Wisconsin Cows

Jodon Sale Barn at PLEASANT GAP

MONDAY, AUGUST 12 at 1 o'clock, rain or shine.

These cows come from accredited herds and accredited counties and are an exceptional fine lot. A few close Spriners and several October Cows. The kind you are looking for.

Among the lot is a Guernsey Heifer and a Milch Cow fresh about a month.

A number are Registered Cows, one of which is the best I ever saw. If you are looking for some big Cows, a little better than the average, here you will find them.

Come and see them.

T. E. JODON.

E. M. SMITH, Auct.

C. D. BARTHOLOMEW, Clerk.

and Mrs. J. A. Wehner, of Los Angeles, Calif., motored to Gouldsboro, Pa., on Tuesday. They will proceed to Nanticoke and Hazelton to visit with Rev. Griesing's parents. This will be part of Rev. Griesing's vacation period.

S. D. Miller of Altoona, was in town Monday among old friends and acquaintances. Sanford is an employee of Gable & Co., Altoona's big store, and is off on a two weeks' vacation. Old Father Time has not dealt too harshly with Sanford—with the exception of the gray in his hair he looks the same to us as he did when, thirty years ago, we told him "the bears would get him at the Pine Tree."

of Aaronsburg, accompanied by Mr.

The Stuff Life's Made of

A bit ago 'twas this morning, now it is afternoon, soon 'twill be evening, and another day will have come and gone. Another day—much like yesterday and the day before. Three meals and work with a bit of sociability. Nothing very exciting, just an ordinary day—yet one of the finest things in all creation.

Your life is made up of very ordinary days—just like yesterday, today and tomorrow. Those who wait for great events let most of life slip past. The wise man welcomes each new dawn as a golden opportunity—opportunity to work and play, to help his fellows, enjoy his friends, and live!

And perhaps the greatest of all today's opportunities is the opportunity to accumulate a substantial bank account which will reach into the tomorrows.
