again in operation after having been out of commission for several weeks.

Road patrolmen will be busy for a while persuading auto drivers that the yellow sign means what it says. The "stop through traffic" sign should be heeded by every auto driver, whether or not he sees a car approaching.

CENTRE COUNTY HAS 30 IN PENN STATE'S "GRAD" CLASS

Thirty young people from Centre county graduated from Penn State this week. Twenty-one of these are from State College, and among them is Theodore F. Breen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Breen, formerly residents of near town, who graduated from the Forestry Department.

From the other sections of the county are the following:

William D. Johnston, Howard, dairy husbandry, Dairy Science Club, freshman baseball.

Ralph M. Alexander, Milesburg, mechanical engineering, second honors group, wrestling squad.

Frank W. Warner, Jr., Philipsburg, electrochemical engineering, first honors group.

Maya K. Fetterolf, Millheim, commerce and finance.

Agnes E. Geary, Centre Hall, bachelor of science in education, first honors group, house of representatives, women's senate, Y. W. C. A. cabinet, women's editor of Penn State Collegian, women's editor LaVie, W. A. A. board, hockey, baseball, and member of Beta Chi Phi, Kappa Delta Phi, Archival, and Aretic societies.

Roy H. Adams, Pleasant Gap, poultry husbandry, wrestling squad, poultry husbandry club, and member of Alpha Phi Sigma social fraternity.

Donald W. Smith, Fleming, mechanical engineering.

Harold H. Williams, Howard, agricultural biochemistry, first honors group, member of Lambda Chemical Society, Phi Lambda Upsilon and Alpha Zeta fraternities.

Harry S. Tice, Howard, arts and letters, baseball and wrestling squads, member of Alpha Phi Sigma social fraternity.

Growing Ring-Neck Pheasants.

At present there are 1200 Ring-neck pheasant eggs in various stages of incubation on the Jordan game farm in Lawrence county. The farm has 800 hen and 200 cock pheasants. The eggs are laid promiscuously throughout the holding fields. On two successive days 519 and 508 eggs were gathered, respectively.

So far 800 young pheasants have been successfully hatched and these are now thriving especially well in the rearing fields.

Wild pheasants from the surrounding country have been attracted to the farm, presumably by the calls of the captive birds and these have been seen to fly into the holding areas where they mingled with the other birds.

Mrs. Berlin Elected Grand Worthy Matron.

The Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, at a meeting held in Pittsburgh, elected Mrs. Jessie K. Berlin, Allentown, grand worthy matron. Other officers elected were grand worthy patron, Thomas Meany, Philadelphia; associate grand matron, Mrs. Carrie Criswell, Beaver Falls; associate grand patron, Harry R. Graham, Pittsburgh; grand secretary, Mrs. Adeline Barnes, Pittsburgh, re-elected; grand treasurer, Mrs. Belle C. Williams, Scranton, re-elected; grand conductress, Mrs. Cora Davenport, Pittsburgh; associate grand conductress, Mrs. Louise Linden, Pittsburgh, and grand trustee, Mrs. Bertha E. Hamilton, Erie.

Compete for Edison Scholarship.

Among the sixty-seven Pennsylvania boys who took examination in English, mathematics and physics in competition for the Thomas A. Edison scholarship, was one from Centre county—H. Lindsey Dunkle, of State College. The test was held in Harrisburg on Saturday. The student who receives the highest rating will compete with boys from other States in an examination given personally by the inventor to determine the one best fitted to enter a technical school and eventually carry on Edison's work.

May "League" Milk, $2.33.

A net pool price of $2.33 per 100 lbs. will be paid members of the Dairy-men's League Cooperative Association, Inc., for milk produced in May, according to an announcement from the association's headquarters. This price is for 3.5 milk at the 201-210 mile freight zone.

This return sets another price record for the Dairy-men's League. It is the highest May price in the history of the organization, and is 23 cents higher than the net price of May, 1928. Nearest approach to this May price was in 1927 when $2.22 was paid, while the lowest May return was $1.00 in 1922.

Engagement Announced.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Lucille S. Gramley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Gramley, of Millheim, to Thomas S. Goynes, of Ashland, Pa. The wedding is scheduled to take place in the near future.

Bake Sale on Grange Park.

The Centre Hall Y. P. B. will hold a bake sale on June 22, beginning at 2:00 P. M. The sale will be held at the Auditorium on Grange Park. Baked foods will be on sale and also ice cream.

Centre County Association of Philadelphia Picnic.

The Centre County Association of Philadelphia annual picnic will be held Saturday, June 22, in Fairmount Park, to the rear of Belmont Mansion. The invitation closes by saying: "5:00 P. M. is the time to prepare for the supper, but be sociable and come out early in the afternoon."

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST
FROM ALL PARTS.

The Chautauqua comes here from Snow Shoe.

Hall Bortoff, who was stricken with apoplexy while visiting relatives in Pittsburgh several weeks ago, is improving nicely.

If the bean stalks in your garden just refuse to grow and look like as though the leaf was cut out and patches of lace inlaid, blame it on the Mexican bean beetle.

The Centre Hall High school alumni picnic will be held at Kishacoquillas Park, Friday of this week. Members are requested to meet at the Centre Hall railroad station at 9:00 A. M.

John and Ralph Orndorf, brothers, of Woodward, who left their home here several weeks ago for the Pacific coast, reached their destination and report back to friends that they both have work.

Mrs. P. F. Bariges, Hazel Winkler, and Olive Orwig, all of Aaronsburg, called on the Reporter while in town a few days ago in the interest of the festival to be held in Aaronsburg on Saturday.

Children's Day services will be held at the Sprucebrook Methodist church Sunday evening June 23, at 7:30, and in the Methodist church, Centre Hall, on Sunday, June 30, at 7:30 P. M. The public is invited to all of these services.

The success of the children's day program in the Lutheran church on Sunday evening was largely due to the efforts of Harvey W. Flink, who had the training for the pageant in hand. The exercises were mostly carried on by children of very tender years. The offering, devoted to the Loyalists' Home, totaled some forty dollars.

Ken Haines, son of Merchant and Mrs. M. C. Haines, of Rebersburg, has been elected to teach in the Mill Hill High school the coming term. He will instruct in history and chemistry in the schoolroom and will assume the duties of coach for all athletic field activities. "Ken" is pitching for Scranton in the N.Y.-Pen league and has won four of five games in which he has pitched.

Although a week or more late, it is never too late to give a kind word or do a kind deed—so we give below the names of the town's little tots who contributed flowers on Memorial Day to decorate the soldier's graves in the local cemetery: Jean Bartholomew, Doris Moltz, Woodrow Bradford, Rex Seaton, Betty Seaton, Bob Evan Wetzel, Margaret Gene Dinges, Robert Harry Dinges, Jack Kirkpatrick.

Four of the students to graduate from Beckley College, Harrisburg, are George M. Stover, teacher training, and Byers S. Ripka, cost engineering and accountancy, both of Millheim; Philip A. Vonada, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Vonada, sales and advertising, of Cobern, and Miss Bernadine Wagner, teacher training, of Spring Mills. Mr. Ripka was one of seven charter members organizing the Omega Phi Alpha fraternity and became its vice-president.

While employed on a gas line extension job at York, Clarence Schuyler, son of Mrs. Anna Schuyler, formerly of near Millheim, was caught by a cave-in of the ditch and it took fellow workmen twenty minutes to dig him out. They were blasting and the concussion probably loosened the trench timbers with the above results. The injured man was rushed to the West End hospital at York, where he was found to be in a critical condition, although no bones were broken.

Rev. Russell F. Auman, of Yeagerstown, son of T. A. Auman, of Rebersburg, received his bachelor of divinity degree at the commencement exercises at Susquehanna University.

The annual encampment of the Young People's Branch of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Pennsylvania State College from June 24 to 29. More than 100 delegates from 30 counties will be present. The encampments are sponsored each year by the W. C. T. U. for the purpose of training young people in citizenship and law observance.

After drilling for water for the greater part of a month, a fine stream was struck at a depth of 150 feet on Nittany Mountain top, above Centre Hall, on Friday afternoon. The well was drilled by J. F. Yarrison, of Williamsport, for Musser E. Coldron, proprietor of the Nittany Mountain Coffee Shoppe. A test of the well was made at the finish and it revealed that there was a flow of 250 gallons per hour.

The Eaglesmere Bible Conference under the auspices of the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, will be held July 6 to 14.

Tobert M. Foster, whose ever-smiling countenance has been missed at his usual haunts for some weeks, due to illness, states the State College Times, is so far recovered as to be able to be about the lower floor and porch. His recovery is slow but it is a satisfaction to know that he is on the mend and will ere long again be a familiar figure on our streets. Mr. and Mrs. Foster received a cablegram from their son Robert M. Jr., who a month ago sailed for a tour of Europe. The cablegram came from Vienna and states that he is enjoying the trip very much. After a visit to Paris, London and other points of interest, he will return home by the middle of next month.
