

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

J. W. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Waite and two children, of Beaver Falls, were over-Sunday guests at the R. M. Smith home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharer moved from their farm home east of here to the home purchased by them from O. F. Funklin town during the past week.

Edward Durst takes this method of returning thanks to neighbors and friends who gave assistance during the last illness and subsequent death of his mother.

Mrs. A. E. Person, of Trenton, N. J., arrived here last week and Tuesday returned to her home, taking with her her mother, Mrs. Margaret Strohm, who will remain for the winter.

Myrtle and Marie Andrews, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando H. Andrews, were recent guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, at Earlstown.

Rev. E. R. Corman and John Appel, of Sunbury, are stopping at the Fisher home and devoting their time to hunting deer. Mr. Appel is a big, but young, broad, pie and cake man in Sunbury.

The temperature in Centre Hall last Saturday morning was variously reported at from zero to four degrees below. Riding on the wings of a gale, the cold had the effect of ten degrees colder during calm.

Harry Chatham and wife, of Lock Haven, Harry Goshen and Frank Rupert, of Altoona, are at the Jacob Sharer home from where the men are making daily trips to the mountains in quest of large game.

The Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, F. and A. M., which opened its sessions on Wednesday, as being attended as representatives of local lodges by D. A. Booser, Centre Hall, W. Harrison Walker, Esq., and Postmaster John Krniseley, Bellefonte.

The Farmers Mills Union Cemetery Association has applied for a charter through their attorney, W. Harrison Walker, as indicated in a legal notice appearing in this issue of the Reporter. The petitioners named are W. F. Rishel, Clarence T. Musser and Harvey Stet.

John H. Bitner, of Youngstown, Ohio, was here for a few days a guest at the home of his brother, Samuel Bitner in town, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bitner, at Tusseyville. He is employed by the Trueshan Steel Works in Youngstown, where he has been for a period of six years.

Some heavy hogs were butchered during the past week, as the following figures indicate: Two hogs killed by Harry E. Fye weighed 425 and 414 lbs.; two killed by Frank D. Smith weighed 424 and 385 lbs.; three killed by Joan Bohn tipped the scales at 352, 364 and 436 lbs. respectively.

Warren Slack, of Potters Mills, who had been employed on the construction work of the concrete road at Milesburg, came home last week to prepare for a few days' hunting. He stated all the concrete planned to be laid this fall had been poured a day or two previous to the freeze up.

The Presbyterian church will hold its Thank-offering service on Sunday evening, December 8th, at 7:30. The following program will be rendered: "Furning Eden," a playlet presented by Misses Mary and Ethel Burwell, of Pine Grove Mills, and "All One," a playlet presented by the local missionary society.

Messrs. Lawrence Shoup and Fred Vitmire, of Carnegie, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender, relatives, in town. The gentlemen are hunters and are hunting, and while they have been able to see some deer up to this time have not been able to kill. They continue to be hopeful for success before leaving these ideal game fields.

Thomas Houghton, an extra P. R. R. agent, is in charge of the Centre Hall railroad station in the absence of W. Frank Bradford and D. M. Bradford, who are taking their annual vacation in their hunting camp. P. C. Bradford, agent at Lemont, turned over the station to his son, Carl Bradford, of Muncy, during the hunting season.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. P. H. Luse underwent a second operation at the Huntingdon Hospital where she has been a patient for more than two weeks. She was visited on Sunday by her family, and is reported to be in good spirits and hopeful of complete recovery. At the time of the visit, she was able to walk about in the hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. Frederic Moore of Mercersburg, and Miss Miriam Moore, who is one of five First Grade teachers in the Hershey schools, were at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. L. Moore, over the Thanksgiving season. Miss Moore in connection with her school work, is a vocal student of Mrs. Sander, in Harrisburg, a prominent vocal teacher and manager of the Schubert Music Club.

An Auburn touring car with a winter top driven by Charles Houser, of near Pleasant Gap, ran over an ash pile at the end of the concrete road, in the north section of town, and turned over, coming to a rest with the wheels in the air. The driver and his companion, a young lady from Millheim, crawled from under the wreckage with but slight injuries. The latter had two slight cuts—one over an eye and the other on an ankle. How they escaped being crushed is a miracle. The car was coming down the mountain and skidded, probably, striking a Ford car going in the opposite direction. The Auburn ran close to the walk where it turned over. The car was not such a late model, but had an abundance of "vitality." It looked like a pile of junk, but when righted its heart responded to the touch of buttons and it moved off in a showy manner, Sunday afternoon, at about 3:15, a half hour after the accident.

The Ford, driven by a hunter from Reading on his way to Renovo, suffered a broken axle and other damage.

Mr. Radi O. Fan,
Dear Friend:

Before you decide on a Radio for your home, you owe it to yourself to see the new Edison Light-O-Matic Radio. This radio bears the greatest name in science - a name that for over fifty years has stood for electrical progress. And this new Edison Radio fully lives up to the expectations of its name. On it are many improvements found on no other radio, including Light-O-Matic Tuning, the unique device that finds and announces your favorite stations with a flash of light. This unusual improvement has held the attention of thousands of interested visitors at the great radio shows.

There are three beautiful console models of the new Edison. The prices are modest in the extreme. The two radio consoles are priced at $167.50 and $197.50, and the luxurious radio-phonograph combination is priced at $295. (Less tubes.) You are cordially invited to come in and see the new Edison Light-O-Matic Radio. Turn the knob and experience the thrill of bringing in your station with a flash of light.
