DOES AGAIN MARKED FOR SLAUGHTER BY HUNTERS

Penna. Game Commission Also Allows Killing of Bucks This Fall.

Bucks can be killed legally during the open deer season next fall and it will again be legal to slay does on Friday. Last year the commission stirred up a hornets' nest among hunters by legalizing the killing of does and banning the killing of bucks.

There will be no open season this year for ruffed grouse and Hungarian partridges.

The season on bucks will open December 1 and close December 15. Deer with two points or more to their antlers may be slain. Elk may be killed during the same period, provided they have four or more points to their antlers. Other open seasons have been fixed for this year by the commission as follows:

Blackbirds, August 1 to November 30; wild turkeys, ringneck pheasants, November 1 to 15; bobwhite quail, gray black and fox squirrels and cottontail rabbits and hares, November 1 to 30.

Bears, a year old or older, November 1 to December 15; raccoons November 1 to January 15, the number being unlimited instead of 15 to a season; all fur-bearing animals, except muskrats, November 1 to February 28.

Seasons of migratory birds will conform to Federal regulations as announced from Washington. Hunting will be permissible again six days a week, Sunday hunting being banned.

The commission authorized purchase of 27,556 additional acres for game preserves, bringing its total to more than 200,000 acres. Two additional tracts, comprising 327 acres, will be added to the State game farm near Pottstown, in Limerick township, Montgomery county.

Marshall Stoops, of York, became a surgical patient on Saturday.

SIX NEW BUILDINGS FOR STATE COLLEGE

Six new buildings, approximating a total expenditure of two and a half million dollars, will be constructed on the campus of the Pennsylvania State College within the next two years, according to plans approved by the board of trustees of the college. Funds for the program come from the $2,250,000 State appropriation shared by Governor Fisher, and from the emergency building fund raised several years ago by alumni and friends of the college.

As much of the program will be completed in the biennium as funds will permit. Overcrowded conditions on the campus will be relieved by the new construction but it will not permit immediate expansion or larger student body because of needed replacements, long delayed. The schedule calls for the construction of the following buildings: rebuilding of Old Main and a power plant, both under way; new mining building; an addition to the present building which will be remodeled for instructional work in home economics; a new unit of the Liberal Arts building; a botany greenhouse; general experiment station greenhouse; poultry plant feed house and a building for rural engineering.

LOCALS WIN TWO OUT OF THREE.

Millheim Bites the Dust—14 to 1. Millheim failed to show any signs of its prowess of former years on the baseball field when they met Centre Hall here in a twilight game Thursday evening. In seven innings they took an awful wallop, taking the count for 14 to 1.

With such former stars as Ray Miller, "Sus" Miller, "Pealey" Musser and Brown in Millheim's line-up, the one-sided score is difficult of explanation, unless it be that these stars are waning, which we doubt not.

Centre Hall's young bloods rode rough shod over the enemy. "Cur" Reiber finally landed on one with all his great strength and the ball went to deep right center for a "Ruthian" home run. Newton Crawford served them to Millheim's batters and they found the pills to be anything but sugar-coated. "Doc's" speed in the snuffing darkness completely baffled the batters.

Lamar Whitewashed, 12 to 0. Centre Hall easily defeated Lamar in a return game on the latter's grounds Saturday afternoon, by the score of 12 to 0. Gross allowed but two hits.

Milroy's Crack Team Wins, 5 to 4. Milroy's fast team won a 7-inning Milroy's fast team won a 7-inning game was one of the best of the season, with plenty of thrills for the fans. Milroy's infield performed miracles, and if the same could be said of the local's defense the game would have remained at home. Newton Crawford pitched a splendid game and deserved to win, but the boys were off in their fielding. The stage was set in the last inning for a real hay ending. After two were out, Martz singled, and Stover's and Goodhart's hits filled the bases. Harold Keller faced a situation similar to that of the immortal Casey, and like Casey, —fanned! Good-bye, ball game.

Phillipsburg will play here Saturday afternoon, which promises to be another good game.

PENNA. REPUBLICAN CHIEFS MAKE STATE PRINTING COSTLY

Low Bidder Charges District Plan Operates to Spread Work Among Loyal Helpers of Party. Political distribution of printing contracts for State institutions to take care of Republican organization print shops in various parts of the State costs the Commonwealth a loss of $20,000 or more a biennium, it was disclosed a few days ago when a row broke out over the award of printing contracts aggregating $150,000.

Arthur B. Crane, printing manager of the Times-Tribune Co., Altoona, charged that his concern, the low bidder on job work for State institutions in 13 districts, was to be deprived of the work except in the one district in which his concern operates, as the result of a ruling by John C. Dight, head of the State Printing Department.

Crane's company, bidding on the unit bids, was approximately $20,000 lower, according to Crane, on all the jobs. The printing work, under the schedules drafted by the State Printing Department, is divided by normal schools into 13 districts.

Formerly the institutions awarded the printing contracts themselves and, according to Crane, it went to Republican printing companies and seemed to keep them in line politically. Under the new administrative code, the printing department in Harrisburg supervises all awards of State printing contracts.

The printing for the State institutions for the current biennium was arranged on the basis of 13 districts. Crane's company and several other concerns submitted bids on all 13 districts.

"Dight wanted me to withdraw all bids," said Crane, "except what I submitted for the work in the Nittany district, the Altoona area, and told me he would then award the contracts for that district and the Eighth, where we were the only bidder, to the Times-Tribune Company. He even suggested the form of a letter I was to write."

Crane refused to withdraw the bids.

MILESBERG TO CURTIN TO HAVE CONCRETE HIGHWAY

Lord Construction Company Awarded Contract to Build 4 1/2 Miles of Road for $269,974.60.—Work Has Begun.

Work has been started on a four and one-half mile section of concrete highway on State Highway Route 64 between Milesburg and Curtin, Centre county, Division Engineer S. C. Jackson in charge of construction advised the Harrisburg office this week.

This is the first section of Route 64 to be resurfaced with a concrete surface, and is part of a plan which, when completed, will offer a direct short cut from points between Tyrone and Milesburg to Lock Haven over improved roads. It will afford a beautiful drive along the northwest side of Muncy Mountain, opening to the tourists new views of virgin Pennsylvania. It will take the bulk of traffic now going over the circuitous route U. S. 220 between Milesburg and Mill Hall, shortening the distance six miles between these points.

The contract was awarded to the Lord Construction Company of Harrisburg, Pa. State, on May 26, for $269,974.60, to be paid 100 per cent by the State. About one-third of the paving is expected to be completed this year.

BISHOP—DUCK.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mildred L. Duck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Duck, 219 Bratton Ave., Lewistown, and Jesse Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bishop, of Altoona, on Monday evening, July 8th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. M. Duck, of Jersey City, an uncle of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop had planned a wedding trip by motor to places of interest in the Eastern States, but owing to the illness of the bride's mother, they have changed their arrangements and will return home this week. They will for the present reside at the home of Mrs. Bishop's parents. Mr. Bishop is an employee of the Altoona Theatre, and Mrs. Bishop was a teacher last year at the Lake Park public school, and has been re-elected for the ensuing year. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop left here on Sunday morning by auto for the ostensible purpose of making a visit to the bride's aunt, Mrs. B. E. Phillips, of New York City. The marriage soon followed their arrival in that city.

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The Booser and Hagan garages have new awnings to the front of them, recently erected by Alewistown firm.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Scholl, of Altoona, motored through Centre Hall on Tuesday, stopping off here for a few minutes' visit.

Wm. H. Haney has found a few weeks' employment with the Sheffield Furnace, Inc. in their Maryland territory. He left here Tuesday.

Dorothy Kerlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Kerlin, of New Cumberland, is enjoying a vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, in town.

The Junior workers, a class in the Lutheran Sunday school taught by Virginia Zettle, held their annual picnic at Penns Cave recently. A special attraction was canoeing on the lake at the outlet of the cave.

W. E. McWilliams celebrated his eightieth birthday recently at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. L. Musser, at Rock Springs, to which a few relatives were bidden, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Goodhart and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Potter and children, of town.

John H. Horner, formerly of Tusseyville, now of Bousburg, made a trip to Williamsport last week to consult Dr. H. H. Longwell concerning trouble with one of his legs, the result of an injury received several years ago from being kicked by a horse.

Randall Bradford, Miss Mildred Tamble, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Moses and two children, all of Phoenixville, drove here on Saturday and returned Sunday. Randall and Mrs. Moses are son and daughter, respectively, of Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford, of Phoenixville. While here they were guests of the Bradford families.

Commercial and industrial customers of West Penn Power Company are soon to receive the first issue of a new company publication "Business Builders." This monthly aims to bring to the attention of business men the many uses and advantages of electricity in building up their business. It contains illustrations, many of which are photographs taken within the local territory and tells of specific instances where the use of electricity has resulted in increased production and sales. It will also contain proven ideas in business building.

GOYNE—GRAMLEY.

Millheim Young Lady Becomes Bride of Ashland Business Man—Guests Confined to Closest Relatives of Couple.

On Thursday noon July 11, a simple, informal, but very pretty wedding was staged at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Ward Gramley, Millheim. The bride was their daughter and only child, Miss Lucille, who married T. S. Goynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goynes, of Ashland.

While they stood under an arch of rhododendron, Rev. C. P. Catherman, of Gettysburg, a former pastor and old friend of the bride, pronounced them man and wife, using the beautiful ceremony. He was assisted by Rev. L. E. Leshner, pastor of St. John's Lutheran church, where the bride and her family regularly attend.

The bride was charming in a white satin gown of bouffant style, a double string of pearls, a white braided hat of the poke shape, and bearing a bridal bouquet of pink roses.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, served by caterer H. R. Hartman, of State College, to about twenty guests, members of only the immediate families concerned.

The happy pair departed on a ten-day motor trip to points in Canada—Toronto, Montreal, etc., returning through the New England States. They will be at home Sept. 1st, in Ashland, in a newly furnished apartment awaiting their return.

The bride is a graduate of Millheim High school and has attended Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, and the Industrial Art School at Philadelphia. Recently she was in charge of the Millheim office of the West Penn Power company. The groom is a graduate of Ashland High school; also of Penn State, 1924 class. He is at present in the employ of the Goynes Automatic Mine Pump Co. of Ashland, which position he has held since he left Penn State.

A host of friends join in congratulations, wishing them most happiness and prosperity in their journey together through life.

FEEBLE MINDED GIRLS WALK OUT OF HOME

Feeble minded women, inmates of the Laurelton State Village, are beginning to walk from the home, but unlike the authorities at Rockview Penitentiary, Dr. Mary Wolfe aims to keep the escapes from becoming public. Attendant officers there say the girls are of ill treated, but perhaps they do resent cleaning cow stables because it means handling and hauling manure while passersby are gaping at them.

The following dispatch, sent out recently from Lewisburg, refers to the escapes from the Village and Dr. Mary Wolfe's warm reception given an enthusiastic news gatherer:

Sunbury State police are searching for two or three girls who escaped from the Laurelton State institution for feeble minded women. One was recaptured.

According to Dr. Mary Wolfe, head of the place, it is the second time the village authorities failed to cope with a similar situation and she had to call in the State police officers.

The other occasion was four months ago when 14 inmates fled. Dr. Wolfe declined to talk to newspapermen and nothing could be learned from her. Four months ago she chased a reporter out of her office. Attendant officers there say the girls are not ill-treated. It is said, however, that they have been made to do men's work.

The officials, headed by Dr. Wolfe, refuse to give names and every effort was made to keep this latest escape from becoming public.

Encampment and Fair Notes.

Friends and visitors to the Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair in former years will be interested in the plans and preparations underway for the 1929 fair, time for which is fast approaching, opening day being Saturday, August 24th.

A new poultry building, 80x32 feet, modern in every respect, fitted with the best type of coops in use today, is nearing completion and by the interest and inquiries developing, assurance is given that it will be filled with first-class poultry, such as Centre county is becoming noted for. Many new features attending this show promises well for making it the most successful in Central Pennsylvania.

Numerous improvements are being made to buildings already on the grounds, such as concrete floors in the new Educational building erected last year, the new hog barn and a fine new board floor in the boarding house. The camp outlines will be somewhat changed in order to keep pace with the rapid growth of this feature, thus making it possible to lay out uniform streets and avenues which will insure some regularity in arrangement.

Grange Park with its gentle slopes, shade and sod, always lovely, each year seems to add new beauties and each year we are thrilled with the vision that established it and the possibilities in its future development.

The water portion of the Alexander cavern is now open to the public, two motor boats of 35- to 40-passenger capacity having been installed to carry visitors over the half-mile course. The cavern, although open for the first season, is enjoying an extensive patronage. The cave is so unlike other caves in Central Pennsylvania that one viewing it creates a desire for a second and more tours through it.

CENTRE COUNTY MOTOR CLUB PICNIC TO BE HELD AUG. 15

The Board of Governors of the Centre County Motor Club have set Thursday, August 15th as the date for the annual picnic for all Centre county motorists.

Invitations will be mailed to each registered car owner in Centre county, of whom there are over 8000 in the pleasure car line alone. This will undoubtedly be the biggest party yet to be staged at Hecla Park, the play ground of Centre county.

Temple Elects Officers.

Central Queen Temple No. 174, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, at a regular meeting held Thursday evening, elected the following officers:

Past Templar, Cathryn Martz. Noble Templar, Ruth Runkle. Vice Templar, Alma Schaeffer. Marshal of Ceremonies, Mrs. Alice Hoekman. Priestess, Mrs. Sallie Colyer. Prophetess, Mrs. Maggie Zettle. Inner Portal, Mrs. Grace Sweney. Outer Portal, Mrs. Ethel Noll. Pianist, Leona Lohr.

Tent Meeting.

A tent meeting will open in Reiber's woods, east of Colyer, on Saturday evening, and will continue for an indefinite time. Services will be held every evening, and three services on Sundays. Some of the Sunday services will have special features. Ministers who will aid in conducting the services are Rev. Stephen Helsey, Spring Mills, and Rev. Henry Musser, Lancaster.

Letter from North Dakota.

Antler, N. D., July 9, 1929.

Enclosed please find check for $150 for which credit my subscription for another year, as I am always glad to get the eastern paper and know what is going on in my old home town and county.

We are having a rather cool and dry summer so far. Just at present we need a good rain to keep things growing. Everything is looking good yet but if we don't soon have a good rain things will commence to show the effects of the dry weather.

Grain of all kind is looking good and with favorable conditions there will be a big harvest around here again this year. Last year we sure had a fine harvest and a good yield.

MRS. MARY H. PRICE.

In the Tolls in Millin County.

R. R. Votaw, of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, with H. J. Osborne, a local agent, and Harry Limes, constable, arrested David Biglow and David Peachey, Jr., of Belleville, for trespass and malicious mischief, specifically named as stealing horses in the pasture of J. Hostetter, of Union township. One of the stones knocked an eye out of a horse, Harry Stine, William Singey and Raymond Yeater, all of Matland, are under arrest for working horses and mules suffering from shoulder galls.

LeRoy alias "Monk" King, 19, and Lamont Greengray are in the Millin county jail, charged with being leaders of a gang responsible for a series of petty robberies, including that of the post office and general store at Granville on Monday morning.

Musik Recital in Reformed Church.

The Ever-Ready Sunday school class of Trinity Reformed church school, W. H. Stricker, teacher, will sponsor another music recital to be given by pupils of Mrs. D. R. Keener, in Trinity Reformed church on the evening of August 16th. Miss Lillian Keener, who does frequent broadcasting over several Philadelphia stations, will again appear as guest soloist. Miss E. Josephine Stover will give several readings.

Presbyterian Mission Remembered.

An absolute gift of $3,000,000 was bequeathed to the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church, and the Board of Foreign Missions of that church was given $250,000 by James Newbegin Jarvie, a New York City financier. About $5,000,000 was given to relatives, friends and employees.

His will, filed for probate, provided that all inheritance tax assessments be paid from the residuary estate. The will stipulated that the residuary should go to the Jarvie Commonwealth Fund, a State corporation.

Highest June Milk Price.

The net cash price to be paid members of the Sheffield Producers Co-operative Association, Inc., for the milk sold by them in the month of June is $2.30 per hundred pounds for three per cent grade B milk in the 201-210 milk zone with the usual freight, grade and butterfat differentials. This is equivalent to $2.50 for milk sold on a 3.5 basis. It is 17 1/2 cents higher than the price paid in June, 1928, and is the highest price ever paid for June milk.

The Hatoos Throwing Company, of New York City, will operate a silk mill in Montgomery that will employ 100 to 150 persons. The Montgomery Industrial Development Company will build the factory for the Hatoos company, who will pay a rental which will give bondholders six per cent interest and will pay the bonded indebtedness in a period of years.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS.

The sixth Brungart family reunion is announced to be held at Hecla Park, Saturday, August 17th.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Lambert returned the latter part of the week from a ten-day motor trip to New Jersey, where they visited among relatives.

Miss Rebecca Kreamer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Kreamer, of Lewisburg, is on a two weeks vacation at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Scholl, in Altoona.

Mrs. Mary Weber has been appointed executrix on the estate of her husband the late John H. Weber. The proper notice appears in this issue. W. Harrison Walker is the attorney of the executrix.

Mrs. F. A. McKinney and son William, of Altoona, are at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Duck, where Mrs. McKinney is assisting in the care of her mother, who is quite ill.

The residence of W. A. Homan, head of the Homan Motor Company, has been repainted and presents a decidedly improved appearance. The colors are delicate and blend with the new roof laid a year ago. The work was done by John Whiteman.

Though there were sixty-seven members in the 1929 graduating class of the Bellefonte High school, only thirteen of the number have signified their intention of continuing study in higher institutions of learning or taking a course for a permanent vocation.

An electric pump has been installed by John H. Detweiler on top of Nittany Mountain to pump the water from a well north of the "top" proper to the Detweiler Park improvements. This gives the Top of Old Nittany the first flowing water, and the quality is of the best.

Rev. E. E. Haney, of Grover, was here on a visit to his sons and on returning home took with him his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph Haney, and children. They will remain at Grover until the end of this week, when Mrs. Haney's husband will bring them back home.

Floyd T. Jordan, of Reading, is visiting among relatives at Tusseyville, his former home. Mr. Jordan, in June, was graduated from North Central College, Naperville, Ill., with an A. B. degree, having majored in music, which subject he hopes to teach in the public schools.

The Chautauqua held at Lewisburg was almost a complete fiasco, and when the balance sheet was made up it called for $14.00 from each of the fifty-one guarantors. On the evening of the "big night" the night of the play, there were only forty-one persons in the audience.

Among the three thousand summer students at Penn State are eight teachers from Centre Hall. These include J. P. Wetzel, Robert Neff, J. R. Haney and Miss Agnes Geary, all of the faculty of the local High school; Miss Ruth Smith, Miss Lillie Brooks, Miss Vivian Packler, Miss Ellen Burkholder, and Elliot Smith.

Plans are being perfected for a proper celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the invention of the electric lamp by Thomas A. Edison, on October 21st. Through the West Penn Power company a beautiful illustrated booklet issued by the Light Golden Jubilee committee, New York City, is on the Reporter desk. The booklet contains a tribute to Mr. Edison and notes the achievements of his life.

Official enrollment figures for the twentieth summer session at the Pennsylvania State College show a record total of 2944 for the campus session and its two branches at Altoona and Erie. There are approximately 2671 students on the campus. The nature study camp is the Seven Mountains has 40 students enrolled; Erie branch 106; and Altoona branch 177. The largest of the local institutes is that of Music Education which has over 200.

With the resignation of J. C. Hosterman from the Millheim borough council, that body finds itself short a member and without a president. Mr. Hosterman, due to ill health, was obliged to resign from that office, as well as to retire from his business as publisher of the Millheim Journal, which paper he has conducted for the past thirty years. That paper is now in the hands of Claude E. Musser, who purchased the printing property as well as the real estate. Mr. Musser has been identified with the publishing of the Journal for the past six years, and is a snappy writer as well as a first-class printer.

Among many others who attended the funeral of Miss Annie Lohr, last week, from out of town, were: Samuel E. Weber, Miss Annie Weber, F. W. Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyer, Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Moyer, Bousburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Lohr, Rutledge; Mrs. Ellen Pringle, Lock Haven; Mr. and Mrs. George Shannon and daughter Ethel, Watsonstown; Samuel Homan, Williamsport; Samuel Lohr, of Iowa; Robert Lotz, Penna. Furnace; S. H. Lohr and son Clarence, Mr. and Mrs. Witmer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Smith and son, of Bellefonte; Rev. H. W. Newman, Mrs. John Hosterman and son, Mrs. Jennie Shook, of Spring Mills; Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Risher, State College.
